

THE WEATHER.

Maritime—Moderate winds, mostly westerly, fine and warmer. Toronto, Ont., June 19.—During Saturday local thunderstorms occurred in Eastern Ontario and in Manitoba and showers prevailed in Quebec and the Maritime Provinces while today it has been fine and warm throughout the Dominion except in British Columbia where rain has fallen.

New England Forecast.

Washington, June 19.—Forecast: Generally fair and continued warm Monday and Tuesday; light variable winds.

AROUND THE CITY

The Outing Postponed.

Owing to the wet weather, the Y. M. C. A. boys did not hold their usual Saturday outing.

Arrested for Assault.

John Harris was arrested by Sergt. Campbell on Saturday night at the instance of Jacob Carritt, who gave him in charge for assaulting and beating him in his house on Erin street.

Masons Return Home.

The Royal Arch Masons from Chelsea were given a lobster bake by the local chapter Saturday morning. They left on the E. S. Co.'s steamer Calvin Austin for Boston the same evening.

Tascot Not Here Yet.

The wrecking steamer Tascot, which sailed from New Haven on the 16th inst., for St. John, to raise the sunken tug Pejepscot, had not arrived in port late last evening, although she was expected hourly. It is thought possible, however, that she may have called at St. Martins.

The Sunken Tug Leader.

The efforts made Saturday afternoon to raise the tug Leader which sank off Long wharf Thursday evening last, were unsuccessful owing to the tug help being unable to hold up her end of the sunken boat. Diver Lahey will make another effort early this morning to raise the Leader with the aid of two hoisting scows.

Was Not Badly Hurt.

A report circulated yesterday to the effect that Fred Hollman, a C. P. R. employee, well known in the West End, had been seriously injured in a railway accident, near Calgary, is happily unfounded. It was learned that Mr. Hollman had been in an accident of some sort in the west, but that he escaped with nothing worse than a shaking up.

Evidence of Neglect.

Two large stones which in some manner became loosened, and as a result fell from the fall wall on King street east, and which, through apparent neglect, have never been put in place again, were the object of some sarcastic comments from American tourists who chanced to be passing by the fall yesterday. Several citizens, it is said, have also complained at the neglect shown by the city in not making the necessary repairs.

A Presentation.

Members of the staff of the Unique Theatre on Saturday, made a presentation to D. H. McDonald, manager of the Yarmouth Opera House, which is under lease to F. G. Spencer, of this city. Mr. McDonald, was in the city on his wedding trip and on Saturday afternoon several of his friends on the Unique staff, took occasion to tell him just what sort of white man they thought him and to wish him a happy wedding life. Stephen Clarke, on behalf of the staff, presented Mr. McDonald with a vacuum cleaner.

Where is the Trophy?

Having been told once more by another D. O. C. that they were the best drilled cadet corp that had ever been seen, the St. Stephen's Cadet Corp are wondering why they do not receive the silver cup promised to the most efficient cadet corp in the city by the governor general on his visit to St. John and inspection of the corp three years ago. On that occasion Earl Grey promised to send through the Lt. Governor of New Brunswick a cup to be awarded to the best cadet company in St. John. Since and before that time succeeding D.O.C.'s have complimented and praised St. Stephen corp and promised trophies which have not yet arrived.

SIR THOMAS MAKES A VEILED PROMISE

C. P. R. Head Intimates That St. John Will Get "Something Else" When Empresses Cut Port Out.

Returning to Montreal after his inspection trip over the D. A. R. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the C. P. R., passed through the city on Saturday evening about 10 o'clock in reply to a question by a Standard reporter, Sir Thomas said he had made a hurried run over the D. A. R. and the general result was satisfactory beyond that, there was nothing to be said.

It was pointed out to the president that it was currently reported that the Empress steamers would not call at St. John next season, and he was asked if he would make any definite statement.

"It is not yet finally decided," was his reply. "It is a hazardous trip from Halifax round to St. John and a waste of twelve hours. If we could come direct to St. John without having to call at Halifax it would be another matter."

It was suggested to Sir Thomas that the loss of the Empresses would be regarded as a blow to the port for which there was no compensation.

"Well," he replied, "I think you will get something else."

Before this subject could be pursued Sir Thomas was on his private car and the special was on the move. So the "something else" St. John is to receive must for the present remain a mystery.

Mr. John S. DeMille left on Saturday for a three days' fishing trip at Bonny River.

TRAGIC DEATH OF A WEST END MAN

George W. Campbell Killed by Train in Calgary Railway Yard—Body Will be Brought Home.

