Prince's Triumphant Tour Through India

Police Quell Riot in Calcutta --- Railway Company Blamed for Moplah Deaths --- Dr. Nansen Pessimistic Over Russian Food Situation.

OUR POPULAR PRINCE.

LONDON, Jan. 30. The correspondent with the Prince of Wales cables from Hyderabad, India, today that the Prince had returned from there on the very eve of a wave of popularity which he irresistibly over the place since the arrival of His Royal Highness the great city has had a happy holiday, one of the patients of the masses being to see the Prince as many times as possible. The native ruler's possible, the correspondent that the Prince's visit had aroused the enthusiasm of the masses wholly to the Prince's personal works, which was refused.

RIOT IN CALCUTTA.

CALCUTTA, Jan. 30. Over a thousand workers in the Calcutta mill at Titeghur, the Calcutta, engaged in a strike on Thursday and were only broken by the police after numerous casualties had been inflicted. The strike arose when the workers demanded the release of two comrades arrested with assaulting the manager's works, which was refused.

TRAGEDY FROM COMEDY.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. With a total of 197 dead and 133 removed from the ruins of the Klinkerbocker Motion Picture Theatre up to an early hour today, rescuers were still struggling with the heavy wreckage left when the roof of the structure collapsed during the showing of a feature bill Saturday night.

STARVING RUSSIA.
LONDON, Jan. 30. Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, who is closely identified with Russian relief work, expressed himself in a pessimistic manner to-day, regarding the famine in Russia. He said, "It is too late to save the people of Russia. Whatever is done they will die by the millions. Live stock is dying everywhere and if nothing is done there will presently be none remaining. Twenty American dollars will keep a horse alive, but a human life can be saved for fifteen shillings. That sum would keep a man alive until the new harvest."

BUILDERS INDICTED.
NEW YORK, Jan. 30. Twenty operations and twenty-eight individuals engaged in the heating and ventilating branches of the building industry were indicted by the Supreme Court and jury for violation of Anti-Trust Laws.

CREATED A SENSATION.
ROME, Jan. 30. Becoming suddenly insane, a member of the pontifical choir to-day created a sensation in the Sistine Chapel during Requiem Mass for the late Pope by shouting, "down with the Pope." He insisted on leading the procession out of the chapel, preceding the Cardinals, and roughly elbowing Cardinal Vannutelli before he was overpowered by the Swiss guards. Members of the Vatican household said that the man had been brooding over the death of Pope Benedict and had been suffering from insomnia for a week. He will be tried for creating a disturbance by the Vatican Justice, Monsignor Samper, and probably sent to a sanitarium.

EGYPT.
LONDON, Jan. 30. The Government's statement outlining the basis on which it would be willing to terminate the Egyptian protectorate and recognize Egypt's sovereign state, seemingly has done nothing to remove opposition in quarters where its past proposal have been condemned. The Daily News terms the offer a "monument to the impotent timidity of a divided cabinet." The Westminster Gazette declares it is impossible that any Egyptian Nationalist will accept a proposal which gives Great Britain the right toarrison the principal towns of Egypt.

Royal Humane Society Medal Presented.

Editor Evening Telegram. Sir,—Please permit me space in your much read paper to give a short account of a splendid entertainment which took place in the town of Badger Brook on January 21st, the object of which being to give special honour to Joseph Anesty of Pilleys Island, who so highly distinguished himself on the 19th of April, 1918. While in company the S.S. Lord Charlesmont of Belfast was torpedoed and sunk in the Mediterranean Sea. On observing that the vessel had been struck the Crucis, which formed part of the escort, at once bore down and launched a boat. Joseph Anesty and two others promptly responded to a call for volunteers to rescue the victims of the sinking ship, and they succeeded in picking up the master and four Chinese members of the Lord Charlesmont's crew. The boat was being driven by the rising wind and sea and it became impossible to return to the trawlers; it was accordingly decided to make for the Spanish coast. The boat ultimately reached San Jose on the morning of April 20th, two of the Chinamen having died on the passage.

A special feature of the evening's programme was the presentation of the Life Saving Medal by Captain H. H. W. Cole. There was a large gathering of people assembled when Joseph Anesty entered the hall, where dancing, etc., had already commenced. He was immediately conducted to the platform and introduced by J. M. Dooley, Esq., J.P.; whereupon Capt. Cole, having spoken in eloquent terms of our hero's gallant action, presented him with the Medal awarded by His Majesty King George.

A suspension of loud cheers proposed by J. P. Cormier, Esq., were then followed by the strains of "And He's a Jolly Good Fellow." Dancing was again resumed, while the promoters of the entertainment, viz: Mesdames Cole, Dooley, Porter and Miss M. Coleman served a most delicious repast. In closing the writer extends to Mr. Anesty hearty congratulations on his receiving so high a distinction, and wishes him many years to enjoy his L.S.M.

