THAT AWFUL BOY.

Not long ago a nice young man was invited to dine at the home of a young woman and accepted the invitation with pleasure. It was just a family dinner, and everything passed off well when a quite unforseen incident occurred.

They were all discussing the pie, when the young woman's little brother, who had been regarding her closely, suddenly spoke up.

"Gee," he said, "look at Marie tryin' to put on style just 'cause Joe is here. She's eatin' her pie with a fork!"

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., APRIL 12, 1902.

THE EXHIBITION.

It is announced that at a meeting of the local government in Fredericton last evening, it was decided to grant $5,000 for the St. John exhibition. This is good news, and insures the holding of an exhibition in the autumn. The city has already agreed to give the required aid. The decision of the government has not been arrived at a day too soon, as the association will even now be pressed for time to make all arrangements and insure a successful show.

A STAR NEARLY 84 YEARS OLD.

The Star has been permitted to peruse a copy of the St. John Star of the year 1818. It was news to the staff of this ambitious young journal that a Star was published in this city so long ago, but the copy spoke for itself. It was called The Star and New Brunswick Literary, Political and Commercial Intelligencer, and its motto was "Partibus Immoti, Rectum Tantum Petimus." The particular issue in hand was No. 14 of Vol. I., and the date Aug. 18th, 1818. The Star was "published every Tuesday by William Reynolds & Co., at their office, corner of Prince William and Church streets, at 12s. 6d. per annum in town; if forwarded by post or left by carriers, 15s., half in advance."

This pioneer Star was a 4-page ,4-column paper, and the advertisements are the most interesting feature of its contents. Evidently the publishers believed that what we now call "local news" was of no particular interest, for the only local items apart from advertisements and the ship news were the following: "Thursday last being the anniversary of His Royal H. the Prince Regent's Birth, the same was commemorated by a Royal salute from Fort Howe, and a display of Flags by the ports and shipping. His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor gave a sumptuous Dinner, to which the most distinguished personages were invited." "A large supply of West I. Produce has arrived within the last four days, sufficient to load 8 or 10 American coasters.".

The balance of this ancient Star was made up of extracts from Halifax, U. S., Barbados, Antigua and Jamaica papers. The following advertisements from its columns are interesting reading:—

"Runaway:—On the night of Wednesday last, an Indented Apprentice to the Subscriber, named Samuel Young (a black), about 19 years of age. This is to forbid all persons from Harboring, Employing or Concealing him, as in the event they will be prosecuted to the utmost rigour of the Law. Richard Lawton,—at the Falls."

"Province Treasury:—All persons indebted to the Treasury for duties are desired to make payment immediately, the money being wanted for the public service. John Robinson, P. Treasurer."

Imagine Mr. Tweedie having to gather in public revenue in such a fashion.

"For sale by the Subscriber, at 15 per cent. below prime cost, 60 Hair Trunks, adapted for travelling, being from 2 feet 3 in. to 2 feet 7 in. long. Any person desirous of taking the whole may pay for them in timber in the ensuing spring. William Reynolds."

This issue of the Star chronicles the arrival of quite a number of vessels, most of them with cargoes of rum, sugar and molasses. The summary of imports for the week showed 637 puncheons of rum, 21 hhds. and 89 bbls. of sugar, 87 puncheons of molasses, 274 bbls. flour, 29 bbls. bread and 239 bushels corn. Of the rum 115 puncheons was exported. A market report quoted Jamaica rum at 4s. 6d. to 5s. per gallon and "plenty."

Relations with the United States were then as now a subject of discussion. A Merchant, writing to the Star, endorsed the Free Port Act, and declared:—"It will secure to the British navigation the undeniable right of carrying exclusively to the British possessions in the West Indies until the American government will allow the British parliament to be the best judges of their own affairs, and admit them to an equal or restricted space in the colonial carrying trade, upon such principles as they themselves shall think best calculated to subserve their own interests."

A Halifax letter contained the following, also touching relations with the States:—"One of the American vessels now under libel and to be tried in a few days, was detected last year fishing upon the coast, sent into this port, cautioned against a similar trespass, and liberated."

In those days Irish butter in kegs was imported into St. John, and sold for a shilling per pound, and English cheese was the same price.

There were occasional accidents to vessels in the year 1818, for in the shipping news we are told:—"The brig Charlton, unfortunately got ashore on the Foul Ground attempting to go out on Sunday, received some injury, and was obliged to put back for repairs."