George W. Campbell, a popular West End young man, met a tragic death in Calgary on Wednesday last, being killed while at work as a brakeman in the employ of the C.P.R. His father, George Campbell, steward of St. John street, West End, received a telegram yesterday telling of his sad end. Young Campbell was working on a train which had just been made up in the Calgary yard. He attempted to ride a car down the yard and this was the last seen of him until his body was found on the rails after the train had run over him. Although there is no definite news as to how he was killed it is supposed that he was using a stick in the brake and the stick either broke or slipped and he was thrown under the wheels of the train. His body left Calgary yesterday for this city, where the funeral will be held. Another West End man named Pike is bringing the body home.

George W. Campbell was especially well known around the West end. During the winter he was employed by the C.P.R. as a brakeman and went west on May 2nd, locating in Calgary, where he was employed. At the same time two other West End men who were his associates went to the west and all found employment with the C.P.R. in Calgary.

The deceased young man was about 25 years of age and unmarried. He is survived by his father and mother, three brothers, Wilfred at Port Arthur and Lester and Clarence at home, and two sisters, Mrs. Fred Stanley of West End and Miss Maude at home. He had a large number of friends by whom his death will be heard of with sincere regret.

SAW THE CRASH IN HERALD BUILDING

Ald. R. W. Wigmore Was an Eye-Witness of the Awful Disaster in Montreal Paper Office.

Alderman R. W. Wigmore was one of the St. John men who was at the Montreal Herald building at the time of the collapse of the water tank, which was followed by such a terrible holocaust.

He was in Montreal at the time, in attendance at the meetings of the High Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters, in company with Dr. G. G. Melvin and R. Wills of this city. Mr. Wigmore's business in the vicinity of the Herald building just about the time of the crash and he was in front of the building when the fire department arrived.

The scene he describes as an awful one. Men and girls were carried out of the building and each survivor told of friends left in the debris. The survivors bore in their appearance, eloquent testimony to the awful ordeal through which they had passed. Some were cut, bruised and bleeding and had their faces smeared with lime and dirt. The alderman says the sight was the most painful he ever witnessed.

Entertained by City. The meeting of the high court was largely attended and they were entertained in capital style by the Montreal city corporation and also by the subordinate courts of Montreal. The brother members of the order entertained the high court members to a car ride, when the points of interest around the city were visited and the corporation of Montreal gave them a cab drive and a luncheon on the summit of Mount Royal. Both were most enjoyable affairs.

"The city of Montreal," said Ald. Wigmore, "gets much valuable advertising through this entertainment of conventions and other large bodies meeting there. A fund has been provided for this purpose and from past results it has been shown that any money spent in this way is well invested, for the visitors, who have been entertained, return to their homes filled with the beauties of Canada's largest city and pleased with the hospitality shown. As a natural result they tell their friends about it and there is an increased desire to see Montreal in quarters where there might not be any such wish under other circumstances."

Ald. Wigmore returned yesterday, the other local men coming on Saturday.

FATE OF ST. JOHN NOT SETTLED YET

No One Knows Whether or Not City Was Captured in Saturday's Sham Battle, but 'Twas a Wet Business.

A great battle was fought in the rain on the outskirts of the city Saturday afternoon, when five companies of the 62nd Regiment, under the command of Major Frost made an attack upon the city, which was defended by Major Perley and A. G. and H. companies of the same regiment. But whether the city fell into the hands of the enemy, or the attack was repulsed, nobody knows except the umpires, and they had not decided the fate of the city at a late hour last night.

Major Perley and his three companies held a strong position just beyond the ice house near Lily lake their lines extending from the lake to the Sand Point road. Major Frost, who had under his command B., C., D. and F. companies, advanced to the attack in a pour-

"DETECTIVE NO. 44" HEARD FROM AGAIN?

Advertisement in Boston Papers Recalls Adventures of Once Popular Young Man Who Suddenly Left St. John.

Private Detective—Information for private or court use secured in any part of the United States and Canada. For particulars phone 2114. Detective, No. 44.

The above advertisement which recently appeared in several of the Boston papers is of particular and peculiar interest to a number of St. John people, by reason of the fact that it is identical with a similar ad which appeared in the columns of the local papers during the winter of the past winter, which brought responses from many persons, who evidently thought they were in need of the services of a sleuth.

The story of "Detective No. 44," whose private name was Fisher, and who was also sometimes known as Thomas, and of his workings in his chosen profession in St. John, is of a picturesque nature. Fisher, or Thomas, blew into the city last winter. Where he actually came from no one ever knew. He claimed to be a native of Nova Scotia and said that he had served in the United States secret service department for many years, in the course of which he claimed to have made many trips to St. John in his official capacity.

