stock heart on of that man had it he g by nged inted nary omecome

sfied

fe!" wful

er a
Berout

ftly,

"I shall not sing for the world," said she, taking his hand and holding it tenderly, stroking it softly, as if to ease his pain. "I shall sing"—dreamily, looking away into the fire of evening—"I shall sing, but only for those who love me."

THE END.