

ARRIVED AT LAST

by Montreal boat, a shipment consisting of nearly two thousand bottles of

Bricks Tasteless

Have same quantity following next week, and double the quantity the week after, making a total of over

7,000 Bottles

which will be here before the end of November.

BRICK'S TASTELESS is evidently come to stay, it is not one of those "come to-day and gone to-morrow" Patent Medicines. It is a good reliable tonic that does its work every time and people who have taken it always take it again when they need a good TONIC and BUILDER.

(Sole Agents for Newfoundland.)

NOTE TO DEALERS:—Owing to the manufacturers of Brick's Tasteless having some difficulty in getting their supply of empty bottles in time, they were unable to make shipment to us till this week. The shipment just in will hardly be sufficient to fill all the orders we have on hand complete, but the greater portion of each order will be sent out in a day or two and the balance when other shipments arrive next week.

VICTORY FLOUR

Washington Letter

(By Our Own Correspondent.)

The Presidential election is over and the feverish excitement which several months of intensive and even bitter campaigning had worked up throughout the country has subsided. The United States, like Great Britain, has decided overwhelmingly in favor of Conservatism, and for some years to come at least there need be little fear of those disturbing innovations and departures from the established order which Radical platforms so freely promised.

The result of the election has been a signal victory for President Coolidge personally. By the Republicans this victory is regarded as a vindication of the chief executive whose blameworthiness in connection with the exposures of the past twelve months was so strongly stressed by his opponents during the campaign. By the Democrats, on the other hand, the Republican victory is looked upon as an indication that graft and corruption within the ranks of a party are no longer matters of sufficient seriousness to warrant unmistakable condemnation by the people.

To whatever causes the Coolidge victory or the Davis defeat may be attributable, it is conceded by Democrats of the old school that the Davis ticket gained nothing by the abusiveness which characterized the campaign in many states. That the majority of the American people did not regard seriously the charges leveled against President Coolidge personally has been shown conclusively.

While the Presidential phase of the election has been so decidedly a Republican victory, the party has not made such gains either in Congress or in the Senate as supporters should wish. While they have a numerical majority in each branch of the legislature they have not sufficient seat room to enable them to disregard the insurgent element which continues to be considerable of a factor.

The blow to Radicalism which La Follette's overwhelming defeat in the Presidential race represents has been rendered more telling by the defeat of the Progressive leader's right hand man Brookhart and that of Magnus Johnson, former radical senator from Minnesota. That the farmer-labor vote on which La Follette counted so strongly failed him absolutely is but a proof that the producers are far from being convinced that their best interests are to be served by concerted warfare against the "Big Interests."

President Coolidge resumed his duties at the Executive Offices the morning following the election as though the routine of his official life had not suffered a moment's interruption. As he made his way from the White House to the Executive offices he was greeted by citizens and officials of every standing to whose enthusiastic congratulations he accorded a gracious acknowledgment. Amongst the first messages of congratulation received by the President was one from his opponent, Hon. John W. Davis in which the latter expressed the hope that the new administration "may by its success insure to the welfare of the country." The President thanked Mr. Davis for his good wishes and for the patriotic sentiment expressed by him. From all appearances, Mr. Davis has taken his defeat in much better spirit than has Mr. La Follette.

Leading writers see in the return of the Republicans to power in this country, following so closely upon the sweeping majority of the Conservative Party in Great Britain, a happy augury for the future in that both Premier Baldwin and President Coolidge are men whose views on world affairs are closely akin, that both while conservative in the true sense of the word, are keenly alive to the best interests of the countries they serve and that the international policies which they are known to favor are of a nature best calculated to promote international amity.

At this writing Senator Henry Cabot Lodge lies critically ill in one of the Washington hospitals, having suffered a severe stroke of paralysis yesterday just when it was believed he was making satisfactory progress. He underwent during the past summer. His condition has been pronounced critical and already politicians are speculating as to what will happen with regard to his seat following his death.

