A Bridegroom Rejected at the Altar.

From the Daily Tribune.

ALBION, N. M., June 14.—Society people of Albuquerque were enveloped in amazement last night when the news was rapidly spread through the city of a sensation attending the arranged wedding at the residence of Mr. Edward Powell.

The bride was Miss Ida Smiley, and the bridegroom Mr. A. L. Stivers. Miss Smiley is a niece of Mrs. Powell, and is one of the brightest and most charming young ladies that has been introduced into Albuquerque society, while Mr. Stivers is a wealthy cattle grower, the owner of an extensive ranch near the city.

He figured before the public some months ago in a war with sheep men. Everything was arranged for the wedding the week was on the cases baked, and at the appointed hour the Rev. Mr. Kistler put in his appearance. No cards had been issued for the wedding, but there were present quite a number of prominent ladies and gentlemen.

Immediate friends of the family, and gentlemen and gentlemen were made man and wife were attired to suit the occasion, and stood up before the minister of the gospel to pronounce their solemn vows.

"Will you take this woman for your lawful wife?" asked the Rev. Mr. Kistler. "I will," responded the bridegroom.

"Will you take this man for your lawful husband?" continued the minister. "My God! I can't, I can't," was the piteous response of the young lady, who burst into tears, rushed into an adjoining apartment, the ladies went in to her assistance and helped her to her feet.

The bridegroom tried to persuade her to change her determination and become his wife, but it was to no purpose. The young lady would not change her mind.

Lord Dufferin. These are few men living who the Queen of England has so much delighted to honor as Lord Dufferin, who is now to wear the decoration of the order of the Garter and thus subscribe to his name the initials K. T. G. In addition to the three sets of K. T. G. he has been honored. He started in life as a simple Irish baron, but obtained a peerage in the United Kingdom at the age of 23.

Since 1850 he has received no less than 17 distinct appointments or titles—more than any other nobleman of the present day.

What Lord Dufferin really needs more than stars and ribbons are pounds and shillings. He has a fine taste, but is rather rather superficially careless, regarding Sydney Smith's epigrams as "Beware of caricatures, they will stand it long." His mother had not a penny when she married, and his wife had only a few thousand pounds. His wife has been a most devoted and faithful wife.

At Constantinople he has $400,000 a year and two houses maintained for him.

WOMEN'S WORKS. The sister of Sir John Franklin, who said the greater part of her fortune on the expeditions which went in search of the Utilizer in the Arctic regions, Mrs. Creeley, has lately died, at the age of 90, in Dorchester.

Miss Raumbel, a native of India, is said to be the most learned woman in the world. She is 29 years old, and can read, write and speak in twelve languages, besides being an excellent student in astronomy, mathematics, history, etc. She is now studying to become a physician.

Miss Cleonice Glendias, whose pictures have won great admiration at the International art exhibition in Rouen, has been named for membership of the academy of fine arts in Athens—an unprecedented honor for a woman, and pleasant to have occur in the career of the fine arts.

The carina had her coronation mantle fitted on her by the famous embroiderer, Martin. It is of simple gold tissue, with the heraldic eagle of the Romanoff's applique in black silk; on the heart of the bird the arms of Moscow, the sacred city, and the wings those of the kingdoms over which the czar reigns and of the Duchy of Finland.

Don't buy old-fashioned, noisy Singer pattern machines because they are Singers, but see the light running and improved Wauzler Co. no noise and rattling cog-wheels, no old-fashioned shuttle and needle bar. The Wauzler is not noisy and double the size in arm. Write for a Yankee machine without having a Wauzler on trial for a few days, and compare value. The Wauzler machine warranted for ten years. 82 King street west.

"I wish you would stop smoking those vile cigarettes in my presence," exclaimed the girl. Her husband, who, stretched out in the hammock, was lazily puffing away at the obnoxious compound of paper and tobacco. "They are made out of all kinds of horrid tobacco—damaged leaves, stumps of cigars, and in fact—And, as Smalley, interrupted Rattler, "facts are stubborn things."
