THE QUEEN WILL REST.

State Appearance of Her Majesty to End With the Review at Aldershot.

The Sovereign Will Place a Larger Share of Responsibility Upon Her Natural Successors.

LONDON, June 29.—When the Queen returned to London yesterday afternoon she made what most probably will be her last public appearance in the metropolis, for with the celebration that closes at Aldershot on Thursday next the state appearances of Her Majesty will be finished. Henceforth, for whatever span of life may be left to her, Queen Victoria will confine herself to such work for the state as can be done at Windsor, Balmoral or Osborne. All of the official functions of drawing rooms, public ceremonies, opening town halls, hospitals and the like will now be relegated to the Prince and Princess of Wales.

Her Majesty has witnessed a scene never surpassed in material splendor and moral significance since the British Empire was created. The Queen thinks, so the statement runs, that she has done enough. Her unexampled devotion and acceptance of her obligations to her people have, after sixty years, well won her rest, and in so far as a sovereign can, she now proposes to let the burden of responsibility fall on those who must bear it when she passes away.

Her Majesty arrived at Paddington at 12:35 p.m. The Grand Duke and Grand Duchess Sergius of Russia and Princess Beatrice of Battenburg occupied seats in Her Majesty's carriage. Proceeding along Church Street to St. Mary's, a halt was made to receive an address from the inhabitants of her birth-place. Six hundred children of Kensington church school were assembled on a platform on the side of the railroad and sang the National Anthem. After receiving addresses, the procession resumed its route to Buckingham Palace, via High Street.

The scene at Mary's abbey was exceedingly brilliant, the neighborhood being lavishly decorated. The Marquis and Marchioness of Lorne were included in the members of the reception committee. The guard of honor, furnished by the Middlesex volunteers, presented arms and the band played the national anthem on the advance of Her Majesty. As soon as the Queen's carriage reached the porch the Marquis and Marchioness of Lorne approached and greeted Her Majesty, after which the chairman of the vestry presented the address, which was contained in a portfolio case.

Her Majesty, dressed in black, replied to the address, thanking the signers for their loyalty and wishing: "I gladly receive my share of my birth and summons to the throne, has ever had and will have with me solemn and tender recollections."

Across the gates of Kensington palace was a banner, on which was inscribed "Home, Sweet Home." Her Majesty saw it and seemed much affected. Ten thousand children belonging to the elementary schools of Kensington, massed behind the railings of Kensington gardens, sang the National Anthem while the Queen was passing. The weather was brilliant.

Her Majesty reached Buckingham Palace at 1:30 p.m. and about 5 p.m. entered the grounds to be present at the garden party, for which six thousand invitations has been issued. Her Majesty was received with almost reverential greetings and took up her position, to which she was wheeled from the palace door, in front of a small tent near the lake. The gardens were beautifully arranged. The Queen's watermen were in boats on the lake, the fountains were playing, refreshment marquees had been ected at convenient spots and three bands of music were in attendance.

The Queen received many of the prominent guests in best tent and there took leave of the special envoys of the foreign powers to the Jubilee ceremonies and their suites. Among the Americans present were all the members of the United States special embassy, excepting Rear Admiral Miller.

The Queen returned to Windsor at 7 o'clock.

"CONSULT ENGLAND FIRST."

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., June 28.—Much disappointment is felt among the British naval officers at the fact that the Queen did not review the fleet in person on Saturday, especially as she goes to Aldershot on Thursday to review the troops there.

At the naval review carrier pigeons, with messages for the Queen, were dispatched from the royal yacht, Victoria and Albert, by the Prince of Wales. After telling Her Majesty of the complete success of the review, the Prince added: "The only regret is that you were not here."

The Prince of Wales then signalled the fleet, expressing his satisfaction at the magnificent display made, adding: "I now order the main brace spliced."

Much pleasure has been expressed here at a remark made by Rear Admiral J. N. Miller, U.S.N., to General Dyer, J. W. Miller, U.S.N., to any nation going to war, is to consult England first."

THE SESSION IS OVER. DOMINION DAY DINNER.

Intercolonial Extension Accepted by the Senate Upon Promises by Sir Oliver Mowat.

How the Liberals Have Economised by Adding Twelve Millions to the Annual Outlay.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
OTTAWA, June 29.—The totally unexpected happened to-day when prorogation was made possible and took place. When the Senate met Sir Oliver Mowat stated that no part of the money provided for the purchase of rolling stock for the intercolonial would be used to purchase locomotives, coaches, railway rolling stock, and that in providing for an experimental extension of the Intercolonial to Montreal care would be taken not to tie the hands of parliament as to further action. The whole question will be open for discussion next session. As to the proposed inquiry, he said that while he was most anxious that it should be undertaken this session as next year, he asked, therefore, that it be postponed till next year, in view of the fact that the government did not propose to make arrangements of a permanent nature this year.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell said that in face of the statement of Sir Oliver Mowat, he could not ask his friends to withhold assent from the supply bill. Those who acted with him were prepared to take the strongest measures to secure the passage of a permanent bill, but as the Senate was now assured that nothing of the sort was contemplated, the supply bill could go through. The inquiry must be made next session, and steps be taken to that end.

