

POOR DOCUMENT

MC2035

THE EVENING TIMES-STAR, SAINT JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY, MAY 29, 1926

15

POLICE TAKE ALCOHOL FROM MEMBERS' ROOMS

Speaker of Commons Denies Liquor Raids Were Made in Parliament Building; Says Spirits Obtained Legally

OTTAWA, May 28.—"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration," stated Mr. Speaker Lemieux in a report read in the house of commons tonight, respecting the recent removal of liquor from the rooms of certain members.

The Speaker denies that the order under which this action was taken was not for the purpose of conducting a liquor raid. "I may, however," continued the Speaker, "state in a general way that the immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing; and, according to Anson, Page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has exclusive right, to regulate its own internal concerns."

The statement of the Speaker was as follows: "With regard to the complaints arising out of the action of the sergeant-at-arms in taking means to prevent theft in members' rooms, the matter was brought before the Board of Internal Economy this morning."

ACTION IN GOOD FAITH

"After hearing Colonel Bowie's explanation and considering his memorandum, the board was of the opinion that he acted in good faith, his sole object being to protect the property of members. Since the opening of the session, different objects, and sometimes money, have disappeared from desks in the members' rooms. It is a well known fact that there are several keys for each room, some of which are for chair service, secretaries, messengers and pages. A patrol has always been carried out for fire protection and other services, such as heating, light, etc."

ORDER NOT FOR LIQUOR RAID

"The emergency order given by the sergeant-at-arms on May 1 was not, as has been stated, for the purpose of raiding liquor in the rooms. The law allows any one to have liquor in one's possession, provided it is obtained legally or purchased from an authorized vendor."

"It was because of several complaints that the above order was given. Unfortunately, it was not written and the officer to whom it was entrusted, instead of carrying it out himself, with perhaps caution, passed it on to a subordinate who, in turn, gave it to another constable. The men who made the search found, in unlocked desks, several objects besides liquor, which they labelled and took over to the constables' quarters."

"In view of the wrong impression caused by this urgent measure of protection, I have given instruction, after consulting my colleagues of the board of economy, that in future none but the usual patrol will take place and members will have to accept the responsibility for the safeguarding of their personal effects in their desks and filing cabinets."

LIBELLIOUS LIST CURRENT. "A fictitious and libellous list has been current purporting to give the names of the members in whose rooms the effects were found. The Royal Mounted Police has been requested to investigate as to how it originated."

"Action will be taken as soon as the report is received."

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

LLOYD HAMILTON'S LATEST

IMPERIAL TODAY

Speed Story and Comedy Hit

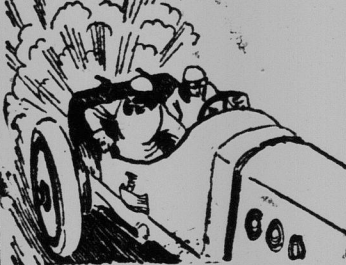

RED HOT TIRES

Monte Blue Patsy Ruth Miller

Fred Emmetton Lincoln Steadman Charles Conklin Tom McGuire William Lowery

Directed by Eric C. Kenton

Screenplay by Edward T. Lowe

LLOYD'S HAMILTON'S Latest Two-Reel Screen

9-Reel Show; 4 Programmes

MONDAY: "Sally, Irene and Mary"

NOTE: Only 1 Mat. (2.30) Beginning on Monday

with the infraction of the Temperance Act.

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

"Undue importance was given to this incident, which, after all, was nothing but a measure of protection unfortunately magnified and aggravated by the circumstances that it seemed connected with the infraction of the Temperance Act."

"Regarding the claim of extraterritoriality as applied to parliament buildings, it is a very big question which requires careful study and consideration. I may, however, state in a general way that immunities, rights and privileges of parliament are of immemorial standing, and according to Anson, page 153, it has always been admitted by the courts that the house has the exclusive right 'to regulate its own internal concerns.'"

IMPERIAL

On Monday We Start Our 2.30 Matinees

Only One Afternoon Show

The Ramping, Rollicking Musical Comedy Success

SALLY IRENE AND MARY

JOAN CRAWFORD SALLY O'NEIL

CONSTANCE BENNETT

Behind the Bright Lights of Broadway!

EDMUND GOULDING'S Production

Written for the screen and directed by EDMUND GOULDING

A Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Picture

MAGAZINE FILMS — PATHE NEWS — AND FUN

The Wonderful Ant. The Harvest Fleet. Colored Scenery.

All the Late News up to the week exclusive to us.

Aesop's Fables. Animated Cartoon. Topics of the Day.

CONCERT ORCHESTRA AND WURLITZER ORGAN

ONLY 3 SHOWS DAILY

One Matinee—2.30 to 4.30

Evening—7.15—8.45

Sumptuous 3-Hour Laugh and Music Show!

JUNE 7-8 A WEEK FROM MONDAY JUNE 7-8

Mail Orders Filled Now || Box Office Thur. June 3

THE DUMBELLS IN CAPT. PLUNKETT'S

THREE BAGS FULL

Springtime Revue of 1926

With AL. PLUNKETT ROSS HAMILTON 'RED' NEWMAN

25 Songs and Dances || 3 Roaring Sketches

Capt. Plunkett's Snappy Jazz Band

EVE. $2, $1.50, $1, 75c. MAT. 50c., 75c., $1

Send Mail Orders Now—Filled Immediately

OPERA HOUSE - Now Playing

Lions Bros. Indoor Circus

All Kinds of Athletic Acts, Clowns and Everything But The Tent — Fun and Thrill Show

MATINEE AND NIGHT

ONE SHOW NIGHT AT 8.15—25c., 35c., 50c.