The National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association of America has refused to co-operate in the observance of American Education Week on the grounds that Education Week is being prostituted by the Board of Education to military propaganda. Newspapers of the Capital denounce this action as part of the intrigues and propaganda of the so-called American Civil Liberties Union which, in its turn, is described as "part of the malignant movement which has been extant for some years for sapping the spirit of American patriotism and poisoning the national life with socialism and international communism."

Latest estimates place the total vote cast in the Presidential election at about 30,000,000. Of this number Coolidge secured more than twice as many as Davis who had more than twice as many as La Follette. This record vote is largely attributed to the part played in the campaign by radio which kept even the remotest corners of the country so constantly alive to the issue before the people that there was no chance whatever of voters becoming affected by that apathy which is so often responsible for keeping citizens from exercising the great privilege of the franchise. It may be that the next political campaign in Newfoundland will be largely conducted by means of the radio.

Famous Recipes for Home Cooking

DOUGHNUTS FROM SASKATCHEWAN.

(Although she learned to cook with an animal fat, Mrs. T., a farmer's wife of Kisbey, prefers Crisco, a vegetable fat, for deep frying.)

2 cupsful cream.
1 teaspoonful salt.
1 generous cupful white sugar.
2 eggs well beaten.
Favor to taste.
2 teaspoonfuls baking powder.
flour to roll (do not make too stiff).

Fry these in deep, hot Crisco, and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

"SNOWBALLS" FROM THE SOUTH.
(Very dainty and tempting—they look like little round doughnuts. The favorite recipe of a well known El Paso cook.)

(All measurements level.)
2 eggs.
½ cupful sugar.
1 cupful sweet milk.
pinch of salt.
2 teaspoonfuls baking powder.
1 teaspoonful vanilla.

Enough flour so that they will drip from a teaspoon three-fourths full. Drop in hot Crisco and fry like doughnuts, sprinkle with powdered sugar.

Dun's Report of Failures in October

A larger number of commercial failures in the United States invariably occurs during the closing months of a year, and the October total reported to R. G. Dun & Co. exceeds that of any previous month since last May. Numbering 1,696, last month's defaults compare with 1,306 in September, while the liabilities rose from $34,296,276 to $36,098,804. In point of number, the October failures increased about 30 per cent. over those of September, which marked the low level this year, and the indebtedness was heavier by 5 per cent. This is a better showing than was made in October of last year, when the 1,673 defaults were 36 1-2 per cent. above the number for September, and the liabilities of $79,301,741 were two and three-quarters times larger than the aggregate for that month. The failures during October of the current year, though slightly outnumbering those for the same period of last year, involved less than one-half the amount reported for the earlier period. It's difference in the indebtedness being accounted for by a falling off in large defaults last month. Thus, there were 48 failures for $100,000 or more in each case, involving $15,988,338, whereas in October of last year 81 such defaults occurred, with liabilities of $60,724,317. For ten months of 1924, all commercial failures, numbering 16,922, compared with 15,173 for a similar period of last year, and liabilities of $446,822,260 contrast with a total of $437,480,368 for ten months of 1923.

The monthly and quarterly reports of business failures are contrasted below for this and last year, with the liabilities for 1924; also, the totals for each quarter and the ten months:

3rd Qr. 4,441	3,776	$126,263,495
Oct. . . 1,696	1,673	36,098,804
10 Mths.	Number	Liabilities
1924 . . . 16,922		$466,922,260
1923 . . . 15,173		437,480,368
1922 . . . 20,125		525,561,933

Oil From Locusts

Locusts, the greatest pest to crops that South Africa possesses, provide a wonderful aeroplane engine oil. They are being exported from South Africa for that purpose.

The "Railway General Managers' Bulletin," of Johannesburg, states that eighty-eight bales of locusts, weighing approximately eighteen tons, were forwarded recently from Kazerne to Durban for shipment to Holland. The locusts will be used principally for feeding livestock and poultry, while a small proportion of oil will be extracted and used in connection with aeroplane engines.