Previous Senator Miller's committee had met with closed doors and decided to call Chief Engineer Schreiber to-morrow, but this arrangement was knocked on the head by subsequent events.

There was quite a long discussion in the Senate before the supply bill was finally passed. Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Mr. Ferguson criticized the action of the government in following the annual expenditure of the country from $38,000,000 to over $50,000,000, in face of their anti-election pledges of economy. The Commons made good progress at the morning session, clearing the slate. The Crown's Nest Pass subsidy bill passed both houses with flying colors. At 8 p.m. the Governor-General arrived and prorogation took place.

Sir Louis Davies left for England this afternoon, and the Canadian view of the situation was expressed. While it has been said that he is bitterly opposed to the legal sale of liquor in Steveston, it is true that he would like to see no liquor sold in Steveston, but realized that such a state of affairs will never be. The irresponsible transient population of Steveston are determined to have liquor, and there are men already ready to supply them for the profit it, legally or illegally. This being the case, he approves of a limited number of licenses being granted for the purpose of suppressing the illegal sale.

A GRAVE CHARGE.
MONTREAL, June 29.—La Presse makes a furious attack on the Governor-General. After saying that he signed the message recommending the expenditure of the rent before the vote of Senate which rejected the first Intercolonial contract, it says:

"In signing this message Aberdeen failed in vigilance, unless indeed he conspired with his ministers to furnish them means of nullifying the effects of Senate intervention. In any case the result is the same; whether by carelessness in his legal duties and obligations or by an unconstitutional understanding with his legal advisers, the representative of the crown intervened in opposition to our parliamentary institutions; and his intervention is more regrettable because it was manifested for the benefit of the most cynical job ever perpetrated in Canada. It is to the vice-regal intervention that the present is due."

THE COAL DUTY.
WASHINGTON, June 28.—There was a large gathering of Republican senators at the meeting of the finance committee to-night. Most of the time was spent in discussing the rates to be imposed on coal, and the provision to fix them so that a special arrangement may be arrived at. No formal conclusion was arrived at, the committee deferring final Senate intervention. Strong arguments were advanced by some of those present in favor of a rate of 40 cents a ton on coal. After the meeting one member advanced the opinion that the rate to be fixed at 67 cents, but that there would be no provision for a reciprocal duty.

TOBACCO TRUST MENACED.
NEW YORK, June 29.—The jury in the case of the American Tobacco Co., which has been on trial before Judge Fitzgerald in the court of general sessions, charged with conspiracy, failed to agree. Although no verdict for the prosecution was rendered a discreditable is nevertheless regarded by District Attorney O'Leary as a verdict for the people. The jury were out 15 hours. It was decided that the work of the session may prove useful in advancing the prosperity of the people whom you represent."

DEGREES FROM OXFORD

Oxford, June 30.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier of Canada; Sir Wm. Whiteway, Premier of Newfoundland; Mr. E. L. Godkin, editor of the Evening Post of New York; Geo. H. Reid, the Premier of New South Wales; Sir Hugh M. Nelson, Premier of Queensland, and Sir C. O. Kingston, the Premier of South Australia, received to-day the honorary degree conferred upon them by the Oxford University. The ceremony took place in the Sheldonian theatre, which was crowded to the doors. The recipients of the honor were accorded a hearty reception. Oxford University also conferred the Degree of Doctor of Civil Law upon King Oscar of Sweden and Norway.

In an editorial referring to the honorary degree bestowed upon Mr. Godkin, the Daily News says: "He is the first foreigner to receive such a mark of distinction from an English university. No American possesses a higher reputation than the Evening Post's New York for courage, honesty and intellectual force. Mr. Godkin is a brilliant ornament of the American press and the university could not have found a man who would more worthily represent its best side."

JUBILEE FOR THE POOR.
LONDON, June 30.—The Princess of Wales gave a Jubilee dinner to the poor of Chelsea this afternoon at the Royal Hospital. Three thousand adults were dined during the early part of the afternoon, and later 2,500 children were served with dinner. The Princess of Wales visited the children, who gave Her Royal Highness an ovation and presented her with an address of welcome.

WINDSOR, June 30.—To-day the aged poet of the century had their Jubilee dinner, and the Queen, accompanied by the Empress Frederick and the Princess Henry of Prussia, were unattended to visit them.

THIS MAKES FOLK LAUGH.
TORONTO, June 30.—A special cable to the Globe says: "In view of the attitude taken by the Dominion Senate in regard to the Intercolonial extension bill, reports of which have appeared in the English newspapers, it is probable that Premier Laurier will ask the Imperial authorities to consider the advisability of reforming the constitution proceeding daily between the Colonial Secretary, Mr. Chamberlain, and the premiers of the various colonies."

OTTAWA, June 30.—The Globe's bluff cable about Mr. Laurier interviewing the home government regarding the reform of the Senate created great amusement here.

