POPULAR SCIENCE

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN TO BE GREATLY ENLARGED.

TMIS widely circulated and Popular Journal of the Industrial Arts and Sciences enters its twenty-second year on the let of January next, and the Publishers propose to signalize the occasion by enlarging it to the size of the most costly Scientific Journals of Great Britain, without, however, increasing the subscription price.

It is almost superiluous to speak of the great value of this Popular and Useful Journal to all classes, and especially to Mechanics, Manufacturers, Inventors, Engineers, Chemists, Agriculturiats, and all who love to read of the wondrous progress which now marks every department of Mechanical Engineering and the Industrial Arts and Sciences generally.

The Editorial department is very ably conducted, and many of the best writers in this country and Europe are contributors to its pages. Many of the articles have the charm of remance about them, and inspire the mind with noble ideas.

The Scientific American has the largest circulation of any similar journal in existence, but it ought to have a million of readers in this growing country.

The engravings of New Inventions, Tools, Implements for the Farm, Workshop and Household are very numerous and are splendidly executed by the best artiets in the world. This feature of the paper is very striking, and has won the praise of the united press of this country and Europe.

Another feature peculiar to the Scientific American is the official publication of every l'atent granted by the Government Patent Office. Each number contains the weekly issue of Patent Claims, with copious notices of new inventions, together with Reviews of Foreign Inventions and Discoveries in every department of Science.

Whoever reads the Scientific American is instructed and entertained, without being bothered with hard words and dry dotails.

The American and European Patent Office, in connection with the scientific American, form an immense Museum of Mechanical Novelties, which furnish constant employment to a large corps of Scientific Examiners who prepare drawings and MIIS widely circulated and Popular Journal of the Industrial Arts and Sciences enters its twenty-

Examiners who propose that the for Patents.

This firm is no doubt the most extensive in the world.

Now is the time to send in subscriptions to the Scientific American, so as to begin with the new Selentific American, so as to oco...

The numbers for a year make up a splendidly illustrated volume of 832 pages. Terms:—$3 per annum; $150 for six months; $1 for four months; Clubs of ten and upward, $250 each; Canadian subscribers, $325 per annum, always in advance. Specimen numbers sent free; also, a pamphlet of advice to inventors. Address
