TRAIN THE MEN.

It is the duty of Canada to get the largest available number of men under military training as soon as possible, in order that all who go to the front may have had some previous drill.

THE WAR NEWS

Today's war news confirms that of yesterday, both in relation to the success of the allies in France and Belgium and that of the Russians in Poland and Galicia.

In the east the Germans, who had expected to enter Warsaw last week, have been driven back with loss, and are being pursued by the Russians.

PROVINCIAL REGIMENTS

Mr. Lloyd George would approve of the organization of a French-Canadian regiment, a Nova Scotia regiment or a New Brunswick regiment.

"I do not care much for the Prussian junker, but in military matters the Prussian military junker is no fool. He knows the importance of territorial acquisitions when he is organizing his army."

In another part of the same speech, dealing with the character of volunteer soldiers, the chancellor said: "Cromwell's Ironsides were most of them quiet farmers and artisans, and had never wielded the sword in their lives, and never contemplated wielding one, and yet after probably less training than Lord Kitchener's new army can get, they were about the finest warriors in Europe of their day."

REV. DR. HERRIDGE

It is the gift of the orator that he can gather up the thoughts that are in the minds of men, half formed, it may be, coordinate them, and give them such eloquent expression in clear and thrilling words that they gather greater force, and make a far more lasting impression upon the minds of all.

oration delivered before the Canadian Club yesterday by Rev. Dr. Herridge will not soon be forgotten by those who listened. There was nothing bombastic or truculent about his references to the war. His address was the serious expression of sane thoughts concerning Canada's duty, as well as Canada's opportunity.

Dr. Herridge very properly dwelt upon the effect of this war in breaking down prejudice. In this country, he said, we are no longer gits or Tories, Catholics or Protestants, French or English; but Canadians united in a great task. If, after the war is over, we can retain some of that feeling, Canada will be a still more desirable country in which to live.

Canadians will be interested in the sentiments expressed in Australia in relation to the war. The Labor Party won in the recent federal elections in Australia, and it is worthy of note that this party gives its enthusiastic support to Britain in the war.

The decision of the British commandant to open the canteen for the Canadian soldiers will not be interpreted as a suggestion that they are in need of what is called "Dutch courage." Perhaps it will have the effect of stimulating recruiting among bilious persons for the next contingent; but we could do very well without that kind of a spur.

Scottish assemblies in St. John will not be quite the same without the presence of Mr. Andrew Malcolm, who for so many years contributed to the pleasure and entertainment of the members. Mr. Malcolm was in the best sense a good citizen. He was especially prominent in connection with Sunday School work, and was a strong advocate of the cause of temperance. His influence was exerted to promote all worthy causes, and of all who came into personal relations with him he was always the same cheery, genial, kindly man.

Accidentally Shot Edward McCoy, the thirteen year old son of Arthur McCoy, of Lower St. Mary's, was accidentally shot yesterday by his brother, Lloyd, aged twelve. The boys were out shooting and the younger one was behind carrying a high power rifle. He tripped and fell and the gun was accidentally discharged, the bullet receiving the bullet in his throat. He died almost instantly.

OWES HER LIFE TO "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Cured Both Stomach Trouble And Headaches

Palmerston, Ont., June 20th, 1913. "I really believe that I owe my life to 'Fruit-a-tives.' Ever since childhood, I have been under the care of physicians and I have been paying doctor's bills. I was so sick and worn out that people on the street often asked me if I thought I could get along without help.

Today, I am feeling fine, and a physician meeting me on the street, noticed my improved appearance and asked the reason. I replied 'I am taking 'Fruit-a-tives.' He said, 'Well, if Fruit-a-tives are making you look so good, go ahead and take them. They are doing more for you than I can.'

MRS. H. S. WILLIAMS. "Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

LIGHTER VEIN. "A lawyer advertised for a boy. A boy duly presented himself, and the lawyer said to him: 'Well, my lad, what qualifications have you for a place in a lawyer's office?'

"I can see—I can lie, sir, the boy answered. 'That man who writes the company prospectus?'

An old Scotch farmer, who had been bespeckled all his life, was about to die. His wife felt it her duty to offer him such consolation as she might, and said, 'Sandy, you are about to go, but I will follow you.'

"I suppose so, Jean," said the old man weakly. "But so far as I am concerned, you needna be in any extraordinary hurry about it."

The little agricultural village had been billed with "Lecture on Keats" for a fortnight. The meeting arrived at length, bringing the lecturer to discourse on the poet. The advertised chairman, taken ill at the last moment, was replaced by a local farmer. This worthy introduced the lecturer and terminated his remarks by saying:—

"And now, my friends, we shall soon all know what I personally have often wondered—what are Keats?'

