

BOMBARDMENT STOPPED.

NOT A SHOT WAS FIRED AT LADYSMITH ON SUNDAY.

Dutch in the North of Cape Colony Reported to be Active—Monte Zuma and Laurentain will Sail Together on January 20th.

RESEMBLING QUEEN SENDAK.

London, Jan. 10.—A despatch to the Daily Chronicle dated at Cape Town, says: "There has been no bombardment of Ladysmith today, nor any shelling at Kimberley by the Boers."

The Daily Mail has the following despatch dated Sunday, Jan. 7, from Cape Town: "Dutch troops are now reinforced by 1,000 rebels, thus releasing the Orange Free State troops for service elsewhere."

THE SEIZURE CONTROVERSY.

London, Jan. 9.—There is some reason to believe that the United States and German embassies are trying to find a common basis on which they can cooperate in pressing their respective demands against Great Britain for the Delagoa Bay seizures. A high official of the German embassy had a long conference today at the American embassy, and the diplomats are believed to have discussed the steps each country has already taken and the best future procedure. At the same time there is every indication that Great Britain is showing the most friendly consideration of the representations of both ambassadors, and that the present difficulties will be settled in the most amicable manner.

The status of the Bundesrat is not yet fully settled, but Germany's representatives believe Great Britain will give satisfaction for any delay to a legitimate cargo.

Both the United States and German embassies are now anxious to obtain a British declaration in regard to the treatment of neutral ships hereafter, and it is believed they exchanged views on the subject.

Steamers in the Prize Court.

Durban, Jan. 9.—The seized German steamer Herzog has been handed over to the prize court. The Portuguese governor of Zambezi was among her passengers. The British naval authorities have offered him a ship to carry him to Delagoa Bay. The steamer Bundesrat is discharging.

CONSUL MACROM'S REPORT.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Mail advices are just coming to hand from United States Consul Macrom, explaining in detail the situation at Pretoria at the outbreak of the war and his own conduct respecting the representation of British interests in the Transvaal. It appears from these advices that Mr. Macrom, like his successor at Pretoria, Mr. Hollis, was placed under a technical limitation in the exercise of his functions by the Boer government, and while he was permitted to disburse the funds sent him by the British government for the British prisoners in Pretoria, he did so under the distinct stipulation that he was acting unofficially. Possibly the motive of the Boer government in refusing to allow the American consul to act as an official, was a desire on its part to force the British government into some official recognition of the status of the South African republics. If so, the effort failed and Mr. Macrom and his successor, Mr. Hollis, have gone on in their work of mercy without molestation from the Boer government. This object being secured and there being little else in the nature of business touching British interests in Pretoria, that required the attention of a representative of that government, the state department here is disposed to allow the situation to drift along without change of protest because the Boer government has not seen fit to allow the American consul to act in an official manner. There is nothing in Mr. Macrom's report to throw the faintest light upon his inapplicable action in leaving his post in the middle of the war.

UNITED STATES ACTING ALONE.

Washington, Jan. 9.—It is stated here on authority that the United States government is not co-operating with Germany or any other government in representing the British government respecting the seizure of goods detained for Portuguese East Africa. Moreover, our government does not contemplate any such co-operation. The differences between the cases of the seized German vessels and the seizure of American goods—the latter in British vessels—is so pronounced that the same principles would have no application. So it is the determination of the department to conduct its negotiations on this point single-handed, and that is now being done. Mr. Choate, American ambassador at London, is in daily communication with the Foreign office, as well as with the department of state, on this subject. The negotiations are now in that phase where both sides are endeavoring to develop facts respecting the seizures, and the final answer of the British government to our representations made last week, is not expected for several days.

THE GENERAL RELEASED.

Aden, Jan. 9.—The Imperial German mail steamer General, detained here by the British authorities since January 4, on suspicion of having contraband of war on board, has been released. After her cargo had been examined, it was found that she only had a few chemicals and a dress on board. Nothing else was disclosed.

MOUNTED POLICE OFFICERS. Regina, Ass., Jan. 9.—The following is the roll of officers of the second battalion Canadian Mounted Rifles, going from the Northwest Territories, with respect to the appointments which the officers have been appointed: Regimental staff, commander, Lt. Col. Herchmer; second in command, Lt. Col. M. P. for North Longford, speaking at Longford on Sunday last, referred to the threat made of the invasion of the United States, and he declared that did he believe the threat serious he would have been in Longford, but would have been in the States to defend his fellow citizens against invasion by "My fellow home rulers."

