Report of nominating committelection of officers. Report of nominating committee.

Addresses were rendered. Rev. W. C. Merritt. Spoke of the World's Convention at Rome, and Mr. Alfred Huggett gave an instructive talk on the Adult Bible Class Movement. He said that, like most things, it began in a small way. A few men started Sunday Schools and the spirit that they showed attracted others, with the result that the movement enlarged until the schools spread into districts and afterwards all over the world.

Rev. W. C. Merritt. Vocal

The world's convention at the evening session the church awe and wonder at the mysterious and enormous "hoof." It is a naked human foot in all the essentials, and its partner is at the other side of a six-foot oreek, giving some idea of the pre-nistoric stride of the creature.

A resident was calmly sawing timber when a gentleman of the neighborhood came up to him and sprung the yarn on him so suddenly that he had somebody from the New Westminster institution to deal with. But the informant was perfectly sane, and produced a stick with the world's convention at the evening session the church are and were rendered. Rev. W. C. The Social Side

In the past, the church had failed to a great extent, to uphold the social side of the work. Every day young men were coming into the city of Vancouver, and they were coming direct from home influences. They should be looked after, and a class formed of men to work for men.

The Bible had lain upon our shelves. The Social Side Vice-President-Mr. Camfield,

Mr. Stuart Muirhead, general secretary of the association, spoke upon the essentials in Sunday School teaching, and declared it was not the method, but the life which counted. In following resolutions were od, but the life which counted. In all teaching there must be life. He had enjoyed being with the Vancouver workers for the first time, and was much encouraged to find on this coast people so energetic in the great work. At next year's meeting he hoped to have a gathering double the size of the provinces the power to all with this evil more effectively, be all with the vancouver workers for the first time, and was much encouraged to find on this coast people so energetic in the great work. At next year's meeting he hoped to have a gathering double the size of the present one.

Coal, iron, copper and timber, these are the real requirements of the age. Then there is the situation of the province on the Pacific, the ocean on which practically all the great increase of the world's trade must take place. This situation, if backed up by an energetic people, will enable it to obtain a controlling interest in that wast commerce.