Altogether, this ancient copy of the Star, read in the light of today, though it is much smaller than its namesake, which prints these few extracts, is a very interesting publication.

NEW STATION NAMES.

The C. P. R. will signalize the introduction of its summer time table, about June 15th, by a radical and, at first glance, startling change in the names of several stations on its suburban section between St. John and Welsford, as follows:

Fairville and South Bay unchanged.

Stevens—to be called Ac-a-Mac.

Sutton—Ke-te-pec, the abbreviated Indian name for Grand Bay, as is the preceding for South Bay.

French's—Mar-te-non, a modification of the old French seignory at this place.

Hillside—Pan-de-nec, the Indian name for small mountain.

Ingleside—The side of the river fronting on Inglewood Manor granted in 1832 to Moses Perley and named by him from Scott's Rob Roy.

Riverbank—Ononette, the old French name for Brandy Point, just below, which runs far into the waters of the St. John River.

Ballentines—Woo-las-took, the last station close to the shores of the river, and takes the Indian name of the St. John River.

Westfield Beach—Named from its position on the Westfield west shore of the river.

Nases—Pa-mon-keag, the Indian name for river beach.

Lingley—Cab-ito-nec, the Indian name for the Nerepis valley. This is the first station in the valley.

Nerepis—Sagwa—The Nerepis River at this point forming many beautiful scenes by its windings in the valley.

Nerepis—An Indian word of unknown meaning.

Blagdons—Chee-tee-pec, the Indian name for big springs.

Eagle Rock—A bold and picturesque cliff overlooking the valley of the Nerepis.

Bayards—Wee-chook, the Indian name for big mountain, from its situation near Douglas mountain.

Welsford—Named after Major Welsford, a hero of the Crimean war.

The change in the names has been devised by C. B. Foster, D. P. A., after conference with Dr. G. U. Hay, Prof. Ganong and others. The new names are from the French and Millicete.

STRIKE SETTLED.

HALIFAX, N. S., April 11.—The longshoremen's strike was ended tonight. The men accepted the offer from the employers of 20 cents per hour for day work and 25 cents for night work. The men had asked that none but union labor should be employed. The employers declined to accede to this, but under the agreement signed tonight they will not discriminate against anyone for having taken part in the strike or in the future against any employe for being a member of the union. The demand of the men was for 25 cents and 30 cents for day and night work respectively.

One advantage gained by the men is this: That in future they shall be paid for all time in which they are called to work till ordered home, even if there should happen to be some waiting time. This settlement was brought about largely through the intervention of the deputy minister of labor.

PARLIAMENT.

OTTAWA, April 11.—In the house today Hon. Mr. Fisher stated it was proposed to establish four curing stations for cheese, two in Ontario and two in Quebec. George W. Fowler urged that New Brunswick should have one, but without avail.

In the public accounts committee a motion for the accounts for the purchases of locomotives in the last three or four years was opposed by Mr. Blair and Mr. Fielding, and voted down by their supporters. It came out in the enquiry that engines which the I. C. R. discarded as defective were leased to the C. P. R. and are still in use on that line without needing any repairs.

DROWNING ACCIDENT.

(Carleton Sentinel.)

A drowning accident occurred at Plaster Rock on Monday last. A number of men were out in a boat hanging a wire rope from F. H. Hale's mill to a point on the opposite shore; in some unknown way the boat was capsized and all the men were thrown into the water, and a very high freshet, too. Some swam ashore, some got hold of the logs a little below, and, it is said that Mr. Hale performed a very heroic act by going out on two logs pinned together and saved two. It was found later that all the men were safe but one, who was George Trafton, of Foster Cove; his body has not been found. The unfortunate man was married not long ago.

BEALS—On April 10th, Mrs. Beals, aged 84 years, wife of the late Rev. Wesley C. Beals, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Hornbrook, Mt. Middleton, Kings Co., N. B.
Funeral Sunday at 3 p. m.

BRITAIN TOO LENIENT.

A French-Canadian Opinion of The South African War.

In a letter dated from Harrismith, March 2, and addressed to the 'Soliel,' Quartermaster-Sergeant Pierre Lepine, of the South African Light Horse, says: "We do not exactly know where De Wett is at present. The information that we have concerning him leads us to fear for his mind. He has become tactiturn, violent, brutal. He feels the uselessness of a longer resistance; he knows the rage and the curse coming to him on the part of a good majority of the Boer people, and he is on the verge of despair.

