The elder Thompson was a respected and wealthy farmer. The son, prior to the desertion of his wife, had borne a good name in the community.

EARLY WEDDINGS TODAY.

FOOTE-MARKHAM.

The marriage of Miss Lillian Markham, daughter of Lieut.-Colonel Markham, to J. J. Foote, maritime manager of the McClary Manufacturing Company, took place this morning at 6.15 o'clock in St. John's (stone) church. The ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. John Desjardis.

The bride was attired in a suit of dark navy blue faced with white satin. Her hat was of shaded blue feathers and she wore a grey ruff. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and maiden hair ferns.

The bridesmaid was Miss Helen Frink. Her dress was of cream serge with a black picture hat and she carried a bouquet of shaded sweet peas.

The groomsmen were Herbert Beresford, of London, Ont., and a number of other guests. The church was beautifully trimmed with flowers, the pulpit being one mass of floral beauty.

Mr. and Mrs. Foote left this morning on a honeymoon trip of several weeks to New England cities. The bride and groom will be in St. John's on their return trip.

POLICE REPORTS.

The police were kept busy last night securing doors left open by careless shopkeepers, etc.

Officer Robert Crawford secured the doors of John Elmore's grocery between the hours of 4 and 5 a.m. while Officer W. J. Sullivan repeated the operation on the door of Geo. Barbour's wholesale grocery, South wharf.

Officer Crawford did not have a hammer out-knocking anybody last evening, nevertheless he found a box of mallets outside W. Bruckhoff's King street door and brought them to the central station.

LITTLEJOHN CHARGED WITH ASSAULT.

Andrew Lane had Dan Littlejohn before the court for assaulting him by "giving me a punch in the eye, you know, on St. Andrews street, Monday night."

Andrew also said that Dan called him some names that would not look well in print. Dan denied everything that Mr. Lane said. The case is being heard this afternoon.

THE DAYLIGHT STORE.

A VETERAN'S CLAIM

Michael Foight Who Fought in the Crimea and the Mutiny is After Lands in Africa.

Michael Foight, a veteran of the Crimea, and having served with and faithfully through the Indian Mutiny, is trying to get possession of a grant of land near East London, Cape Colony, which, from communications received from the war office, and the colonial secretary, it is hardly possible he will ever live to enjoy.

Michael is an old man, a Prussian, and at times it is hard to understand him. However, he tells his broken sentences of his grievances, tales of horror in mutiny times, of the massacres which he witnessed. This old man of war has a good fighting record. On the 28th of Nov., 1855, Foight enlisted for the Crimea in the regiment of the 2nd Rifles. He was attached to the British-German Legion and saw twelve years and ten months of active service with that band of warriors.

Away back in the 90's Mr. Foight set himself in communication with the home office regarding certain property situated in Cape Colony which, he said at that place, "The matter further read: 'There appears to be no doubt that applicant is the person referred to in the register, but the ministers cannot assent to the statement that he is still entitled to the land he claims, as all men who volunteered and left for India were discharged at Port Elizabeth or East London, and such of them as failed to return to the colony surrendered all their rights to promised grants of land.'

This communication was from the prime minister's quarters at Cape Town. In June, 1902, the old veteran had further word from the war office, London, stating that Field Marshal Lord Roberts expressed his regret that in view of the decision of the secretary of state for the colonies it was not possible to assist him in any way.

The last letter the old man had had was from the war office, written in the same strain. It was terse and said: "It is impossible to investigate your claim after the time that has elapsed since the period to which it refers."

So Michael has about given up hope. He worked and fought for his country when he was young, but he is of no use now, and his country does not want to be bothered with such a he.

A BIRD IN COURT.

The S. P. C. A. nearly had a case on their hands against the police magistrate, clerk of the court, Henderson, Sgt. Hipwell, Officer Earle and one Andrew Lane, a gentleman of color.

It seems that the pigeon in some manner during the last two or three days became incarcerated in the ventilators running up and down the police court. A searching party consisting of the above named citizens were hard at work in the morning trying to get the pigeon out of bondage.

It was a hard struggle, but at last Andy Lane rushed breathlessly into court saying, "we've got him, we've got him." Officer Earle landed the pigeon in court, saying, "ain't he a bird."

The magistrate was shown the captive and instantly discharged him.

ACTS LIKE SATAN.

Lewis Morrison himself will positively appear at the Opera House on Monday and Tuesday next, for the last time in the part of Mephisto, supported by a strong company drawn from the best of the "legitimate" school.

Lewis Morrison has appeared in this part of the show many times during the past twenty seasons, and his performance is recognized by the best critics to be a flawless piece of acting, which has gained him international fame.

The beauty of the new scenery, the startling electrical effects and the newly written choral and instrumental music will be welcome features, but the opportunity to witness Lewis Morrison's impersonation of Satan will prove the magnet which will draw strongest in the new production of "Faust," for this gifted actor is the greatest exponent of Mephisto this favored land contains.

SENTENCE DELAYED.

It is said that the attorney general may be consulted as to the finality of the case.

POLICE COURT.

Edward Murphy, what have you to say to being drunk on Dock street?

"I'm guilty, your honor, and sorry for it." So saying Edward took a trip down below to the tomb. The stipend he will be asked to separate himself from in order to replenish the civic treasury will amount to just $4. Its equivalent is ten days in jail.

ESCAPED FROM THE ASYLUM.

Charles Palmer, an insane person, confined in the Provincial Lunatic Asylum, made a successful break for liberty yesterday. He was rounded up at the North End station where Officer Corbett held him until a keeper from the asylum arrived and took him back to that institution.

$511 IN HIS SOCKS.

St. John Police Cleverly Land a Thief Who Had His Swag in a Quaker Hiding Place.

One of the cleverest captures made in St. John for many years was accomplished last evening on the arrival of the C. P. R. from Halifax. Deputy Chief of Police Jenkins and Detective Kilien, acting on advice received from the Halifax police, intercepted a young man, Murray Scott, 18 years of age, from North Sydney, who had almost $500 concealed on his person.

It seems that Scott had been employed as a time keeper with Peter McLean, contractor for the construction of the Halifax and Southwestern railway, extending from Halifax to St. Margaret's Bay. On Monday morning he was given the money to hand over to Eliza Smith, foreman of the works, to pay the workmen. At first he claims he did not intend to keep the money, and later, according to his statement he did pay out a few dollars. His object was to come to St. John. Leaving Halifax on a freight, getting as far as Windsor Junction yesterday morning, he boarded a St. John train for Halifax. Scott got on as far as Moncton, when although word had been sent by the Halifax police, he proved too wily for the Moncton force.

On arrival at St. John it did not take long to place young Scott in custody. It was a quick job, well done. The description the St. John police had was wrong. He gave out that his name was Geo. McLean. He was taken to the police station, his clothing removed and at the last moment Scott admitted his guilt. Concealed in his socks was the stolen money, closely wrapped around his ankle was $511, four of $20 denomination, twenty-three of $10, thirty of $5, sixteen of $2, and seventeen $1 bills. His pockets had $2.75 in silver—the find amounting to $511.75.

Magistrate Ritchie said the matter was not in his jurisdiction and that the prisoner would not be brought before him. It is very likely that an officer will arrive from Halifax today to take the young criminal back to Nova Scotia.
