YARMOUTH AFTER HARD TIME

IRISH POLICY

Paris, Jan. 30.—In a statement to the Echo de Paris, Eamon De Valera says: "My policy in Ireland is to win full independence, for which we have struggled for years. The republic of Ireland exists. An attempt is being made to substitute for this republican form of government. All my efforts aim to preserve it as it is, without permitting the modifications of anything essential to the constitution. In addition, and it is grand task, we are going to work to get the republic of Ireland recognized by foreign governments."

It was pointed out that in view of the Anglo-Irish pact it would be difficult or impossible for foreign governments to recognize the Irish republic, to which Mr. De Valera replied:

"The pact in question is as yet only a project, not ratified by the people. Until Ireland has decided on this subject, I consider the agreement null and void. In the near future—the date has not yet been fixed—the men and women of Ireland will vote and thus make known their sentiments on the agreement proposed by England. That general election will decide the fate of Ireland."

SHANTUNG STILL A BIG PROBLEM TO BE SOLVED

Washington, Jan. 30.—The Shantung issue still remained the big question of the conference today, although there had been no outward evidence of change in the situation there were indications of increasing pressure being brought to bear for a settlement.

There was a possibility that the Japanese and Chinese would come together later in the day to attempt to clear away the remaining points of disagreement.

Meantime the five powers have been brought one step nearer completion today by the Japanese delegation's receipt of further instructions from Tokyo regarding the Pacific fortifications clause, the one unfinished portion of the treaty.

The Japanese government was said to approve definitely the plan of listing by name the islands to which the agreement against further fortification shall apply but to have made one or two reservations as to the language of the article which will necessitate some further discussion.

Final disposal of one of the few remaining far eastern questions also has been brought nearer today by receipt of approval from Rome by the Italian government of the proposal to prohibit importation of arms and ammunition into China. Although approval of the Netherlands government was still awaited, it was predicted by some of the delegates that the Far Eastern committee might meet before tonight to take action on the arms export resolution.

AFGHANS ARE OUT FOR BUSINESS

OUR HARBINGERS

The patriotic eyes of Thomas R. Dyer of the C. N. R. bulged out when he read this paragraph in a newspaper of Jan. 22:—

"Edwin N. Dyer of Salmon Falls, N. H., sends to the Boston Globe a bunch of pussy-willows as a harbinger of spring."

It was not in the nature of the St. John man to permit any Dyer from New Hampshire to put one over on him. He knows something about harbingers himself. That is why he brought to the Times office this morning a bunch of pussy-willows and also several sprays of moss-wood with bulging.

brought them from Lockwood Park. He waded through some snow to get them, but New Hampshire is buried in snow. In the matter of harbingers St. John is not to be out-classed.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

COMMUNITY CHORUS EXTRA AT IMPERIAL

Fine Programme of Popular Music in Addition to Excellent Griffiths Feature.

The Imperial commences its Midwinter Festival today with David Wark Griffith's tense drama of daughter devotion entitled "The Love Flower".

A dramatic story of a wrongly accused father, a faithful daughter and an unfaithful stem-mother and wife. The story swings from the throbbing heart-beat of a tropical life to the quiet and peace of a tropical life in the Pacific. In this splendid spot the long arm of the law again wrongly seeks the persecuted father and his wonderful daughter (Carol Dempster) and her equally wonderful lover (Richard Barthelmess) thwart the detectives in most sensational and spectacular manner.

In addition to this splendid picture, the St. John Community Chorus of 150 members will give a programme of seven popular numbers between 8:15 and 9 this evening as well as tomorrow and Wednesday evenings. This delightful concert will be an added feature. Just like the Rossie Kiddies appeared in the morning and afternoon, the demand and exhibition of the feature picture will take place, thus closing the programme about 10:15.