"One of the causes of the so long duration of this war is the too great humanity, the too great mansuetude of the British government. I know that in certain quarters, the government and army are charged with brutality and cruelty. That is a shameful calumny. The Boer women and children are not only respected, but also situated in the most healthy localities, fed, clothed and cared for at the expense of the British government. The same applies to the Boer prisoners. They are treated with the greatest gentleness and better fed than the soldiers. More than that, England protects even the negroes. She has established for them refugee camps where they are better fed than they ever were when in servitude with the Boers. Who could have reproached the government if it had left the Boer women and children to wander on the veldt? Rather than see them to die of hunger, the Boers would have surrendered. It does not belong to me to go through history and make comparisons, but seeing the injustice of the German press in particular towards the British army, I cannot help remembering the shameful conduct of the Uhlan in 1870-71, and I see before me the sad spectacle of the French women outraged the children assassinated, and the farm-houses burned down.

"No war, perhaps, will have given rise to so many criticisms, and will have been the cause of so many falsehoods as the Anglo-Boer war."

AN INTERESTING FISH STORY.

Mr. Carleton Sees Smelts Jump Out of the Water at Lake Cobbosseecontee Early in the Morning.

(Bangor Commercial.)

Leroy T. Carleton of Winthrop, chairman of the state fish and game commission, went fishing out to Lake Cobbosseecontee, near Augusta, last Sunday morning early, quite early, and he says that never before had he seen such a spectacle. The hour was 3 o'clock. He had heard that at that hour in the morning smelts are accustomed to go through some strange and wonderful antics. Mr. Carleton went to his cottage, on the west shore of the lake, Saturday night, for the express purpose of watching the smelts the next morning. He was not disappointed.

"I got up at 3 o'clock," said Mr. Carleton to a Kennebec Journal reporter, "but I had to wait awhile before day broke. And when the light came clearer and brighter I saw the sight of a lifetime. I saw great schools of smelts thrash and break in the water and every second or so bunches of them would flap completely out of water, jumping a foot or more into the air and then drop back into the water again. There were thousands upon thousands of them. All around the lake near my cottage you could see them jumping out of the water. I never saw anything like it in my life before.

"The theory is that when the morning dawns the big fish in the lake start out to poach upon the smelts. And the reason why the latter act in the way they do is because the bass, the pickerel or the trout are chasing them and they swim helter, skelter, here and there, in an attempt to escape. In their endeavors to get away from the danger that threatens them they swim right out of the water into the air.

"I watched the curious spectacle until the sun began to rise, when the fish disappeared and the water became as smooth and glassy as a mirror, I wouldn't have missed the sight for a good deal."

MILITARY CONCERT.

The military concert given by the Scots Boys' Brigade in the school room of St. Stephen's church, last evening, was heartily enjoyed by an audience that filled the room to its capacity. The programme consisted of splendidly executed gymnastic and physical drills, bayonet and firing exercises by the brigade, selections by the Exmouth street male quartette, readings by Miss Ina Brown, Rev. Dr. Morison and Rev. W. W. Rainnie, vocal solos by Miss Trueman, Mrs. Freeze, DeWitt Cairns and Harry Dunn, and instrumental music by Frank Likely. Nearly every number was encored. At the close votes of thanks were passed to all who had taken part in the programme, and to Miss Wilson and Miss Hea, whose accompaniments had largely contributed to the beauty of the various solos.

While the readings and music were much enjoyed, the most interesting part of the entertainment was the drill of the Boys' Brigade. They showed great proficiency in marching, physical and military exercises, and reflected great credit upon Capt. Buchanan and the other officers in charge. That the boys and youths enjoyed the exercises themselves was quite apparent. At the close they were massed on the platform and joined heartily in the national anthem.

MURDERER BROKE DOWN.

DETROIT, Mich., April 11.—After 24 hours spent in the Grand River avenue police station, Prof. Joseph M. Miller broke down today and confessed that he murdered Miss Carrie M. Jennett, one of his former pupils, last Wednesday night, with the small hatchet which was found in his kitchen last night with blood stains upon it. This afternoon he waived an examination and was committed to jail without bail. Tomorrow he will be brought into the recorder's court and asked to plead guilty.

It was impossible to induce him to go into details of the butchery. He told of putting the hatchet back in his pocket, of seeing his victim stretched upon the sidewalk, and then of his walking home.

A despatch to the governor general says Trooper James A. Pattison of the South African Constabulary died of enteric fever at Pretoria April 8th. He comes from Toronto.
