THE DEATH ROLL.

Daniel C. Bennett, one of the oldest marine engineers on the lakes, died in Detroit yesterday, aged 72 years.
James Campbell, one of Tilbury's oldest, wealthiest, and most respected residents, died on Thursday, aged 77. He came to Canada from Ireland with his parents when 8 years old and had lived in Tilbury over 60 years.

The following Pastime players are requested to be at the old Lacrosse Grounds, Rosedale, to-day at 2.30 p.m.: G. Tedford, W.
Pearson, W. Smedley, H. Dussan, T.
Wright, E. Toller, F. Pinner, J. Brooks.
D. & O. Sorby, of Guelph, with Ad-Crossley's entry a close second.

The best hackney mare was Mr. B. Beth's beautiful Cordelia.

In the afternoon more of the heavy class ambled around the tankard, the entries in these being fairly large, with the exception of the draught horses shown in harness.

The sweepstake for best draught pair of mares or geldings was won by George Moore of Waterloo, with a fine-looking team, in the thoroughbred stallion class, Quin Bros.
won with their good horse, Wiley Buckles.

The class that took the longest time to finish was the lightest green hunters.
There was the usual large list of entries, and Mr. George Pepper again carried off the first prize, with Mr. Mair's second and Mr.
Beck third. Before the judges finished this class it was nearly 7 o'clock.

The evening performance was commenced by a parade of standard bred and carriage stallions and the fire brigade, after which the judging was resumed and continued till midnight. There were six classes disposed of, three of them being horses in harness.
In the first, for butchers' delivery carts, there were seven entries. The prize for pairs not exceeding 15.2 went to Crow & Murray, with a slashing fine-looking team.
The next class also went to the same firm, with Curzon of Guelph second and George Pepper third. Mr. Beth's Jessica easily carried off the red ribbon for the best high stepper, which was a popular win. The last class judged was for best performance over six jumps. This brought out 17 competitors and took a long time to decide.
The jumps were gradually raised from 4 feet 6 inches to 5 feet. This was won by Dr.
Pepper's good horse Veto, with Adam Beck's Westminster Belle, a good-looking mare, second. In this class Crow & Murray were again inside the money.

SECOND DAY OF HORSE SHOW

Judges Continue Their Arduous Task and Award Most of the Ribbons.

ANOTHER LARGE ATTENDANCE.

Three Performances To-Day Will

Wind Up the Equine

Spectacle.

The throng are going with a rush and a bound, and all to the Horse Show. Standing room was at a premium last night, and every seat was sold soon after 8 o'clock.

In the afternoon, too, the chairs filled up well towards 5 o'clock, though this program was perhaps the least attractive of the week.

The Governor-General was present both afternoon and evening, and the whole vice-regal party saw the musical ride at night.

The second day's judging at the Horse Show brought out some good classes, and the competitions were all keen. Those in the morning and afternoon were principally the heavier classes, the entries in all being fairly large.

In the morning there were only three lots brought into the ring. In the first, for