Nurse Girl—O, ma'am, what shall I do? The twins have fallen down the well! Fond Parent—Dear me! How annoying! The twins have fallen down the well! The last number of the Modern Mother's Magazine, it contains an article on "How to Bring Up Children."

A somewhat choleric gentleman, while waiting for his train, entered a barber's shop to be shaved. The barber was very deliberate in his movements, and the slow manner in which he applied the lather got upon the shaver's nerves. At last his patience gave way and he roared out:—

"Here! for Heaven's sake, hold the brush still and I'll wiggle my head."

Mr. Malcolm was a prominent business man, and took an active interest in many public affairs. He was a native of Balfron, West Lothian, Scotland, and was in his seventy-second year. While he enjoyed the best of health until August, Mr. Malcolm has been confined to the house with stomach trouble since that time. He is survived by his wife, six sons—Andrew Douglas Malcolm, John Smith Malcolm, and Dr. Donald Campbell Malcolm, of St. John; Rev. William Wallace Malcolm, of East St. John; Dr. Robert Bruce Malcolm, of Montreal, and Charles Gordon Malcolm, a student at McGill University—and one daughter, Mrs. S. J. McGowan, of Hampton (N.B.). He is also survived by two brothers, John Malcolm, of Scotland, and James Malcolm, of this city; and two sisters, Mrs. William Campbell, of Lakeside (N.B.), and Mrs. James McMaster, of Balfron (N.B.).

Mr. Malcolm was a member of the session of St. David's church and took an active part in the affairs of the St. Andrew's Society, Clan McKenzie and the New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Sunday School Association. His death will be mourned by a large circle of friends in the community. Only a few months ago his co-workers in the Sunday School Association tendered Mr. Malcolm a complimentary banquet in honor of fifty years of faithful work.

Mr. Malcolm was a good dictionarist and recited with fine effect many poetic tributes to Scottish valour and Scottish character. He was also a keen carter. He was a man of unquestioned integrity and highly respected as a man of the business community.

The death of Mrs. Bridget, widow of John Collins, occurred yesterday at Whitehead, Kings county. She was a daughter of the late John Gilfoyle, formerly of Douglas avenue. Three sons, William of Lambert Lake (Me.), Arthur of Mapleton (Me.), Frank of this city and one daughter, Mrs. Fred Walker, of Everett (Mass.), survive.

Robert Butler, of this city, died yesterday morning, leaving his wife, two sons and one daughter in Providence (R. I.), and two brothers, John and James, in St. John. The funeral will take place today from the residence of his brother James, 211 Sydney street.

Fifty miners trapped in a cave-in in the shafts of a mine near Webb City, Mo., were recently led to safety by a blind track mole. It made its way unhesitatingly over the path, having become accustomed to it by trudging over it unseeing for many years.

THE WAR IN CHURCH

The soldiers' song, "It's a long, long way to Tipperary," was played as a voluntary in Tyler's Green Church, London, on a recent Sunday.

Sermon — Extracts from Lloyd George's speech which had been delivered at the previous evening.

Hymns—Belgian, French, Russian and British National Anthems. Tipperary—"It's a long, long way to Tipperary."

The war has been responsible for a great many curious transformation scenes, but this is surely the most singular of all.

At the same time it is an example in the sinking of party differences, for the vicar, Rev. R. F. Ashley Spencer, is a strong conservative, and Mr. Lloyd George has been anathema to ardent advocates of the other side.

New, Positive Treatment To Remove Hair or Fuzz

(Beauty Notes). Women are fast learning the value of the use of delatone for removing hair or fuzz from face, neck or arms. A paste is made with some powdered delatone and water and spread on the hairy surface. In 2 or 3 minutes it is rubbed off, the skin washed and every bit of hair has disappeared. No failure will result if you are careful to buy genuine delatone.

THE LITTLE LADY TYPIST

She sits beside the clicking key All day to play the harmony Of business on the type machine, While many a duty in between Calls her in flight across the room, With all her rosy cheeks alight.

In spring or summer, winter, fall, Responsive to the utmost call, She fills a place no other can, The friend of business, help of man, The saving grace of mart and mill, The lady typist fills the bill.

A queen, a sovereign, ruling those Who win or lose in business' throes, Alert, awake, alive to chance, She makes the old typewriter dance, And keeps her temper, all the while Spreading on troubled wave her smile.

"Well, why don't ye jump?"