Shortly after arriving here he secured rooms in Elliott Row, opened a small office, had telephones installed, advertised as a private detective and for some time apparently, did a land office business. He was said to have been employed on an important case by one of the largest business houses in the city, as well as on other minor cases, when suddenly he disappeared as mysteriously as he had arrived, and it is said he took with him much "expense" money advanced by the persons by whom he was employed.

Besides being a chaser of criminals, he was also a master teacher of the art of tripping the light fantastic, and was popular in social circles as the "professor." The dancing master detective had a large clientele, among whom were some society folk, and his rooms, which were on King street, became a popular resort for lovers of dancing.

He extended his field of operations to Hampton, where he rented the Orange hall for the purpose of conducting his class. Over a dozen pupils in the Kings county town handed out $5 in advance, as payment for a certain number of lessons, but unfortunately for them, the genial professor detective suddenly departed, after giving but one lesson. Where he went after that time it was impossible to discover, although several persons about the city were anxious to find him.

Possibly the advertisement in the Boston papers may throw some light on the present whereabouts of the erstwhile resident of this city.

COLLEGE BOYS AT LAKE UTOPIA CAMP

Paul Brine of New York in the City With His Colony En Route to Annual Summer Camp.

Paul Brine and a party of young college boys, arrived in the city Saturday, and will leave today for Utopia Lake, near St. George, where they will pass the summer. Two members of the party are young Peruvians who are going to school in New York.

In conversation with a reporter Mr. Brine stated that practically all of the party that spent last summer with him at Lake Utopia would join the colony this summer, and that many of them would bring friends with them. Another party of forty young men, including several graduates of the New York University, will join the colony about July 1 and other parties are expected later on.

"Lake Utopia is an ideal place for a summer outing," added Mr. Brine, "and I expect the summer colony there will grow larger every year. All hands will sleep in tents, though we have a club house in which they can bunk if they feel like it. We will have the chef of the New York University and his wife with us this summer, and we intend to advertise in the table. The boys will organize a baseball team and we hope to arrange some matches with local teams, and probably with some of the St. John clubs. On their way home the boys will take in the sights at the big fair here."

While the main body of the attacking company engaged the centre of the defenders, one company deployed around the western end of the lake, and it is claimed, succeeded in making the defendant's position untenable.

When the umpires called a truce the attacking party had succeeded in advancing within a distance of the defenders position that made firing even with blank cartridges somewhat dangerous.

In spite of the weather there was a good turnout, and both the commanders were much pleased with the spirit of enthusiasm shown by the men in the battle.

In order to distinguish friends from foes the men on the defence discarded their tunics, but they got no wetter than the besiegers, for all were thoroughly soaked. Each body was accompanied by stretcher bearers, but nobody was killed.

Col. McAvety was umpire-in-chief, and Adjutant Miller assistant umpire. It is understood they will give their decision after receiving the reports of Major Frost and Major Perley.

Smoking is allowed in White's upper dining room at all times.

Police Sergeant Baxter commenced his ten days vacation Saturday evening. He expects to pay a visit to his brother in Providence, R. I.

In City or Country Every Bedroom Should Contain A Rowe Lavatory. Formerly a wash basin with running water frequently required expensive plumber's repairs. Many houses and summer cottages have no plumbing. In those houses which have running water it is nearly always found in the bath-room. Sleeping rooms, where running water is so necessary, are not provided with pipes. Offices also are generally without facilities for running water, and likewise hotel bedrooms in even the most modern hotels. FRESH RUNNING WATER IN EVERY ROOM. In all these places the ROWE HYGIENIC WASH BASIN answers every requirement. It is cheaper than the wash stand with its accessories. It looks much better. Takes up less space. It procures all the comfort of a wash in running water without the expense of a plumber. HOW YOU USE IT. You will notice that the tank holding the fresh water is behind the mirror. Its capacity is five gallons, and it is easily filled. When you wish to use the Lavatory, press the faucet and draw as much water as you please. As it is a spring faucet there is no danger of the water being left running. NOTHING TO BREAK, NOTHING TO RUST, NOTHING TO GET OUT OF ORDER, EASILY CLEANED, ABSOLUTELY SANITARY. CANNOT SLOP OVER, TAKES LITTLE ROOM, GOES IN ANY PART OF THE ROOM QUICKLY AND EASILY SET UP, AND, LASTLY, IT REQUIRES NO PLUMBING. PRICE $18.00 (Furniture Dept.—Market Square.)
