POET'S CORNER.

BEAUTY. BEAUTT. What is heanty ?-alas!-'tis a jowe!-a glass-A bubble-a plaything-a rose-'Tis the snow, dew, or air-'tisso many things rare, That 'tis nothing one well may suppose.

"Tis a jewel, Love's token-glass, easily broken-A hubble that van sheih soon; A plaything that boys cast aside when it cloye; A rose quickly faded and strewn.

Like the air it is felt-like snow it will melt. It refresheth the heart like the dew ; And as nothing can vie with a brilliant blue eye. 'Tis like nothing, sweet lady-but you.

MAN AND WOMAN. Man is the rugged, lofty plue, That frowns on many a wave beat shore; Woman's the slender, graceful vine, Whose couling tendrils round it twine, And deck its rough bark sweetly o'er.

Man is the rock, whose towering crest Nods o'er the mountain's barren side; Woman the soft and mossy vest, That loves to chasp its sterile breast, And wreathe its brown in verdant soil.

Man is the cloud of coming storm,

Man is the cloud of coming storm, Dark as the raven's murky plume. Save where the sun-beam, light and warm, Of woman's soul and woman's form, Gleams brightly o'er the gathering gloom.

Yes, lovely sex, to you 'tis given To rale our hearts with angel sway, Biend with each wor a blissful leaven, Change earth into an embryo heaven, And sweetly smile our cares away.

MISCELLANY.

The following description of the present Em peror of Russia, and the Grand Duke, his son is from the Gazette of Lausanne :-- the Grand Duke Nicholas Poulowitsch, the present Emperor, is high In stature, possessing good symmetry of body.— He has a martial air, and a countenance and ad-dress which indicate much penetration. He is unch devoted to study, and is particularly occupied with the demonstrative and military sciences ; he has even attained in this respect to a considerable degree of knowledge. The art of forti-fication is familiar to him ; and so far as regards Russia, he is profoundly acquainted with every branch of the science applicable to that country.-This Prince, moreover, observes system and re-gularity in all his proceedings, and is perfectly iuformed in the art of accounts, &c. The palace of Anitechoff, which he inhabited up to the time of his accession, was a model of elegance, order and good taste. He is very fond of music, and parti-cularly of the military kind; he has himself some talent in that science, assisted by a skilfnl professor named Stein, he has composed, for the regi-ments of the n.iners and pioneers under his command, the most beautiful military music in Europe. The French Theatre is greatly indebted to the Em-In e French I neatre is greatly indebted to the Em-veror Nicholas, and his spouse the Empress Alex-adrina. He has upheld it against the intrigues of some Russians, who would be exclusionists, and has frequently had Frenchmen to perform at the fetes given at the palace of Anitscoff. He is in the en syment of excellent health, which he cher-lehes he as should have a chernical and the the ishes by an abundance of exercise, which he takes ishes by an abundance of exercise, which he takes in marshalling and reviewing the troops. He is of-ten found at night, amidst the most rigorous cold, going round to the guards, to be assured by his own knowledge that every thing is in order. The Grank duke Nicolewitsch, son to the present Em-peror, is a boy about seven years old, of a most pre-possessing appearance, and of great promise. He has had for the last year a chevalier, who attends him in his exercise and amusements; this gentleman is Major Morder, formerly captain in the regiment of cadets. The young prince frequently walks out, dressed as a colonel of hussars, and salutes, with grace and politeness, such persons as meet him and pay that homage due to his high birth. He speaks Russian, French, English and German.

A fresh imported Irishman, ou his first shooting excursion, shot a bird, and seeing something fall, went to the foot of the tree, where he picked up a frog, (supposing it to be the bird) and put it in his pocket. The frog kept up such a continual kick-
