WHAT WE ARE FINDING OUT

The Character of a Class of People Too Mean to Pay Their Honest Bills.

No one could believe, until they find out, the character of a class of people who reside in Annapolis County and elsewhere who are too mean to pay their honest bills...

Some of the letters we are receiving should be published in full to protect the general public from dealing with a class of men and women who are far too mean to be honest.

Another man residing in Pictou County read the paper for two years and refused the delivery of it as soon as she got a bill for $4.00, declining to pay for it.

Another, after reading the paper for a long time, says the person to whom the draft was sent is dead and asks to have the paper discontinued.

No, we cannot get this account accepted. No asbestos paper on which to print the drafts, even if a bank junior could get a return ticket.

Another remembers that he did not subscribe for the paper, and thinks that, although he has enjoyed it for several years, the bill is too high, and it should be reduced.

A lady (?) residing in Halifax read the MONITOR for seven years, then moved to the United States and writes us to discontinue her paper.

We could go on in this way and fill columns on the character of people of whom the public would be shocked if we mentioned names and told all we knew.

Surely, after reading this, no one else will have the nerve to put up a "kick". They will accept their draft and when it comes due pay the amount in full, or remit direct to us and we will attend to their draft in the Bank.

We are determined to have our delinquents cash up and if it becomes necessary will add additional legal costs to their bills. A word to the wise is sufficient.

THE COLONEL'S WORD WILL STAND

During my military service in India, in those stirring times of mutiny and rebellion, I had in my regiment a little bugler who was too weak and feeble to play the bugle as he had to lead the band for the life he had to lead; but he was born in the regiment, his father had been killed in action, and then his mother dropped and died. After his mother died his life was made miserable by the scolding steers and ribald jokes of the men, whose butt he was.

When little Willie Holt was four years old, the regiment was bivouacking some miles from camp for rifle practice. I had intended leaving the lad behind, but my sergeant-major begged hard to "take the kid along."

The lad's voice failed him, but he laid his hand gently on the man's bowed head.

After a little while we saw a strange light in his dying eyes, and with a happy cry he flung out his hands as if in welcome. Then gradually the weak arms dropped; the light faded from his shining eyes; and his spirit passed over from earth to heaven.

Women play a bigger part in the business life in New York than in any other city in the world.

A MEMORIAL AT CLEMENTSPORT

Many Prominent Anglicans Attend Ceremonies Held at Queen of the Basin

The memorial service in the Old St. Edward's Church, Clementsport, took place at 3 p.m. Thursday. A more perfect setting than that which greeted those present both in weather and situation can hardly be imagined. Long before the appointed hour crowds assembled on foot and by motor.

Graves were decorated and many old relations linked up by those who had not seen each other for years. The interior of the church was that of 1857, the old organ was in place and was used for the service.

The town of Annapolis Royal was represented by Mayor Hardwick, Town Clerk Harris and Councillor Adams. Digby, Mayor Warner and Councillors T. E. G. Lynch, and S. A. Keene and Bridgetown by Mayor W. A. Warren. The pews for the descendants of the Empire Loyalists were crowded to overflowing.

The general public took up the remaining seats and the gallery, while many stood for the service. The clergy marched through the south door, up the aisle, while the ancient frame re-echoed to the strains of "O God, Our Help in Ages Past."

Reverent and interested marked the whole of the service. The large choir of Anglican, Baptist and Methodist Churches, of St. Peter's, assisted by representatives of the Anglican churches of East Brook and Bear River completely filled the little building.

The organist was Mrs. H. Brown, of Clementsport, while Major S. J. Porter conducted the combined choir. Canon Morris read the service, Rev. J. Lockwood the first lesson, Canon Harris the second lesson, Archdeacon Vroom preached an excellent sermon, taking as his text from Psalms 45 verse 17, "Instead of Thy Father Thou Shalt Have Children;" "Who Thou Mayst Make Princes in all Lands."

He drew attention to the valued heritage possessed by the people of the countryside, of the historic interest, and of the duty of all to preserve and to treasure the ancient landmark. Reference was made to lives of the ones gone by, and how all should emulate their ancient fervor and reverence. The rector referred to the wide-spread interest shown, thanking all for the help and support.

He then read a telegram of congratulations from Dean Lloyd, showing what an opportunity the Nova Scotia Historical Society had to offer to set a table on the door. The Archbishop expressed his sincere appreciation of being present and with the interest shown by the Governor and the Chief Justice in the proceedings congratulating the rector and people on what has been done.

