DEFENCE OF DURRANT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—General Dickenson resumed his argument on behalf of the defendant this morning. He blamed the police for not making a closer examination of the belfry where Miss Lamont's body was found.

Mr. Dickenson said he had but little to say about the testimony of Miss Cunningham; he said he preferred that she should be convicted of treachery and deceit by words that came from her own mouth.

The pivotal point in the whole case, he repeated, was Dr. Cheney's roll call, which shows that Durrant was at the Cooper Medical College on the afternoon that Blanche Lamont was murdered.

When Attorney Dreyfus appeared at the afternoon session, to make the closing argument for the defence, he was aided by his wife, a nurse and his physician.

The close of the arguments for the defence in the trial of Theodore Durrant to-day was marked by the greatest crowd which ever struggled for admission to a murder trial in this city.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—The announcement that the taking of evidence in the case of Holmes, accused of the murder of the Pitelz and other, would be begun yesterday drew large crowds.

There was an impression that this was but another play following Holmes' personal failure to catch the sympathy of the court and jury by making himself out a much-wronged man.

At the evening session Holmes addressed the court, saying: "In consequence of the severe physical strain to which I have been subjected, and also because of the criticism levelled against my former counsel, Messrs. Perry and Rosen, I have within the last hour sent for them and asked them to take charge of my defence.

The testimony of the first day was to a certain extent professional, while other persons testified as to Holmes having engaged rooms in Philadelphia and occupied them with his wife and Allice Pitelz.