LYNN A. O. H. FOR THE BOERS. Lynn, Mass., Jan. 9.—At a mass meeting of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, held in A. O. H. hall tonight, resolutions were adopted in favor of the Boers and England was denounced as an oppressor of human liberty. There are seven divisions of the A. O. H. in this city and all were represented, there being fully 700 present.

THE HELIOGRAPH DESCRIBED. How General White Flashes Despatches to Cape Town. General Buller Twenty Miles Away.

The heliograph, which is being put to such effective use in South Africa by both British and Boer, is a modern adaptation of one of the oldest forms of signalling apparatus known to military science. It is a simple, rugged, and reliable device, consisting of a mirror mounted on a tripod and hung on both horizontal and vertical axes and adjusting screws admitting of minute changes of plane. With this mirror the sun's rays are flashed for miles, directed by painstaking adjustments into the field of vision of a receiving telescope, also tripod mounted. The code is similar to that used in electric telegraphy. Flashes, long or short, represent dots and dashes, and the Morse or any other code including cipher, can be readily used. The heliograph has been called the trump card of visual signalling, for it possesses the four cardinal virtues—portability, rapidity, range and secrecy. The heliograph is extremely portable, weighing with its stand no more than a soldier's rifle. It possesses a curious virtue of secrecy, because to people standing even at a very short distance from the point on which its rays are directed its signals are invisible. But this fact will show how useful it is to have the sun reflected from the distant station; and to insure this the heliograph has to follow the sun as it travels through the sky. The two screws mentioned, one giving a vertical movement and the other a horizontal movement, the mirror, about its centre, effect this, and the screws can be manipulated by the signaler while in the act of sending his message. The heliograph is a most valuable and reliable instrument, and it is therefore admirably useful in South Africa. In the 1858-59 campaign a heliograph signal service extended north-along the River to Molopoole—a distance of 420 miles. One of the great virtues of the heliograph is its ability to pierce haze. Col. Keyser, who was, in 1880, with the besieged garrison at Kaniadhar, reported that he opened communication with the advanced guard of the relieving force under Sir F. Roberts, at a distance of 48 miles, and communications were kept up for several hours on a hazy day.

Heliographing 420 miles, as stated above, implies a system of repeating stations, which is the curvature of the earth in such a distance makes it improbable that stations sufficiently high could be secured. In this connection the longest distance covered, of which we have record, was a message sent in 1877 from Mt. Wilson in California to Black Jack Mountain in the island of Santa Catalina, 75 miles away. This message was sent with ease, and there was nothing in the account of it to suggest that the limits of the heliograph's range had been reached in this experiment. Searchlight signals by night are the best method of repeating stations, in principle, with the disadvantages of less portability of instruments, less range and less secrecy.

FISHERMEN DROWNED. Three Nova Scotians Were Among a Crew Which Was Lost off Liscomb.

Gloucester, Mass., Jan. 9.—Louis Pommett, of White, George Lewis and Burns Moody, four of the crew of the fishing schooner Edith S. Walen, of this port, found water graves off the Nova Scotia coast on New Year's day. The intelligence was brought to port today by the schooner S. P. Willard, Captain Rankin, and by the steamer N. S. Moody, Allen, both of which craft arrived today from the fishing grounds off Liscomb, N. S., where the accident occurred.

Royal Military College, Canada: Corporal H. B. R. Craig, gentleman; Cadet E. C. Keefer.

DELAGOA BAY.

ENGLAND WILL GET THE ONLY GOOD HARBOR IN EAST AFRICA.

And Germany will take Portugal's other Colonial Possessions when the proper time comes—Japan's Threatening Attitude toward Russia keeping her quiet.

New York, Jan. 6.—The New York Evening Post prints an interesting letter from its London correspondent on the Delagoa Bay question. The correspondent says: "No responsible person talks now of European intervention in the Anglo-Boer war, but the embarrassing condition of man public opinion being expressed by the outbreak of war have forced his hand. In Berlin, Delagoa Bay, indeed, has become the key of the European peace, and, ridiculous as it might seem, the assertion may be made, that the peace of Europe hangs on the Delagoa Bay question.