The collection amounted to $102.83, will go to the restoration fund of the old church. After registration, which numbered over 200, all proceeded to the rectory grounds, which was gaily decorated with flags and lanterns, where the ladies of the congregation provided refreshments.

This was staged the most historical event in the history of Clementsport, the queen of the Basin.

A WOMAN PUTS ON SPECTACLES

(From the Casco Breeze) (This was written by a woman in answer to our inquiry: "Do you read newspaper advertisements?")

Newspaper advertisements have an irresistible fascination for me. Sometimes I know I shouldn't take the time to read them—but I always do. Of course, I don't mean that I always read them ALL, but I certainly read some every day—I even read the men's ads. There is certain satisfaction in surprising one's husband with up-to-date information on things only men are supposed to be interested in.

I used to have a prejudice against Life insurance until I read the advertisements. I thought the premiums were too much for my husband to pay, but an advertisement I read changed my opinion about that at once. And I got my husband to make a will and appoint a Trust Company as his executor because of an advertisement I read about it, which set me thinking.

But, of course, the advertisements that interest me most are those of domestic things. Whenever I order groceries, for instance, I find myself asking for the things whose names are familiar to me through reading the advertisements in the newspapers.

And I find my friends like to talk about the well-known things that they eat or use or wear—like foods, canned soups, these, washing machines, corsets, gloves and things like that. So there must be something in a name after all. The way I feel about it is that no business man would spend a lot of money to advertise a poor article; therefore, those things that are advertised must have superior qualities about them.

And I have found that advertised articles, far from costing more than unadvertised goods, can very often be bought for less. At least you know what you should pay for them—the makers tell you generally in their advertisements.

As for the advertisements of the stores, some of them are not as attractive as many of the more general advertisements, but I just couldn't shop without them. You see, I am like many other women, I have a young family, and I cannot get out too often during the day. But I read the store advertisements regularly, being sold, and I can always telephone my order if I can't go out conveniently that day. That, I think, is the great value of advertisements to women in the home. They do keep one well informed. Don't you think so?

LABOR DAY AT BRIDGETOWN

This Third Annual Event Proved The Most Successful in the History of the Town

Bridgetown's big Labor Day celebration, which took place Monday was certainly the most successful in the history of the town. Crowds began to arrive early in the morning. Private residences and places of business were attractively decorated with flags and bunting. The crowd, which was extremely large, was a good natured one and gave very little trouble to Chief of Police Goldsmith and his efficient staff of special police.

Everybody appeared pleased with the programme of sports and the successful manner in which they were pulled off.

The street parade in the morning, which consisted of beautifully decorated floats, boats and automobiles, extended along South street, reaching nearly the entire distance from Carlton's Corner to the railway crossing. The route of parade was from the railway crossing along Queen street, Granville street West and East, Church street, Rink street, disbanding opposite the ball grounds. It was said to be by all who viewed it, one of the best ever seen in the province.

The following is the list as near complete as could be obtained: Decorated floats: Mrs. E. L. Fisher, E. B. Tracey, C. B. Longmire, J. E. Lloyd, J. H. Longmire & Sons, Buckler & Daniels, A. J. Burns, Colonial Motor Co., B. N. Messenger, Wm. Gesner, Magee & Charlton, J. H. Hicks & Sons, G. O. Thies, Annapolis Valley Cider Co., M. W. Graves & Co., McKenzie, Crowe & Co., Alf Pheasant, Wilfred Wagner, John McLaughlin, Clowes.

Decorated cars—N. E. Chute, Rebekahs, Mrs. F. M. Graves, Rest-ave, Gladstone Parker, Ralph Berry, H. B. Hicks, Dr. M. E. Armstrong, A. L. Beeler, Ralph Warren, R. V. Arnold, C. F. DeWitt, O. Graves, W. Dargie, K. Freeman, O. P. Covert, G. O. Thies. The procession was led by O. P. Covert as John Bull and R. V. Arnold as Uncle Sam.

The parade procession is a feature among Bridgetown's business men, for which they are becoming famous. The grounds in front of the Grand Stand were lighted for the evening. As the procession moved along the street one of the committee was presented with a $100 bill from Mr. Phelps Lighting System, of Toronto, for which Mr. L. R. Whitman, of Paradise, is local agent. Mr. S. Locke, of Fredericton, N.B., a representative of the manufacturers was also present.

