Mitchell: Wheat—Wheat opened weak and lower, influenced by the big Amentine slipments, the latter causing lower cables. Domestic receipts were all quite liberal, which added to the initial weakness. Later, however, good buying developed and scattered shorts covered, resulting in a raily of a cent, the closing prices being the best of the day. The paramount feature was the receipt of early reports of depredations by the green bug; in fact, many of the telegrams indicated a rather serious attuation in sections which have heretofore been free from such Chlengo Gossip. which have heretofore been free from such pests. This fact has created considerable pervousness on the part of some of the pests. This fact has created considerable nervousness on the part of some of the large shorts, which, with the technical position, to which we called attention in our yesterday's letter, is quite capable of forming the foundation for a rapid advance, and it will at least be wise to follow the daily developments very closely, as the market may record some very wide fluctuations in the near future.

Corn and outs, while not so heavily traded in were firm, the latter registering the Corn and oats, while not so heavily traded in, were firm, the latter registering the record price for the present movement. Cash property continues in good demand; we understand one sale of a half-million bushels of oats was consummated to-day for shipment as soon as navigation opens. Mélady & Co. received the following at the close of the market.

Wheat—Liverpool cables proved a disappointment this morning by responding to Wheat—Liverpool cables groved a disappointment this morning by responding to our advance yesterday with a decline of ½c, and caused considerable selling at the opening and a slight recession from last night's closing prices. Cash markets were active and firm at yesterday's prices. The buying and selling was of good character, but the former was more effective. For to-morrow we look for more damage reports and somewhat higher prices.

Corn—Local receipts were only 271 cars, and cash prices were ½c to ½c higher Country offerings are becoming smaller, and it is more difficult to get corn to market. There was a spirited contest in May corn at 47c between two prominent commission houses, but the strength in wheat corn at 47c between two prominent commission houses, but the strength in wheat finally carried the market above that point.
Offerings were larger, but were well taken,
and the largest long interest is in strong hands. The government report on Monday may cause a temporary break, but in case
it does would advise purchases.
Oats—Cash market was again higher and receipts small. The numerous reports of green bugs in the southwest caused a good deal of scattered buying, but the tension was relieved by rather free offerings of May by the leaders of the long interest,
and kept the market from getting excited.
The market is still very tight, and will probably sell higher in due time.

J. C. ROSS' STOCK SALE. Clayfield Farm, Jarvis, Gets Good

Prices for Clyde Horses. Jarvis, March 7 .- "Clayfield Stock Farm." wned by J. C. Ross, the well known stock breeder, was the scene of an important sale to-day of pure-bred Clydesdale horses, Shorthorn cattle and Cotswold sheep. Mr. Ross is also well known as an exhibitor, haying exhibited at all the principal fairs having exhibited at all the principal fairs in this province, at the Pan-American at Buffalo, and at the World's Fairs at Chicago and St. Louis, where he was very successful as a prize-winner.

The attendance was not as large as was anticipated, the buyers being mostly local men, there being very few outside buyers present.

The prices realized were not as high as would naturally be expected for pure-bred registered stock, this being especially noticeable in the cattle and sheep.

The shorthorns were secured by local people generally, and some big bargains to the buyers resulted. But the horses sold well and the following figures were secured:

by Lord Fyfe (imp.), to Charles Paling, Caledonia
Queen Bess, 3 years old, sire
Alexander's Heir (imp.), to Robt. wold ewes were sold, the prices averaging $15.30 each.

admits that most industrial wares which require power for their manufacturing will be manufactured chiefly in Ontario, where the raw material and power are elements side by side. The Westerner does claim, however, that the West will manufacture its own building material and that the building material of the future will be cement, sand and gravel in their various forms.

Frame buildings are too expensive, temporary and dangerous for the modern Westerner to consider as he contemplates replacing his shacks with substantial improvements, stone and brick are too expensive and must stand by and see the evolution of Cement Blocks as the building material of this active age and country.
