This was an action brought by J K. Kerr, to compel the de-fendant to carry out an alleged agreement to purchase some real estate on Liegar street from him. The defence claimed that no such agreement had been made. Justice Galt gave a verdict for defendant. In the case of Sorley v. Toro.to brewing and malting company an agreement was arrived at in court, judgment/being given for plain-tiff by consent for $450.

A Rare Musical Treat.

Efforts are being made to induce the New York Philharmonic club to give one concert in this city on its way from . Chicago to Bos ton. The club is one of the best on this continent and comprises such artists as Emil Gramm, violin player and Eugene Weiner, flutist. We should certainly have this company here if possible.
