The Motor Show.

ONDON Motor Show brings to light the fact that makers and dealers are out to sell cars in the 1922 season, and by the crowds that throng the building at all hours, the people are inclined toward buying.

In the first place makers are making an honest attempt to come down in their prices to a point where buyers will be able to take hold.

The models shown, even apar from the mechanical excellence which becomes at once evident to the technical observer, have features of comfort and convenience that hold the attention of the layman, and make the non-car owner wonder if. after all, he isn't missing quite a lot of pleasure himself and denying the same to his family.

The utility feature of the auto is not overlooked. The many closed models now made provide a means of quick travel for almost every day in the year.

It is impossible to estimate what a boon the car has been to those who must reach certain points quickly. The medical profession, for instance, have been able to save untold hours of suspense and suffering because a car makes it possible for a doctor to reach a sick bed or the has been a matter of hours.

6. The teachers claim that many parents are deceived by stories of so called school dances, which are in reality "outlaw" dances. The surest way by which to end such deception is to announce that there is no such thing as a school dance.

7. The teachers state that their real object is to curb dancing. The efficacy of curbing dancing by giving dancing is doubtful. And if the object be to supervise the students' dancing should such supervision not take place more frequently than, say, once in three months, or even once a month?
