Perhaps the most extraordinary success that has been achieved in modern medicine has been attained by the Dixon treatment for catarrh. Out of two thousand patients treated during the past six months fully minety per cent have been cured of this stubborn malady. This is none the less start ling when it is remembered that not five per cent of patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefited, while the patent medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. Starting with the claim now generally believed by the most scientific men that the disease is due to all. Starting with the claim now generally believed by the most scientific men that the disease is due to the presence of living parasites in the tisrie, Mr. Dixon at once adapted his cure to their extermination—this accomplished, he claims the catarth is practically cured and the permanency is unquestioned, as cures effected by hin two years ago are cures still. No one else has ever attempted to cure catarth in this manner, and no other treatment has ever cured catarth. The application of the remedy is simple and can be done at home, and the present season of the year is most favorable for a speedy and permanent cure, the majority of cases being cured at one treatment. Sufferers should correspond with Mr. A. H. Dixon, 365 and 307 King street west, Torouto, Canada, and enclose stamp) for his treatise on catarth.

bronchitis or pneumonia. If it ends in bronchitis, it usually passes off as a cold in the chest, and still the patient does not feel entirely well. He feels tired and languid, and is incapable of taking his usual amount of exercise, and experiences a shortnass of breath, with more or less warmth in the palms of his hands. Soon after this a cough appears, accompanied by an expectoration of thick mucus, followed by a hectic flush, loss of flesh and strength and night sweats continue, when the papears, accompanied by an expectoration of thick mucus, followed by a hectic flush, loss of fiesh and strength and night sweats continue, when the patient assumes all the appearance of having a genuine case of consumption. But this is simply catarrh of the lungs or chronic bronchitis.

In the latter stage of the disease, the mucous membrane of the larger bronchial tube softens, while in the smaller tubes and air cells of the lungs the mucous membrane becomes congested and nflamed. There are no cavities of tubercles in the lungs, but merely a wasting away of the larger bronchial tubes, and death takes place from the obstruction of the bronchial tubes and air cells of the lungs. The patient dies from exhaustion and suffication, being unable to expectorate the mucous which accumulates in the passage leading to the lungs, which in some cases is sticky and small in quantity, but more commonly copious, of a light straw or yellowish green. Oftentimes streaks of blood make their appearance in the mucous, and af-timesthere is a disagreeable smell. Persons thus efficted are very liable to take a cold, at which time the mucus becomes clear and frothy, and it is not uncommonly

An Old Soldier's

EXPERIENCE. May 3, 1882. "I wish to express my appreciation of the Ayer's Cherry Pectoral as a cough remedy.

"While with Churchill's army, just before the battle of Vicksburg, I contracted a severe cold, which terminated in a dangerous cough. I found no relief till on our ma we came to a country store, where, on asking for some remedy, I was urged to try AYER's CHERRY PECTORAL.

"I did so, and was rapidly cured. Since then I have kept the PECTORAL constantly by me, for family use, and I have found it to be an invaluable remedy for throat and lung J. W. WHITLEY. Thousands of testimonials certify to the prompt cure of all bronchial and lung affections, by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it readily.
