Mistaken Identity Causes an Interesting Case at Osgoode Hall—Justice Street Reserve Judgment.

Justice Street reserved judgment at the non-jury sitting in the somewhat curious case of Andrews v. Canada Mutual Loan and Investment Company. Mr. William Andrews of Streetville held some shares in the defendant company, which in due time "matured," and $548.65 was paid to the credit of the plaintiff, who before the maturity of the shares removed to the United States. There lived in the village of Streetville at the same time another man also named William Andrews, whose creditors obtained payment, under an order of the court, of the matured stock.
The plaintiff in this action, who sought payment of his matured stock, the creditors who received the money under a notice of the garnishment proceedings, but of course did not appear. The company did not wish to "mature" the shares twice,

SIMPSON'S Three Weeks Till Easter

Canada's Modern
Departmental Store

Ample preparation at every point for Easter shoppers.
New goods with every sunrise and new elegancies in things you're sure to need. All our buyers have been at their best, and the store was never more attractive. Nothing will please us better than to have you come and bring your friends. The store always has a cheerful welcome for all comers, and buying is never necessary here to ensure courteous treatment.

The largest fact in this season's announcement is that we control more exclusive styles. This is evident all over the store. We've put a girdle round the genius of the world and gathered together the newest and best things. Attractive displays greet you at every turn, and novelties come to us that will not be duplicated in Toronto.

But all the power of this business finally reaches a single definite point—the reduction of prices. We mean that good things shall cost you less this year than last, and that means bringing you here past all the other stores.
Statements such as these will give you a chance to make intelligent comparisons.

Daily Newness in Dress Goods

We are outdoing the past at every turn in the Dress Goods Section, and such a statement is full of meaning when made by this store. Every day sees new elegance in Dress Goods, and the enthusiasm created is manifest in the crowds in this section at almost any hour in the day. Why this leadership? Let us put the stress on the character of the goods—quality, style, exclusiveness. The values, however, are full of importance. We never in any past season showed such beautiful and high-class goods and charged so little money for them. For the early spring we can suggest nothing more suitable than our Pile Suitings, Broadcloths and Covert Suitings—and such a variety. Let us demonstrate briefly:

KETTLE RIVER VALLEY R.R.

Sir William Van Horne is after Mr.
Bodwell's Scheme.

The President of the C.P.R. Claims the Proposed Road Would Drain Canada to the Extent of Ten Million Dollars in Ten Years—Some Pretty Sharp Passages—Mr. Corbin Explains.

Ottawa, March 17.—(Special.)—There was a great gathering in the Railway Committee room this morning, when the Kettle River Valley Railway bill came up. Sir William Van Horne and other Canadian Pacific men were present to oppose E. Y. Bodwell of Victoria, D.
C. Corbin and D. Ross, of Boundary Creek, represented the promoters. Sir William Van Horne, who desires to tap the Kootenay district by this railway, also was on hand.

Mr. Bodwell explained the bill. He said the Corbin system had expended already $1,200,000 in Southern British Columbia. He denied that the road would take away trade from Canada to the United States. He said Mr. Corbin had no interest in any smaller in the States.

Sir William Van Horne spoke in opposition to the bill. He asserted that this road would take a hundred million dollars out of Canada in 10 years. When Mr. Bodwell had said about time was a humbug.

Mr. Bodwell, jumping to his feet, said warmly, "No, sir, it is not." He then said the Canadian Pacific was not as rapacious a corporation as was painted.
The Canadian Pacific this year would build under the Columbia and Western charter, from Kelowna to Midway, a distance of a hundred miles, in territory covered by the Kettle River bill.

Mr. Bodwell asked whether they then would not build the road? "No," replied Sir William, "nor have we asked for one."

Returning to complaints from the Kootenay against the Canadian Pacific, Sir William said: "I do not say that the Canadian Pacific is never guilty of overcharge or injustice sometimes, but I defy any man to point out any case brought before the company, which was not promptly corrected."

Mr. Corbin's Remarks.
D. C. Corbin, of Spokane, then explained the local situation, asserting that this road would be a vast benefit to the district. Only high grade roads could be carried over to the States, as smelting could be done cheaper in Canada.

Chairman Sutherland asked why they did not build the road? "Because there is no water or land at Rossland available for it."

At 1 o'clock the committee adjourned.
The bill will be resumed next week.

RAINY RIVER BILL AGAIN.

It Came Before the Railway Committee and Was Further Amended—Construction to Begin in Two Years.

Ottawa, March 17.—(Special.)—At the Railway Committee this morning the Ontario and Rainy River Railway bill was again brought before the committee. The bill was sent back from the House, came up for consideration again.
Some of the parties interested in the amendments made by the committee.
To-day, the bill was again amended so as to compel the company to commence construction within four years, and finish the line within four years.

The right began for a definite statement of the amount to be expended on the road to insure its early commencement, and completion. Mr. W. R. Maclean, an employee of the Arlington Hotel, were committed for trial.

DAY OF BURIALS.
Many Friends Attended the Obsequies of