Special properties are reported to have been found in the oil, which is said to retain its liquidity at a very high altitude.

A Pipeless Furnace

WHAT IS IT, YOU ASK?

The most modern and inexpensive heating appliance on the market. Thousands being sold throughout Canada and the United States.

HOW IS IT INSTALLED AND OPERATED?

In most cases can be installed in one day, causing no interruption or inconvenience in the house. It is placed in the basement immediately under the floor of the hall. It sends a flood of heat all up through the house,—into every room and corner, and at the same time draws all the cold air back again from the house, heats it and sends it back into the house again. It is thus a circulating system, which re-heats the air four to five times an hour in an average house.

WE INSTALLED—

"Enterprise Pipeless Furnaces"

(Made of all Cast Iron)

In several homes in the city last year, and the owners speak in highest praise of the absolute comfort and dependability of having the house warm in the coldest weather. All of this with a minimum of fuel. Burns any kind of fuel, and simple to operate.

THE MAKERS' GUARANTEE—

These furnaces are guaranteed to be of finest manufacture, absolutely smoke and dust-proof, and when installed according to our approved specification, to give entire satisfaction in every respect.

All enquiries given prompt and courteous attention, and fuller explanation furnished from illustrated circular.

Also highly recommended for heating churches, halls, schools and stores. A size for every purpose.

In and Outdoor Sports Scored by British Doctor

LONDON, Oct. 11 (A.P.)—The British public golfs too much and eats too much, according to Dr. Leonard Williams, a Harley Street specialist and a corresponding member of the American Climatological Society.

As for golf, the game has a bad moral effect, according to the physician. "A man loses his match," says Dr. Williams, "and, as a result, is unhappy about it, is disgruntled, is bad-tempered. His thoughts are on the next game which he vows he will win. And too often he is discontented until he does win."

The way the English take their food is almost as disturbing to Dr. Williams as the way they take their golf. "It is not realized by the public that it takes as much energy to digest an English meal as it does to take a five-mile walk. People eat far too much. The day is started with a heavy breakfast; a full meat lunch follows; then there is tea, accompanied by scones and cakes; and finally there is dinner, running to several courses. This is far more than can be properly digested.

"It would be saner and healthier to start with a Continental breakfast, and follow it with a light lunch. Tea should be a cup of tea and nothing more. Dinner then could remain what it is."

Uniform Dresses for School Girls

TORONTO—Girls attending high schools and collegiate institutions in Canada should all be dressed alike. Such was, in effect, the recommendation put forward by the provincial council of women of Saskatchewan to the National Council during their annual convention just closed. The outlook for uniform attire among Toronto school girls is remote, however. Trustee Mrs. Groves declared uniform dress would never come in Toronto. "Did you ever hear of girls more sensibly and neatly dressed than those who are now attending the Toronto high schools?" asked the trustee. "Truly, when one looks at the tightly corseted figure of the school-girl of the Victorian era and compares her with the simple, graceful, free and easy style of modern school-girls, she realizes that dress reform has come to pass."

Loeb Wills Widow 3,000,000 Pounds Estate

TESTAMENT DRAWN IN 1915 DID NOT MENTION RICHARD LOEB, NOW IN PRISON.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Mrs. Anna Bolman Loeb, widow of Albert Loeb, senior vice-president of Sears Roebuck and Company, was named as the sole beneficiary of the $3,000,000 estate of the late merchant, it was revealed to-day, when Mr. Loeb's will was filed for probate.

Allan Loeb, eldest son, was appointed sole executor of the will. Three other sons, Ernest, Richard and Thomas, 11 years old, were not mentioned in the testament.

It was dated November 4th, 1918. The fact that Mr. Loeb's third son, Richard, now serving a life sentence in Joliet prison for the murder of Robert Franks, was not mentioned, was not due, it was pointed out, because of the act the 16-year-old boy performed. Rumor that Mr. Loeb had drawn a new testament following his son's sentence to prison was dispelled.