Thanking you for space, I remain,
Yours truly,
M.D.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR WARTS

Feels as Fine As a Boy in the Morning Now.

David Cole Could Hardly Remember The Time When He Did Not Suffer From Dyspepsia.

Says Tanlac Took Right Hold Of His Troubles And Has Completely Overcome It.

"I had no idea a medicine could help a man like Tanlac has helped me. I just feel fine all the time now," said David Cole, lumberman, Meagher's Grant, Halifax County, N.S. "I can hardly remember when I wasn't troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia and for the last four years especially I had been in a very bad condition. To add to this I had an attack of flu which left me almost helpless and it seemed I was never going to get my strength back. "Tanlac took hold of me from the start and it wasn't long before I was feeling like my old self again. Every vestige of my stomach trouble is gone. I sleep like a log every night and get up in the morning feeling as young and active as a boy. Tanlac is simply great." NOTE.—Tanlac Vegetable Pills are an essential and vitally important part of the Tanlac treatment. You cannot hope to get the most satisfactory results from Tanlac without first establishing a free and regular movement of the bowels. Tanlac Vegetable Pills are absolutely free from calomel and are sold on a positive guarantee to give satisfaction. Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Lord Lee of Fareham.

The chief representatives of the Powers taking part in the Disarmament Conference at Washington, at their deliberations sit around tables arranged so as to form a hollow square. Mr. Hughes, Secretary of State for the United States, presides, and at his right are the other representatives of the British delegates, the Rt. Hon. Arthur J. Balfour, Lord Lee of Fareham, and the British Ambassador at Washington. Next come the British delegates from the British Dominions at the head of whom is Sir Robert Borden, late Prime Minister of Canada.

The three chief British delegates are well known in Canada. Mr. Balfour paid us a visit when he came out as leader of the War Mission. The British Ambassador, Sir Auckland Geddes, was for a time Professor of Anatomy in the Medical Faculty, McGill University, Montreal, having come to McGill from Edinburgh University. Lord Lee of Fareham has had the longest connection with Canada, because for five years, that is, from 1893 to 1898, he was Professor of Strategy and Tactics at the Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont. At that time he held a captain's commission in the British Army. Since then he has passed through many military ranks; has served in various posts; has taken a prominent part in public life, and has been elevated to the peerage. In 1918 he was created first Baron Lee of Fareham. He owned an ancient and beautiful country residence and considerable estate in Buckinghamshire, England, known for centuries as Chequers. Not long ago he presented this valuable property to the nation, to be held in perpetuity as a place of retirement and rest for the Prime Minister of Great Britain.

At the Disarmament Conference Lord Lee delivered a notable speech, supporting Mr. Balfour in his appeal for the abolition of the submarine as an unlawful craft in naval warfare.

Hard Luck Steamer.

The Basan will be converted into a Five Mast Schooner.

It is reported that the "hard luck" steamer Basan, well known in St. John's and Sydney for the series of mishaps into which she fell along the Cape Breton and Newfoundland coast last year, is to be converted into a five masted schooner. The Basan was built about two years ago for the Emergency Fleet Corporation at a Maine shipyard and played in hard luck for ever since her launching day. She cost $700,000 to build, yet she was sold for $5,000 to pay the crew's claims for wages against her. She is now owned by R. W. Paige of Skowhegan, Me.

Again the Prince Wins Out.

To those who have been watching the progress of the tour of India by the Prince of Wales, the news of his victory over prejudice must come as a very welcome announcement. When the tour began, there was every reason to anticipate its outcome without genuine anxiety. One of the most powerful agitators of the Indian Empire has been known for many years, Gandhi, had boasted openly that he could and would compel the natives to abstain in toto from any participation in the public ceremonies. At the outset it looked as if his boast would be vindicated, for the Hartal was observed pretty generally. The Prince, however, took the bull by the horns when he dismounted after the official parade and mingled afoot among the natives.

The East Indian, while singularly wise in many things, is a child when an appeal is made to his imagination. This idea of a Royal Prince moving among them as one of them, without any apparent effort to avoid trouble, but just walking about, like any curious young man out sightseeing, made a tremendous impression upon the Oriental mind.

And the news spread—as news can spread in the East without the aid of electric wires. From that time on, the Hartal was less and less observed, until upon the arrival of the Prince at Calcutta, where Gandhi had hoped to demonstrate completely his powers, the Royal visitor was accorded a reception that swept from the minds of official India all worry about the future. The popularity of the young Prince has triumphed over prejudices, over calculated hatred and organized insult. The star of Gandhi has declined, so far as the Prince of Wales is concerned.—Family Herald and Weekly Star.
