

MONDAY MORNING

VERDUN BATTLE RAGES WITH NO GERMAN GAINS

Quarter of Million Fresh Troops Used by Foe as Reinforcements.

ENEMY AT STANDSTILL

Position Now Favors French Who Have Recovered From Effects of Surprise.

(Continued From Page 1.)

In front of the village of Vaux alone 400 German corpses were counted after the first wave of the attack. The rest of the day the German attack was a series of check and counter-check. The Germans carried on the assault with great courage until the dead were piled up to the neck. Then the officers, as it is said, were compelled to urge on the troops as they clamored over the corpses of their fallen comrades in the last assaults.

Bad Check at Vaux. The attack on Vaux began on the evening of March 7 with a furious night. Units of Germans, advancing simultaneously from the north and south, tried to surround the village. French artillery immediately opened a heavy fire which separated the reinforcements. German troops came up in platoons and observers saw plainly the advance of the German lines. The French tried to meet the attack with a counter-attack. The fighting was very hot and the French were forced to retreat in some places. The fighting was very hot and the French were forced to retreat in some places.

Charged Eight Times. The survivors, undaunted, re-entrenched themselves in the trenches and fought hand-to-hand in fierce combats at the outskirts of the village. The bitterest fighting was for possession of the road leading to Douaumont. The Germans made several attempts to take it but were repulsed each time.

Use of Burning Liquid. The Germans in their assaults are using several sorts of burning liquid projectors. One of these is in the form of a small tank, which is carried on the back, filled with a composition liquid which seems to be mostly kerosene. Attached to the nozzle is an ignition apparatus. The liquid is projected by means of a hand pump. The radius of action of the oil depends on the skill and the physical effort of the man who projects it, but is ordinarily from 60 to 90 feet.

Some French soldiers have been burned to a crisp by the flaming liquid. Other chemical weapons used by the Germans in this battle include asphyxiating shells, vapors which irritate the eye and incendiary shells.

The greatest offer ever made by this newspaper to its readers. A History of the World for Seven Thousand Years.

A remarkable announcement appears in the advertising columns of this paper today, offering to its readers a History of the World, on terms that make it practically a gift. The five volumes which constitute the set are printed from brand new plates in clear type, and on excellent paper. The binding is in the most approved style, and will ornament any library. The publishers of this history have sold many thousands at a price several times the work's cost. In several times the price of the set, the syndicate plan whereby several hundred of the leading newspapers of the country offer the shells for the mere cost of distribution, with no profits added, enables them to make what would appear to be a gift to their readers. Joseph Nelson, the author, has a world-wide reputation as the author of Larned's History for Ready Reference, a work that is in every library of the land, and which is consulted oftener than any other reference work ever published. His history has had the enormous benefit of the years of preparation in complete confidence. Our generous coupon offer explains the terms upon which the five volumes may be had, and the coupon will be printed daily in this paper.

Desire of Roumania to Fight Hungary. Filippesco, Ex-War Minister, Says There is No Hostility Toward Germany.

BUCHAREST, via Berlin, March 5.—"We would fight Germany with regret; Austria with indifference, and Hungary with the keenest satisfaction," said M. Filippesco, leader of the Conservatives and former minister of war, to the correspondent of the Associated Press.

He expressed the opinion that there is no ill-feeling against Germany, and that Austria is disliked solely because it is linked with the Hungarians, who are hated on account of the alleged ill-treatment of the Roumanians living in Transylvania and Banat.

According to the Roumanian press, there are several factors which make for the continued neutrality of the country. These are, first, that the Teutonic sympathizers are better organized than the followers of the entente; and, secondly, the long duration of the war has created public apathy. Another deterrent factor has been the expense of mobilization and the later demobilization of nearly the entire army. The cost of living has also increased, some articles having risen in price more than they have in the central power countries.

WOMEN'S SECTION IN THE GREAT PROHIBITION PARADE

Wednesday, March 8

Committee of One Hundred Women

LADY EATON, Convener Demonstration Committee.

