

PROSPECTUS

— OF THE —

Presbyterian College Journal

MONTREAL,

FOR THE SESSION OF 1890-91.

STAFF.

J. A. NICHOLSON, B.A.,	- - - - -	EDITOR-IN-CHIEF.
D. J. FRASER, B. A., R. McDUGALL, B. A., AND H. C. SUTHERLAND, B. A.,
ASSOCIATE EDITORS.
L. R. BOUCHARD AND S. P. RONDEAU,	- - - - -	FRENCH EDITORS.
D. MACVICAR, B. A.,	- - - - -	CORRESPONDING EDITOR.
W. T. D. MOSS, B. A.,	- - - - -	REPORTING EDITOR.
WM. M. MACKERACHAR,	- - - - -	LOCAL EDITOR.

BUSINESS MANAGERS.

JAS. TAYLOR,	- - - - -	TREASURER.
D. GUTHRIE, E. A. MCKENZIE.

The Graduates' Pulpit.

This feature of the JOURNAL will be continued. Hitherto discourses from ordinary and B. D. Graduates alone have appeared, but during the coming session our readers will be favored with disquisitions from several of our learned D.D.'s as well.

Contributed Articles.

Under this head will be published articles of a literary and theological character, covering a wide range of subjects, and written by graduates, students and others, some of them amongst the foremost literateurs of Canada. Although the general tone of the JOURNAL will continue to be theological, we will endeavor to make it less exclusively so, and to this end greater prominence will be given to descriptive sketches and general literary productions. We are making arrangements, which we feel confident of completing, for introducing into the arena of the Presbyterian Church in Canada the discussion of the latest living issue, the Revision of the Confession of Faith. This will be conducted by some of our leading ecclesiastical dignitaries.

The Mission Crisis.

Believing that there are few greater stimuli to Christian effort at home than an interest in Christian work abroad, we will endeavor to foster a missionary spirit in our readers, by presenting such facts as will show the pressing needs of the heathen world, and by depicting the trials, discouragements and ultimate triumphs of some of the world's great missionaries. Our four missionary graduates, being now settled will be able to furnish, in their usual interesting style, detailed descriptions of their work and fields, while in each number there will appear an interesting biography of some heroic and devoted missionary.