GREAT BRITAIN'S BREAD SUPPLY.

J. F. Williams, in The Harmsworth Magazine :- "In England about a third of the cultivable area is under the plow; but, while the acreage under barley, oats, potatoes and other root crops is practically the .ame now as it was thirty years ngo—when the population was 7,000.00 less—the wheat area has fallen from 4,000,000 to 2,000,000 acres. The entire agricultural produce of Great Britain is thus utterly insufficient to feed so populous a country, and the deficiency must therefore be mer by supplies from abroad. Let us see what is the amount, nature and approximately the 'time-limit' of the entables and drinkables required by the 40,000,000 people who live in this country.

"What would it mean to millions of our working people if by any chance combination of hostile fleets our corn-bringing ships were prevented from landing their cargoes even for a short period? Roughly speaking, home grown wheat would enable us to live for about two and a half months, that is to say, suppose it were then wholly and continuously available. With unchecked supplies from the United States and Canada we would have enough bread for five months longer. From our own colonies and India we can only get enough wheat and flour to last us for one and a half months.

"The vast wheat fields of the United States supply us with flour to make 1,500,000,000 loaves, but this immense quantity and millions more could be easily supplied by Canada had she only the men and means to put even a tithe of her rich wheat soil under cultivation. At present she can only give us a surplus of 150,000,000 loaves.

"From a broad point of view, while war with Russia would affect us to a considerable extent, hostilities with the United States would be a calamity indeed, inasmuch as it would be an utter impossibility for the rest of the world to make up at short notice the terrible deficiency."

CANADIAN PRODUCE IN IRISH MARKETS.

The demand for Canadian produce in Irish markets has lately been steadily increasing and the growth of this trade has been especially marked since the inauguration of the "Head" line of steamships running direct between Canada and Belfast and Dublin. Mr. F. C. Thompson, 37 Yonge St,, Toronto, Western agent for the line lately visited the principal merchants in Belfast, Dublin and Londonderry and will be glad to hear from exporters and manufacturers desiring reliable connections in Ireland, particularly in flour, meal, lumber, furniture, chair stock, doors, etc. We strongly recommend the Irish market to the attention of our exporters.