There will be a limited number of unoccupied autos on Bloor St., west of Yonge; Charles St. W., St. Mary's, St. Joseph's, North and St. Thomas Streets at 12 o'clock on Wednesday for Toronto ladies. There will also be upwards of 200 autos on Gerrard St. E., near Willard Hall, for the accommodation of out-of-town ladies. The section of ladies on foot will mobilize on Louisa st., off Yonge, at 1 o'clock.

Several bombs were dropped on the Connaught Railway Station last night by a French aviator, owing to reports of great activity there on the part of the Germans.

The Germans also report the loss of trenches in Lorraine, saying: "To avoid unnecessary losses, we evacuated yesterday the trenches we captured from the French on Feb. 28, near the forest of Thiaucourt, northeast of Badonviller, Lorraine, before the concentrated fire of the enemy against these positions."

Part of the gold captured by the Moewe was taken from the Appam, which put in at Newport News several weeks ago under command of Lieut. Beers, a German prize crew. It was announced in London, however, that the value of the gold on the Appam was less than $200,000.

Announcement was made in London on Jan. 10 that the British battleship King Edward VII. had been blown up by a mine. NEWS-PAPER DISASTER OCCURRED WAS NOT REVEALED BY THE BRITISH ADMIRALTY. IT WAS SAID NO LIVES WERE LOST AND ONLY TWO MEN WERE INJURED.

News of Exploits. The Moewe first became widely known when she was reported to have captured the German raider and captured and sunk seven British vessels in the main line of traffic between South Africa and Europe. In addition to seizing the Appam which had been almost given up for lost.

The next heard of the German raider was on the arrival at Canary Islands late last month of the Westburn in charge of a German prize crew. It was then made known that the Moewe had sunk five steamships.

The Sixton Prince and Maroni probably were captured by the Moewe on her way back to Germany, as their sailing dates show they were both on the high seas toward the end of February.

The identity of the Moewe has not been established here definitely. Prisoners from captured ships which were transferred to the generally Westburn on their arrival at the Canary Islands smaller than seven inches. According to the report of the Moewe was that she parted company with the Westburn on Feb. 9.

Count von Donha, the Moewe's commander, belongs to the (Schlodien or Slesian) branch of his family, which is headed by Prince Richard von Donha. He formerly commanded the gunboat Tsing-Tau in the China sea. It was reported last month that the count had been captured by the German raider Panga, which was said to have made her way out of Kiel several weeks ago.

RAIDER MOEWE IS IN A GERMAN PORT

Berlin Announces That Famous Privateer Made Way Through Cordon.

PRISONERS ON BOARD

Count Von Dohn-Schlodien Stated to Have Been in Command.

(Continued From Page 1.)

of which were sunk, and a small part of which were sent as prizes to neutral ports: The British steamers Corbridge, 3687 tons; Author, 3498 tons; Trajan, 3608 tons; Ariadne, 3035 tons; Dromonby, 3627 tons; Farrington, 3146 tons; Clan MacTavish, 5516 tons; Appam, 7781 tons; Westburn, 3300 tons; Horara, 3385 tons; Flamenco, 4629 tons; Saxton Prince, 3471 tons; the British sailing vessel Edinburgh, 1473 tons; the French steamer Maroni, 3109 tons; the Belgian steamer Luxembourg, 4322 tons.

"At several points on enemy coast the Moewe also had been sighted. Among others, the battleship King Edward VII. fell victim."

Chased by Cruisers. A Boulogne despatch last Friday said that a mysterious steamer, believed to be a German commerce raider, had been seen dashing through the English Channel at high speed and that fast British and French cruisers had started in pursuit.

The Moewe's capture of two of the fifteen vessels listed by the German admiralty has not been reported previously. They are the Saxton Prince and the Maroni, both of which were engaged in the transatlantic service.

The Saxton Prince, 3471 tons gross, 352 feet long, and owned by the Prince Line of Newcastle, England, was built in Sunderland in 1899. She was last reported on sailing from Norfolk, Feb. 12 for Manchester.