THE REASON WHY.
WINNIPEG, June 30.—(Special)—At a political gathering at Neepawa yesterday, Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald spoke. He attributed the late defeat of the Conservative party to the fact that a new generation had practically arisen who knew not the mismanagement of the Mackenzie government, but he claimed that this defeat would ultimately rebound to the success of the Conservative party, as the electors would have an opportunity of contrasting the actions of the present government with those of the Conservative party. He dealt fully with the fiscal policy of the government, pointing out that instead of economy there had been greater extravagance, while the tariff was a total failure, neither satisfying their own party nor the country.

A PERSECUTED PEOPLE.
LONDON, June 29.—The Daily Chronicle publishes this morning, under reserve, a letter from Teheran, the capital of Persia, describing a terrible persecution of the Jews. According to the correspondent, a mob of fanatical Moslems has savagely attacked the Jewish quarter in the Persian city and is threatening to exterminate the Jews unless they exterminate the Moslems. The government, although it has dispatched troops to quell the disturbance, seems to be powerless to stem the tide of fanaticism.

RUSHING TO KOOTENAY.
MONTREAL, June 30.—(Special)—Vice-President Shaughnessy says that now that the Crown's Nest Pass legislation has been completed, the work of construction will be pushed with the utmost rapidity. Mr. M. J. Haney, who has entire charge of the construction, will at once let out in small contracts so as to expedite the work. The company calculate on having 125 miles completed by December, or in other words expect to be across the summit before the snow flies.

The Venerable Queen.
LONDON, June 30.—The Chronicle says that the Queen said to a guest at the garden party at Buckingham Palace on Monday: "This Jubilee means one thing; it means that I am a very old woman."

One Honest Man.
Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine home cure by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, weakness, loss, and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quack, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong and wish to make this certain medicine known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp: W. M. MULLFORD, Agents Supplies, P.O. Box 60, St. Henri, Que.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

WOODS TO BE HANGED.

The Recaptured Murderer Found Guilty and Execution to Be in Six Weeks.

He Will Be Taken to Westminster for Safe Keeping—His Cowardly Crime.

NELSON, June 30.—(Special)—James Woods, whose adventures during the past few days have excited much attention, was to-day tried for the murder of Samuel M. Woods, and convicted after the jury had been out only eight minutes. Woods will be taken to New Westminster for safe-keeping and brought back to Nelson for execution this day six weeks. The prisoner took the sentence very coolly; he said he had got what he expected, and asked for some tobacco.

The crime for which Woods will swing was the cold-blooded murder of an old and penacable blacksmith on the night of October 16. The old man heard someone in the shop below his bedroom and going down in his underclothes found the prisoner on the sidewalk. He took him by the arm with one hand and pulled him inside, and turning on the light asked what he was doing there. Without a moment's warning Woods shot the old man and ran away. His victim lived long enough to identify Woods, who was arrested the next day at Robson.

THE LAMBETH CONFERENCE.
LONDON, June 30.—The Pan-Anglican conference, begun to-day with a private devotional service in the chapel of Lambeth Palace, the official residence of the Archbishop of Canterbury. There are some two hundred prelates of the various churches in communion with the Church of England in attendance, including—besides the archbishops and bishops of the churches of England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland and the British Colonies in all parts of the world—many representatives of the Protestant Episcopal church of the United States. The actual work of the convocation will not begin until next Monday, the intervening days being devoted to preparatory services and excursions to places memorable in the history of the Church of England.

The Daily News, commenting editorially on the Lambeth conference, remarks that it has a very delicate subject to deal with, and believes it is very unlikely that the American bishops will acknowledge allegiance to a British primate, or that the colonial bishops will give the Archbishop of Canterbury a power which they would resent if it were exercised by parliament.

COAL DUTIES FIXED.
WASHINGTON, June 30.—In the Senate to-day the consideration of detached paragraphs of the tariff bill passed over was resumed. Seeds not otherwise provided for were changed from 40 per cent. to 25 per cent. ad valorem. Coal was then taken up. Mr. Allison submitting changes making the duties on bituminous coal and all coal containing less than 92 per cent. fixed carbon and shale, 97 cents per ton of 28 bushels, 80 pounds to the bushel; coal slack or culm such as will pass through a half-inch screen, 15 cents per ton; coke, 20 per cent. ad valorem. The Senate proviso was omitted relating to certain reciprocal rates on coal. The vote being taken, the coal tariff as changed was agreed to by 32 to 24.

In the paragraph on diamonds and other precious stones the rate was changed to 10 per cent. ad valorem.

Obituary.
HALIFAX, June 28.—Dr. Charles Gray, of Halifax, one of the best known medical men in the province, was killed this morning by being thrown from a wagon.

KINGSTON, June 28.—David Woodcock, a veteran of 1837, who lived in Kneebree for many years, is dead. It is said that he was 118 years old.

The Paupers Crotchety.
LIMERIC, June 30.—The board of poor law guardians of the city of Limerick has decided to refuse the mittion seat for the work house inmates from Australia as part of the Jubilee hospitality. The refusal is based on the statement of the master of the workhouse, who declares that the paupers have defiantly told him that they would not look at the Australian mittion.