The whole day was a great success and reflects much credit on ex-mayor A. B. McKenzie, chairman of the management committee, the various chairmen, a list of which have already appeared in our columns, and their committees and particularly on the ladies who worked and supplied the food consumed in the big tent. The gross receipts on the grounds exceeded $1400.00.

DEMPEY-CARPENTER FIGHT

A feature of the greatest sporting film ever produced, "The Fight of the Century" is the clear manner in which the public are enabled to see the champion's tactics at close quarters with his opponent.

Throughout the fight, Dempsey availed himself of every opportunity in driving home powerful blows to Carpenter's body when in the clinches. Several of the terrific punches travelled no further than six inches, and with such speed that the human eye, in the excitement of the bout missed many of them.

But the battery of cameras trained on the ring did not miss a single blow, their eagle-eye absorbed every motion and punch of the champion, with a result that the finished film revealed the truth of the champion's greatness.

These pictures will appear in the Primrose Theatre, Bridgetown, Saturday, September 10th.

FIELD MARSHAL VON BUELOW DEAD

Berlin, August 31—Field Marshal General Von Buelow, who was commander-in-chief of the German second army during the war, died here to-day. He was considered one of the ablest of German military directors.

MONTHLY MEETING TOWN COUNCIL

A Delegation From the Board of Trade Asked for an Improved Electric Light Service

The regular monthly meeting of the Town Council was held last Friday evening. Mayor W. A. Warren in the chair. Councillors present:—A. A. Deelman, H. B. Hicks, C. B. Longmire, J. S. Moses and C. A. Bent. Minutes of the last regular meeting read and confirmed.

The following bills were read and, on motion, ordered paid: O. S. Dunham $ 1.55 Miles McMillan 107.20 Delegates to Municipal Convention 44.70 G. O. Thies 57.00 Pay Sheet for August 104.40

A communication was read from Chief Engineer Smith of the Nova Scotia Power Commission, stating that whereas Lawrenceston had declined to act with Bridgetown and Paradise, the Power Commission could not take any further action in this matter. Mr. Smith further stated, however, that Bridgetown's application for power would be still considered and that an alternative proposal to that of January 17th last may be submitted to the town.

A notice was read from O. S. Miller that after 30 days he would take action in the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia against the town of Bridgetown for damages to the amount of $200.00 claimed by one James Lingley. The fire company made application for apparatus and hose.

Moved by Coun. Longmire, seconded by Coun. Deelman, and passed, that said petition be granted, and Coun. Longmire was appointed to obtain the goods required. A delegation from the Bridgetown Board of Trade, consisting of E. A. Hicks, President; Capt. W. R. Longmire and O. S. Dunham waited upon the Council, enquiring what progress had been made re the improvement of the electric light service.

A verbal report from Coun. H. B. Hicks, chairman of the light committee, stated that the committee had, and was giving, the subject of town lighting their best and most careful attention and hoped to soon see an improvement.

President E. A. Hicks, and the other members of the delegation spoke on the subject, urging the Town Council to act quickly along these lines in order that the town may not have to suffer further loss and inconvenience from the cause of an inefficient light service.

After a full discussion of the subject it was moved by Coun. Hicks, seconded by Coun. Longmire, and passed, that this vital subject be left with the committee on light, and that they lose no time in bringing about an improvement in the lighting of our town.

The question of the Town's Solicitor's duties arose and was discussed at length. The present solicitor of the Council claimed he entered into an agreement with the Town Council previous to the making of the present town by-laws and therefore his duties as defined by the present by-laws did not effect his original agreement.

The Bill, Lingley vs. Anderson, tabled at the last regular meeting of the Council, was taken up and fully discussed, after which a vote was taken and carried unanimously that said bill be not paid for two reasons: First, that Anderson had the privilege of stopping action at the beginning, for a small sum; secondly, that the Council was not consulted, knew nothing of the conditions and was not a party to the affair.

Moved by Coun. Longmire, seconded by Coun. Moses, and passed, that the notice of action against the town be tabled.

The Mayor requested the Chief of Police to have three or four suitable persons sworn into police office duties for Labor Day.

By request the Chief moved the Silent Policeman to a different position. Minutes read and approved. Council adjourned. Clerk, J. E. LLOYD.

Korenski declares 15,000 Russians will perish from hunger the coming winter if aid is not promptly extended.