MATINEE 2.30—15c., 25c. and 35c.

"HIS METHOD IS HIS OWN. HE IS NOT LIKE ANY OTHER SINGER." New York Evening World 29-4-26. The 507th Recital on his world tour to be given in PYTHIAN CASTLE, TUESDAY, 1st JUNE, 8.15 P. M.

Also on Thurs. 3rd, Frid. 4th and Mon. 7th.

"SCOTLAND'S INCOMPARABLE ACTOR-SINGER"

HEUGHAN

"Heughan achieved a great triumph. . . . The hall was filled to overflowing and hundreds of people were turned away. . . . Once more he proved himself a master of song. He thrilled the vast audience and received ovation after ovation." Montreal Daily Star 30-5-26.

He will be assisted by GLADYS SAYER, World-famous pianiste from Brussels Conservatoire

Popular prices. Reserved $1.25, unreserved $1.00, 75c. and 50c. All plus tax. Seat reservations at Phonograph Salon, King Square.

LAST DANCE OF SEASON!

VENETIAN GARDENS

TONIGHT 9 to 12

COME EARLY AND JOIN THE MERRY CROWD

EARLE SPICER

BARITONE

LONDON - PARIS - NEW YORK

Will accept a limited number of Pupils for the Months of June and July.

STUDIO Admiral Beatty Hotel

All Particulars, Terms, etc., to MRS. FRANKLIN J. HODGSON, 184 Princess Street—Telephone Main 1868

FIRST OF THE SEASON

Excursion June 3rd to Crystal Beach

AUSPICES ST. MARY'S BAND

FREE DANCING, GAMES, MUSIC

Band on Boats

Majestic Leaves Indiantown 9.30 A. M.

Majestic Leaves Indiantown 1.30 P. M.

Purdy Leaves Indiantown 6.00 P. M.

Return Tickets, Adults 60c. Children 30c.

Coffee, Sandwiches, Ice Cream and Beer Sold on Grounds

6-29-1

NEXT WED. and THUR. AT THE PALACE

Nothing like it has ever been filmed before! "THE JOHNSTOWN FLOOD" was the most stupendous happening of the last century! The picture is the supreme achievement of the present day!

Aching Corns

Lift Right Off with Fingers—No Pain!

You'll laugh! Lift off hard corns, soft corns, corns between the toes and calluses. No pain or soreness. Seems Magic! Just drop "Freezone" on a tender, touchy corn. Instantly it stops aching; then shortly that old jaw!

Freezone

bothersome corn comes right off. A few cents buys a bottle at any drug store.

Stop cutting corns! Don't risk lock jaw!

MASTER WORKMAN

CUT PLUG SMOKING TOBACCO

Save the "POKER HANDS" that are packed with Master Workman Cut Plug — they are VALUABLE in exchange FOR high-grade PLAYING CARDS

1/2 lb. Vacuum (air-tight) tin

Mail your "Poker Hands" to Imperial Tobacco Company of Canada, Limited, P.O. Box 1380, Montreal, Canada.

If you live in Saint John apply personally at our office, 15 Mill Street. This will save you postage.

Queen Square TODAY

BOB CUSTER IN THE BLOODHOUND

The Life of The North West Mounted Brought Vividly to Your Door

ALSO FOX NEWS COMEDY

MONDAY — TUESDAY

A Great Racing Picture THE MILLION DOLLAR HANDICAP

MATINEE, 2.30—10c., 15c.

EVENING, 7.15, 8.45—25c.

PALACE

MONDAY-TUESDAY

Evening Shows 7.15—9.10

Who was this man who dared not reveal his past? A thrilling problem play, with love's old sweet song ever in the background.

The Unknown

WITH VIRGINIA VALLEY AND PERCY MARMONT

A Great Star

A Splendid Picture

A Famous Story

A Baffling Mystery

A Thrilling Climax

A Feature You Can't Afford to Miss

VERNON COMEDY EXTRA

GONDOLA POINT BUS SERVICE

A second Bus has been obtained for above route, starting at 1 p. m. Saturday, from Imperial Theatre, leaving city EVERY 2 HOURS

SUNDAY SPECIAL—

First trip 7 a. m., and every 2 hours after.

The Fairvale Bus will maintain the regular week day schedule, starting at 7 a. m. and every one a half hour after.

Scared Cat Rescued After 2 Days In Sewer

NEW YORK, May 29.—Employees of the sewer department of Flushing, restored a pet cat to its owner after the fire department and members of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals had passed out of the sewer into which it fell last Monday to escape a dog.

UNIQUE TODAY

"The Set Up"

ALSO COMEDY AND SERIAL

UNIQUE MONDAY

"HIS JAZZ BRIDE"

MARIE PREVOST MATT MOORE

Fervid, extravagant, selfish, unreasonable—but adorable was Gloria, so he married her, in hope that she would settle down. But the gay little wife refused any of the responsibilities of marriage, life was just one party after another.

Also "Adventures of Mazie"

DANCE TONIGHT

Grand Bay Outing Association

GRAND HAY

Members and Friends Invited