C. P. R. Extra Train

The Sunday night service to Montreal which the C. P. R. is putting on during the months of July and August will afford convenient accommodation for the C. P. R. officials who summer in New Brunswick.

At St. Andrews, particularly, many Montreal men make their summer homes. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy is one of them. The Sunday night service from this division will allow these men to leave for their villas at the close of Friday's business and return in time for Monday morning. The service will also be an accommodation to a considerable section of the public.

Ottawa Basketball Team

The visit of the Ottawa basketball team, who are anxious to play in St. John, is as yet uncertain. Their expense demands are said by the local teams to be almost prohibitive.

Sometime ago Hayward, formerly captain of the U. N. B. Five, who is now with Ottawa, wrote to the Algonquins asking for a game during the course of a tour which the Capitals are making to New Brunswick. The trip is to include Chatham, Moncton, St. Andrews and the U. N. B. A reply was sent by the Algonquins that they had closed their season and the Portlands have now been asked for a game here. They have sent word that they will play with a reduced guarantee, and a reply from Ottawa is now being awaited.

If the games comes off, it will take place about Easter.

HIGH OFFICIAL PREDICTS GREAT CHANGES RAILWAY SITUATION AT THIS PORT

A surveying party of three from the I. C. R. offices at Moncton was recently in the city to make plans of Courtenay Bay for the Department of Railways and Canals.

It is understood that special attention was given during the course of the survey to the extreme mouth of the bay where the wharves and buildings of the railway terminus which is to be, are almost certain to be located.

Docks on the Foul Ground.

That this will be the location of the terminal wharves and buildings was given as his opinion by a prominent Government official with whom The Standard was in conversation last evening. He thought that the most likely location for these structures was on the foul grounds at the extreme south of the harbor. These would be reached by a track along the west side of Courtenay Bay, which would be used for freight at least, but perhaps also for passengers.

It is believed that the Government has its eye upon the advantages of getting control of a share of the great terminal business which is sure to spring up here. "If you and I live for ten years," said the official referred to, "we will see immense changes in the railway situation in St. John."

The handling of the G. T. P. terminal business by the C. P. R. he went on, "is something which the Government should be slow to consent to. A monopoly of any kind is not in the interests of the city, and I believe that the preliminary steps recently taken by the Railway Department, are taken in realization of this."

"With additional steamer lines coming to this port, and the prospect of great increase in the trade of the existing lines, the additional accommodation which will be necessary will be put upon the east side of the harbor, if the interests of the city are concerned."

Each Boat Would Leave $2000.

Each of the boats which leaves and docks at the West Side would leave from $2000 to $3000 more in the city than it does, if it were docked on the east side. Under present conditions, the passengers are brought directly in over the C. P. R. and put aboard the boats. Few of them ever entering the city proper. The seamen, are kept on board the vessel the night before she sails for fear they will not get back across the harbor. All this additional trade would mean many thousands of dollars more every season for the city if vessels were docked on the east side."

SOCIETY LEAGUE THE SAME; OUTSIDE PLAYERS COMING

That the inter-society baseball league will remain intact was decided at a meeting held in St. Peter's rooms last evening. St. Peter's, the only team which remained undecided, fell into line and the four teams—St. Josephs, St. Peter's, St. John the Baptist, and St. Peter's will be the same as last year. Mr. John Murphy represented St. Peter's and announced their decision. Each of the other teams was represented as at Sunday's meeting.

All Will Strengthen.

Speedier ball is the aim of each of the teams, and they are vying with one another in bringing this about. A number of fast men who have made excellent reputations on outside teams are likely to take up their residence in St. John in the course of their employment, and are more than probable to figure on the local teams.

With the St. John the Baptist will be the two Thomases, of the Y. M. C. C. team, Moncton, and Shorby Trites, of the same aggregation.

St. Josephs are likely to have a new pitcher in Brogan, of Marysville, who will be remembered as the star performer of the Fredericton Tartars in their game against the Marathons here last year. He was remarked upon then as having a very speedy ball and as being clever at all departments of the game. A likely new catcher to wear the purple and white uniform is Melanson, of Moncton.

St. Peter's also have three new men, but their names have not been divulged outside of the club. They hail from Nantucket and have the reputation of being clever leather handlers. This looks in their home district of being very distinctly like "something doing" on the local diamonds this year.

BIBLE SOCIETY MEETING WAS INTERESTING

At the meeting last night of the Carleton branch of the Canadian Bible Society, at Ludlow street United Baptist church, Carleton, addresses were given by Rev. E. B. Hooper and Rev. G. M. Campbell.

Mr. Hooper spoke of the influence the Bible had in history, how it affected the lives of the great men of the world and since to the present day, contrasting the change, moral and the spiritual tone of the ancient Ybrion with the Briton of today, putting particular emphasis on the ethical teaching of Christ. He made a strong appeal to all present in closing, to use their influence and money to spread the teachings of the Bible at home and abroad.

Had Done Good Work.

Rev. G. M. Campbell followed with his address. He began by congratulating the West Side branch of the society for the excellent work they have done during the past year. He drew a contrast between the words vastness and greatness. In the definition of vastness, he said that a nation might be strong numerically, financially and geographically and yet its vastness might run to littleness. A nation is only great in so far as its character is founded on high ideals. The ideals are taught in the Bible and in the life of Christ.

Solos were given by Professor Titus and Miss Baikin. The choir of the church rendered the music. Alderman Baxter presided.

Trouble Over Burial Permit

There was said to be some little trouble yesterday over the granting of a permit for the burial of a lady who died on Monday. The standing of the medical practitioner who attended her is said to have been the cause of the delay. It is expected that the matter will be cleared up today so as to permit of the funeral this afternoon.