The Maroni sailed on Feb. 19 from Bordeaux for New York. She was built at Port Debout in 1907, owned by the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique of Havre and was 310 feet long, of 3,109 tons gross.

A Spectacular Feat. The Moewe, previously made famous by her exploits, has performed one of the most spectacular feats of the war on the sea by reaching a home port in safety. The great German naval port of Wilhelmshaven is on the North Sea, which is patrolled with ceaseless vigilance by British warships. It is through these waters, which have been blocked off in districts for patrol by the different British units, that the Moewe must have threaded her way to home and safety.

Part of the gold captured by the Moewe was taken from the Appam, which put in at Newport News several weeks ago under command of Lieut. Beers, a German prize crew. It was announced in London, however, that the value of the gold on the Appam was less than $200,000.

Announcement was made in London on Jan. 10 that the British battleship King Edward VII. had been blown up by a mine. NEWS-PAPER DISASTER OCCURRED WAS NOT REVEALED BY THE BRITISH ADMIRALTY. IT WAS SAID NO LIVES WERE LOST AND ONLY TWO MEN WERE INJURED.

News of Exploits. The Moewe first became widely known when she was reported to have captured the German raider and captured and sunk seven British vessels in the main line of traffic between South Africa and Europe. In addition to seizing the Appam which had been almost given up for lost.

The next heard of the German raider was on the arrival at Canary Islands late last month of the Westburn in charge of a German prize crew. It was then made known that the Moewe had sunk five steamships.

The Sixton Prince and Maroni probably were captured by the Moewe on her way back to Germany, as their sailing dates show they were both on the high seas toward the end of February.

The identity of the Moewe has not been established here definitely. Prisoners from captured ships which were transferred to the generally Westburn on their arrival at the Canary Islands smaller than seven inches. According to the report of the Moewe was that she parted company with the Westburn on Feb. 9.

Count von Donha, the Moewe's commander, belongs to the (Schlodien or Slesian) branch of his family, which is headed by Prince Richard von Donha. He formerly commanded the gunboat Tsing-Tau in the China sea. It was reported last month that the count had been captured by the German raider Panga, which was said to have made her way out of Kiel several weeks ago.

BRYAN WORKS QUIETLY TO UNDERMINE WILSON

He Will Be at Washington Today to Confer With Insurgents.

NOT ACTIVE, HE SAYS

But His Freely Expressed Views Are Being Busily Circulated.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The influence of William Jennings Bryan will be felt in the fight over the armistice issue, which administration leaders plan to bring to a vote in the house Tuesday.

Mr. Bryan, who outlined his views in favor of the armistice, is expected to spend the day here, and he has an engagement for lunch with Representative Bailey of Pennsylvania, at an hour which will enable him to vote in the capitol, and in which eight congressmen make their homes. He will be there until the hour of his departure, when he will return to his home in Pennsylvania.

Each belligerent should clearly state his desires, but should be ready to make necessary sacrifices of pride and particular interests, thus ending the monstrous conflict in accordance with justice and re-establishing peace, advantageous to neither side, but profitable to all, and therefore a just and lasting peace.

Paternal Voice Not Heard. This paternal voice, continues the Pope, "was not heard. Thus the war continues with all its horrors."

Another Peace Appeal Comes From Vatican. Pope Calls on Belligerents to Make All Necessary Sacrifices.

HIS VOICE NOT HEARD. He Believes Cry Has, However, Had Echo in Hearts of People.

ROME, via Paris, March 5.—The Pope has again raised his voice for peace. In a special letter, written for the Lenten season, the pontiff says he cannot sit silent, indifferent to the terrible conflict which is rending Europe. He recalls all that he has done to induce the contending nations to lay down their arms, virtually throwing himself between the belligerents and conjuring them in the name of the Almighty to desist in their plan of mutual destruction.

