The Starr Company announces the greatest record-selling event of the year in Red Seal Record Week!

OCTOBER 6 to 11

WE HAVE decided to give the people the opportunity of getting the finest Victor Records made by the foremost artists at prices never before offered.

For instance, the famous Victor Sextet in "Lucia" includes the following peerless voices: Tetravini, Caruso, Amato, Journet, Jacoby, Bada, a record selling hitherto for $8.00, but obtainable here during Red Seal Week for only $3.50.

The equally famous quartet in "Rigoletto," consisting of Galli-Curci, Caruso, Perini and DeLuca—a $6.00 record, will be purchasable for $2.00 in this special Red Seal event, next week.

A Remarkable Opportunity!

No need now for "the long purse" in order to be able to enjoy the best music that the world affords.
Music-lovers hitherto deterred from buying the best selections because of prohibitive prices will be able to enlarge their record libraries at very nominal outlay.

Unlimited Service!

At the Starr parlors we have every facility for rendering a service unequalled in Western Ontario.
We have a large stock, a number of well-lighted, well-ventilated rooms for demonstration purposes, a central location, and large staff of competent, obliging people, who KNOW records.

Headquarters for VICTOR RECORDS in London and Carry the Largest, Most Complete Stock in Western Ontario

Starr service means we can give you every satisfaction. Persons calling with a list of a dozen records they desire will find that in nearly every case they will be able to get all twelve from our immense stock, and at least ten. There will be no disappointment, no trotting around to find what you want.

We do the biggest record business in London, and for this special Red Seal event have laid in extra heavy stocks of brand-new, fresh-from-the-factory selections at the new prices, including such immortal favorites as "A Little Bit of Heaven" by John McCormack, and that wonderful duet by Homer and Gluck, "Whispering Hope"—with thousands of others by the leading artists of the world.

Stock up for the long fall and winter evenings NOW. These prices make it good economy to add to your record repertoire. Red Seals that were $6.00 each will be $2.50 next week. The $3.50 ones will be $2.00, and the $2.50 selections will be but $1.25—all, remember, by such artists as Caruso, Farrar, Gluck, Homer, Clara Butt, Destinn, Alda, Journet, Amato, Kubelik, Zimbalist, Scotti, Melba, Calve, Sembrich, McCormack, Kreisler, Plancon, Ruffo, Herfritz, and others.

Put forth an extra effort next week to make a big saving by buying Red Seal Records heavily at the attractive prices. A full range of 90c records always on hand.

DUSTIN FARNUM IN "A MAN'S FIGHT" AT PATRICIA THEATRE

Awana and Girls Present Classy Dancing Act—Also a Happy Semon Comedy.

Dustin Farnum, in "A Man's Fight." This popular actor's latest photoplay attracted capacity audiences to the Patricia Theatre yesterday. The following is a synopsis of the story: Roger Carr of an aristocratic New York family, and man about town, defects Norman Evans, his only sister's suitor, cheating at cards at their club.

That evening Carr comes suddenly upon Evans, half intoxicated, pressing overzealous attention on Ethel in the drawing-room of the Carr mansion. In the semi-darkness Evans is shot dead, and a revolver is slid along the floor between Carr and his sister Ethel. Each believes the other fired the shot. Carr, though innocent, to save his sister, makes no denial of the shooting. Clever lawyers get the sentence reduced to a short term of years in the penitentiary, and Carr goes to Sing Sing. Ethel becomes Sister Carmen, a nun in a western convent.
Emerging from the penitentiary on the expiration of his term, Carr is spurred by his partisan old father for the disgrace he has brought on the aristocratic family. With a manly man's determination to yet make good and win honour for the name he assumes, Carr under the alias of John Rand, goes to Colorado and makes a success as the industrial and political leader of the Independents among the mine owners. He is openly courted by the daughter of the richest of the Independents, and is secretly loved, too, by his pretty secretary, a young western girl of the worthwhile type. Straining every effort to wreck Rand's impending triumph, his political foes stumble upon his Sing Sing past. Fate grins in his face as for the second time it is on the point of making him an outcast, when in startling fashion the truth comes to light with the two women he adores, Sister Carmen and the little secretary.
