Some excellent music was rendered by several friends from the city, Prof. J. W. Birks being accompanist. The large residence of Mr. Nixon was filled to overflowing and those present enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

-The officers on duty at the police station last night must surely have thought that Coxey's army had disbanded and some of the members come west. The number of applicants for lodgings was unusually large, but all were accommodated, and slept soundly on the hard floor of the court room. A noticeable peculiarity was the respectable appearance of the entire crowd. They told the same tale-lack of work. Some gave their last place of residence as Toronto, others as Hamilton, while some same from St. Thomas and Stratford. -About 40 of the employes of the Hobbs Hardware Company assembled at the parlors of G. W. Kent last evening for the purpose of saying farewell to Mr. W. A. -The funeral of the late Mr. Frank Sanagan, who was well known for a number of years as a leading tailor in the city, took place from the family residence, 266 Talbot street, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Sanagan was a member of the Woodmen of the World and the Ancient Order of United Workmen, and a large representation from each order, together with friends of the family, attended the funeral. The pall-bearers were chosen from the two societies-Messrs. W. White, R. McBride, J. Graham and W. H. Trebilcock from the Woodmen, and Messrs, John Boyd, James Martin, Wm.

conducted by Rev. Ira Smith, pastor of Talbot Street Baptist Church, the interment taking place at Woodland Cemetery. Among relatives from a distance present were deceased's parents from Detroit, his son Albert, of Chicago, and brother John, from Stratford,

L. and P. S. R. Affairs. A meeting of the London and Port Stanley Railway board has been called for to-morrow (Friday) night. It is altogether probable that the official ten days' notice will then be given the present tenants of the road, the M. C. R. Arrangements have all been completed whereby the Lake Erie and Detroit River Company may take over the road. The G. T. R. Shops.

Ald. Coo, who is acting mayor, received word from Mayor Essery this morning, asking him to call a special meeting of the City Council for to-morrow (Friday) night, for the discussion of the Grand Trunk car shops question. Mr. Coodid not know why the meeting was called, but supposed the mayor had come into possession of some information bearing on the subject on his latest eastern trip. The whole question will probably be resurrected. The mayor is expected home from Ottawa to-night or tomorrow morning.

A Rushf or Seats. The financial success of the public testimonial to Mr. W. J. Birks, the popular musician, is already assured. The rush for seats when the plan opened was such that the majority of them were swept away within a few hours, though there are some yet unreserved, which will certainly filled when the time arrives. The artistic success, like everything associated with Mr. Birks' name, is beyond a doubt. A programme, in which Harold Jarvis, the Detroit tenor; Jessie Alexander, the elocutionary queen; Mrs. McKelcan, the Hamilton soloist, and Miss Ziegler, Mrs. Moore and Messrs. Moxon, Skinner, Saunders and Carroll are combined, is one rarely offered to local lovers of art. The concert is to-morrow night.

How Letters Disappear. In the annual report of the Postmaster-General of Canada, Major John Walsh, superintendent of the dead letter branch, gives an interesting account of the operations of the branch. As an instance of the extraordinary way in which correspondence sometimes disappears, the following extract from a letter written by Mr. Adam Brown, postmaster at Hamilton, Ont., is given: "A few days ago one of our letter carriers | dropped a letter through the slit of a door, rang the bell and walked on. When a short distance away the door was opened and the occupant called him back, asking if he had rung the bell. He said he had, and added, 'I put a letter through the slit.' 'Well,' said the woman, 'there is no letter on the floor, and true enough, neither there was. The carrier, however, being sure that he had delivered the letter, shul the door, when, lo and behold! he discovthe flooring, and peering in saw the top at of a letter-pulled it out-then he discovered another, and finally a third, all of which he brought to the surface. One of the letters being postmarked in August, I sent up one of my men to make a thorough examination and he found there a mouse's nest and he brought back nibblings of envelopes; so that I have no doubt Mr. and Mrs. Mouse and family have had nice beds out of letters which the occupants should have got. Of course all the letters would not go the mouse's chamber, only such as tipped over at a particular angle. "After we made the discovery I got departmental inquiry No. 6,552, book 19, for a letter posted at Marshall, Mich, Aug. 26, containing $1, and would you believe it, this very letter happened to be one of the three. I have reported its delivery and how it was found.

New British-Canadian Cable.

LONDON, April 12 .- The steamer Faraday, with part of the Commercial Cable Company's new cable, sailed from here teday. The cable is to be laid from Waterville, Ireland, to Nova Scotia. The entire cable will be 2,000 miles long. The Faraday, not being large enough to carry the whole cable, will drop the shore sections about 500 miles first and then lay the deen sea section, which is smaller than shore ends. The cable was manufactured by Siemens Bros. & Co., of London, and is guaranted to aford 33% per cent. improvement in speed over other cables in use by the Commercial Cable Company. This will insure transmission at the rate of 50 words a minute.