The Pope again sets forth the proposal which he made some months ago as follows: "Each belligerent should clearly state his desires, but should be ready to make necessary sacrifices of pride and particular interests, thus ending the monstrous conflict in accordance with justice and re-establishing peace, advantageous to neither side, but profitable to all, and therefore a just and lasting peace."

Paternal Voice Not Heard. This paternal voice, continues the Pope, "was not heard. Thus the war continues with all its horrors."

Another Peace Appeal Comes From Vatican. Pope Calls on Belligerents to Make All Necessary Sacrifices.

HIS VOICE NOT HEARD. He Believes Cry Has, However, Had Echo in Hearts of People.

ROME, via Paris, March 5.—The Pope has again raised his voice for peace. In a special letter, written for the Lenten season, the pontiff says he cannot sit silent, indifferent to the terrible conflict which is rending Europe. He recalls all that he has done to induce the contending nations to lay down their arms, virtually throwing himself between the belligerents and conjuring them in the name of the Almighty to desist in their plan of mutual destruction.

The Pope again sets forth the proposal which he made some months ago as follows: "Each belligerent should clearly state his desires, but should be ready to make necessary sacrifices of pride and particular interests, thus ending the monstrous conflict in accordance with justice and re-establishing peace, advantageous to neither side, but profitable to all, and therefore a just and lasting peace."

Paternal Voice Not Heard. This paternal voice, continues the Pope, "was not heard. Thus the war continues with all its horrors."

Another Peace Appeal Comes From Vatican. Pope Calls on Belligerents to Make All Necessary Sacrifices.

HIS VOICE NOT HEARD. He Believes Cry Has, However, Had Echo in Hearts of People.

ROME, via Paris, March 5.—The Pope has again raised his voice for peace. In a special letter, written for the Lenten season, the pontiff says he cannot sit silent, indifferent to the terrible conflict which is rending Europe. He recalls all that he has done to induce the contending nations to lay down their arms, virtually throwing himself between the belligerents and conjuring them in the name of the Almighty to desist in their plan of mutual destruction.

The Pope again sets forth the proposal which he made some months ago as follows: "Each belligerent should clearly state his desires, but should be ready to make necessary sacrifices of pride and particular interests, thus ending the monstrous conflict in accordance with justice and re-establishing peace, advantageous to neither side, but profitable to all, and therefore a just and lasting peace."

Paternal Voice Not Heard. This paternal voice, continues the Pope, "was not heard. Thus the war continues with all its horrors."

Another Peace Appeal Comes From Vatican. Pope Calls on Belligerents to Make All Necessary Sacrifices.

HIS VOICE NOT HEARD. He Believes Cry Has, However, Had Echo in Hearts of People.

ROME, via Paris, March 5.—The Pope has again raised his voice for peace. In a special letter, written for the Lenten season, the pontiff says he cannot sit silent, indifferent to the terrible conflict which is rending Europe. He recalls all that he has done to induce the contending nations to lay down their arms, virtually throwing himself between the belligerents and conjuring them in the name of the Almighty to desist in their plan of mutual destruction.

The Pope again sets forth the proposal which he made some months ago as follows: "Each belligerent should clearly state his desires, but should be ready to make necessary sacrifices of pride and particular interests, thus ending the monstrous conflict in accordance with justice and re-establishing peace, advantageous to neither side, but profitable to all, and therefore a just and lasting peace."

Paternal Voice Not Heard. This paternal voice, continues the Pope, "was not heard. Thus the war continues with all its horrors."

Advertisement for McLaughlin Motor Car Co. Limited. Features an image of a vintage car and text: 'The Car with the Famous Valve-in-Head Motor', 'The Firm that builds it', 'McLAUGHLIN MOTOR CAR CO. LIMITED', 'Twelve Branches Throughout Canada', 'Toronto Branch: Corner Church and Richmond Streets.' Includes a testimonial: 'The McLaughlin Motor Car Co. is the pioneer builder of "Valve-in-Head" Motor Cars in Canada and guarantees that the McLaughlin Valve-in-Head Motor will develop and deliver more power from less gasolene than any other motor of equal size of any make.'

