WHOLESALE FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Peaches About Steady - Other Fruits Are Unchanged.

Liberal receipts of peaches and all other kinds of fruit featured yesterday's market. While practically all kinds of prices prevailed, the bulk of the peaches sold yesterday were about the same as from that up to 25c, and not very many at the latter price. To be sure, they sold up to 40c but these were not representative of the general market.

There never was a better time for the growers of this city to lay in their supply than right now, assuming they have any surplus of taking them to the States are at a premium, but around every house and in the stores of the city are to be found a quantity of fruit, and this is to be expected as the season is not yet over. To allow of any delay to waste a national loss.

John Bull: "I wish they would stop arguing and let me know what they do want."
