Third Day · Trotting at Detroit

With racing after Sept. 1 in New York State a matter of history, those who have been lawfully following the horses ove for courses where they will be still able to follow their favorite pastime unmolested. They joyfully figure out continuo racing outside of New York State; within easy reach of their former stamping ground, where hundreds of horses are stabled. When Saratoga winds up, Fort Erie, across from Buffalo, will open for six days. Montreal's Blue Bonnets course will follow with seven days, from Sept 10 to Sept. 17, and then Woodbine Park twirlers to stem the tide. Sept. 24, after which the new Marlboro

The curtailment of the eastern season probably means that the winter meetings will begin sooner than usual. Juarez. Mexico, has planned a meeting of 100 days, beginning early in November, and Oaklaud has sent out a notice to horsemen that the sport will begin there on Nov. 12, to run probably until April 1. Jacksonville too will have a long session opening about the middle of November and extending until some time in March. Jamestown, Va., is expected to fill in the time between the close of Pimilico and the opening of the winter campaigns, although the promoter of that enterprise has not made known his plans. When the Jamestown spring meeting closed a loss was recorded, but it was said at the time that arother meeting would be held about Nov. 18.

The Torontos started out on this series to show that they perform more successfully on the road than at the Stadium, even if their first victims were the lowly Jersey Citys.

Controller Church, who has been over in Cleveland all week on a visit to his sister, saw the Nap-Yankee scries. Russeli Ford and Fred Mitchell were down at the boat to see him off when he left for Toronto. Mitchell says Ford is the greatest pitcher he ever saw, and the controller bears him out. All the clubs look alike to him. The two New York teams are to play a post-season series, which will rival the world's series, and Ford and Mathewson will meet. Ford's work is the talk of the league, and he is very popular all over the circuit because of his modesty and good sportsmanship. He is a Canadian and is very proud of it. Everyone agrees he is even now the best in any league. Mitchell's work is Al.

The untimely death of Mert Kent yesterday came as a shock to his many friends. Mert was one of the best known athletes in Toronto and Western Ontario. It was in Galt that the late Mr. Kent sprang into fame in the athletic world, being a member of their Rugby and hockey teams. After a season with Galt. Mert moved again to his home town, where he played on halfback line of the Argonaut Rugby team, and hockey with the Toronto Rowing Club for the past two winters. Both at hockey and Rugby he came in for a goodly share of the praise in every game he played, and the praise in every game he played, and the report of his death yesterday will be read with regret by all who ever came in touch with him, either on or off the field. Mert is survived by three brothers, two of them, Pud and Art, being well-known as members of the Argonaut Rug-by team, while, Hubert, the other brother, has played Rugby with some of the

BASEBALL NOTES.

Speaking of Jimmy Archer, the Toronto boy, with the Chicago Cubs, The New York American says: They cannot take any liberties with Archer's throwing arm. The Chicago catching find (released by Detroit, by the way), broke up the Giants' most promising rally by a snap throw that caught Snodgrass star-gazing. It was in the eighth, after two men were out. Snod roosted on second and Doyle at first and there were evidences afloat of a contemplated double steal. Archer sniffed the idea and returned one of Pfeister's offerings to second so fast that Tinker had no trouble clamping the ball in Snod's ribs before he could get back to the bag. back to the bag.

Wilkes-Barre defeated Elmira at Wilkes-Barre yesterday by 2 to 1 in the only New York State League game. Manager Mike Kelley has released in-fielder Dave Brain.

Pitcher Addie Joss of the Cleveland team has been forced to retire for the season on account of strained tendons in his right arm, Joe McGinnity and his tribe have shot their bolt, unless Joe can land a few good pitchers.

If the Leafs clean up the series at Jersey City, they should fare better in their next series with Newark than they have so far this season, for the Newark pitchers should be pretty well used up after the Rochester series. Jersey City and Toronto will play a Outfielder Evans of the St. Louis Nationals, who was with Montreal under Jimmy Casey, had a peculiar record at Brooklyn Wednesday at the bat, being hit three times.

Sporting Notes,

Here's a real paseball feat; Running after a fly hit to deep centre, Anderson, the centre fielder of the Deep Haven, Minn., baseball team, yesterday is said to have jumped into the lake, turning on his back, and while swimming caught the ball, shutting off three runs in the same ball, shutting off three runs in the game played near St. Paul, Minn. This was in the ninth, with the score $\tilde{9}$ to $4$ in Deep Haven's favor. Swimming ashore, he' relayed the ball to catcher. The feat eclipsed anything known in Minneapolis baseball. The game was with the Prince Realty team.

"To assure myself positively of the actual occurrence in the ring on that Reno. or rainy, day, writes McLaughlin in New York World, "I have seen the pictures of the fight on six of the eleven stages where they are being produced in this city. I did this because there was a battery of six picture machines reeling off films of the 'meeting,' each working at a different angle. But they all tell the same story, just as I sized it up from the ringside—the complete breakdown of head and heart on the part of Jeff. It is pathetically told in the Dreamland presentation, where the screen is so large that the figures in the ring stand out like towering glants, and every-movement is as clear as in life. It is a coincidence that Jeff's dream at Reno should be re-