ROTHSAY WAS SUNK BUT CREW WAS SAVED

LONDON, March 5.—Lloyd's reports that the British steamer Rothsay has been sunk. Her crew was saved.

CLEMENCEAU'S PAPER IS UNDER SUPPRESSION

PARIS, March 5, 4.30 p.m.—Hommage Enchaîne, a newspaper edited by Georges Clemenceau, president of the committee on army and foreign relations, has been seized by authorities. No specific reason for the action has been given.

ANOTHER PEACE APPEAL COMES FROM VATICAN

Pope Calls on Belligerents to Make All Necessary Sacrifices. HIS VOICE NOT HEARD. He Believes Cry Has, However, Had Echo in Hearts of People.

"He is Always Telling Others About Them"

Brother and Sister Cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills—News of Cure Too Good to Keep.

In this letter Mrs. Hurley relates how glad she and her brother are to tell how they were cured of indigestion and kidney trouble by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

That is the kind of enthusiasm Dr. Chase's medicines arouse and that is why they are so generally known and their friends and neighbors, and so the word is passed along.

From the letters of Dr. Chase's practice in the Arbor, Mich., the good news of these medicines traveled until they are known the world over and considered indispensable in many thousands of homes.

This is the kind of letters we are receiving daily and there can be no mistaking the enthusiasm expressed here.

Mrs. J. J. Hurley, Upper Hanwell, York Co., N.B., writes: "I suffered from indigestion for two years and tried a great many kinds of medicine, but got no lasting relief until I used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I would take them to all my friends."

THE GREATEST OFFER EVER MADE BY THIS NEWSPAPER TO ITS READERS.

A History of the World for Seven Thousand Years.

A remarkable announcement appears in the advertising columns of this paper today, offering to its readers a History of the World, on terms that make it practically a gift.

The five volumes which constitute the set are printed from brand new plates in clear type, and on excellent paper. The binding is in the most approved style, and will ornament any library.

The publishers of this history have sold many thousands at a price several times the work's cost. In several times the price of the set, the syndicate plan whereby several hundred of the leading newspapers of the country offer the shells for the mere cost of distribution, with no profits added, enables them to make what would appear to be a gift to their readers.

Joseph Nelson, the author, has a world-wide reputation as the author of Larned's History for Ready Reference, a work that is in every library of the land, and which is consulted oftener than any other reference work ever published.

Our generous coupon offer explains the terms upon which the five volumes may be had, and the coupon will be printed daily in this paper.

DESIRE OF ROUMANIA TO FIGHT HUNGARY

Filippesco, Ex-War Minister, Says There is No Hostility Toward Germany.

BUCHAREST, via Berlin, March 5.—"We would fight Germany with regret; Austria with indifference, and Hungary with the keenest satisfaction," said M. Filippesco, leader of the Conservatives and former minister of war, to the correspondent of the Associated Press.

He expressed the opinion that there is no ill-feeling against Germany, and that Austria is disliked solely because it is linked with the Hungarians, who are hated on account of the alleged ill-treatment of the Roumanians living in Transylvania and Banat.

According to the Roumanian press, there are several factors which make for the continued neutrality of the country. These are, first, that the Teutonic sympathizers are better organized than the followers of the entente; and, secondly, the long duration of the war has created public apathy. Another deterrent factor has been the expense of mobilization and the later demobilization of nearly the entire army. The cost of living has also increased, some articles having risen in price more than they have in the central power countries.

ZOE BARNETT at the Alexandra "Nobody Home," at the Alexandra Theatre this week.

Advertisement for Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Text: 'Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I would take them to all my friends. My brother has also used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and they have entirely cured him of lame back and kidney trouble. He is always telling me to take them. Dr. E. L. Brine writes: "I can certify that this statement of Mrs. J. J. Hurley is correct in all details." Chronic indigestion is almost invariably associated with torpid action of the liver, kidneys and bowels, and can never be really cured until these organs are awakened to their normal activity by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. One pill a dose, 25c a box, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.'