The Imperial's prices for the first half of the week, during which the Griffiths picture and the Community Chorus will bring, will be 15c. and 25c. at the matinee, and in the evening 25c. and 35c. The latter half of the week will be at the usual prices. The programmes selected are the most interesting the Keith house has offered in many months.

GET TOGETHER IN FAIRVILLE

A fine example of employment office community spirit may operate to secure things needed for the good of the community has been shown in Fairville, where three churches, Fairville Methodist, St. Columba, Presbyterian, and The Church of the Good Shepherd, Anglican, united in an effort to obtain a social hall and gymnasium for the use of the young people. No place was available for this purpose at first, but an entire floor of the new Orange Hall in Church avenue was obtained yesterday for the purpose of holding gymnastic games and social events. These churches have agreed each to take two nights a week in the hall. There will be a grand opening at which the young people of the churches will put on a programme. The Fairville Baptist church has had its own gymnasium for some time.

THE ROTARY CLUB

At today's Rotary Club luncheon there was a very animated discussion over the question of the employment bureau. A motion to ask the city council to establish such a bureau was carried. A negative and another that the Rotary Club appoint a standing committee to co-operate with any other in the matter was adopted. This action apparently means the closing of the present employment bureau.

Rotarian Terry reported that a Rotary Club is to be organized in New Glasgow and perhaps in Pictou and District. Governor Patterson announced that Summerville will organize a club, having all arrangements completed.

Regret was expressed at the absence and illness of Rotarians Spangler and "Tom" Bennett. Bennett was submitted relative to ladies' night and the minstrel show, and Fine-master MacIver delicately extracted certain sums from refractory members. Rotarians Champolyver and "Tom" were presented with rotary emblems carved in wood by President Spangler for their one hundred per cent meeting recently.

HAD TO ALLOW THE CUSTOMERS IN IN RELAYS

Amdur's Compelled to Close Union Street Store for a Time During Sale—Continues This Week.

Amdur's were compelled to close the door of their store in Union street, Saturday night, from 7:30 to 8:45, in order to give their overworked staff an opportunity to dispose of the huge after-noon crowd who jammed into the building in the morning and afternoon, the demand for bargains was so great.

Throughout Saturday, Amdur's were unable to close the main door at 7:30 to keep it closed until 8:45, thereby permitting of a breathing spell and the serving of impatient prospective buyers waited patiently for the door to open, and when free ingress was again allowed, the rush commenced anew.

The sale on Saturday was a most remarkable indication that the people of this city appreciate an opportunity to exercise economy and at the same time to derive exceptional benefit.

New supplies are arriving for the sale, which will continue this week.

THE FOUR HORSEMEN

The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse, as presented at the Opera House this week, is a picture of compelling interest and tragic power. It was presented yesterday afternoon before a large number of invited guests, and they were taken from the pampas of the Argentine and the tango halls of Buenos Ayres to the art studio and cafes in Paris, the trenches of the Marne, the rain-soaked stretches of No Man's Land, and at last the fields "where poppies blow between the crosses, row on row." Ever and anon as the scene progresses the Four Horsemen gallop past and their screen of battle smoke, and the onlooker is held spellbound by the dramatic developments.

There is infinite variety in the treatment and action of the drama, and social life at its worst as well as at its best is revealed. There is a realism in the scenes which makes the imagination and grips the feelings as few pictures have power to do, and the effect is heightened by the music which harmonizes with each scene. Two vocal solos, one "The Marseillaise" and another "The Crosses, Row on Row," which picture is grimly obvious from the beginning to the tragic end.

TRIBUTE TO THE HELMBORE HEAD

An officer of the steamer Montcalm said this morning that he heard the wireless messages exchanged between the steamer Mod and other ships, but because of the distance and the fact that the Melmore Head started to her assistance, he did not change their course.

He added that Sunday, the day of the rescue, was terrible, and he said that it was a high tribute to the seamanship of Captain Butt that he was able to get so close and to launch a boat in the sea so close and to launch a boat in the sea so close and to launch a boat in the sea so close.
