Alerts played their best fielding game of the season, having but three errors, but each one cost a run. Four of the eight hits made by the visitors were doubles. The fielding feature was a throw from left by Towse to first completing a double lay a feat which he also accomplished last Friday. Neither team scored in the first three innings. In the fourth the visitors made three, sufficient to win the game. Put-nam opened the inning with a grounder to Whelly who failed to throw out his man. Dolan drew a base on balls and Davis and Webber followed with two-base hits between Burns and the foul flags. Not an Alert player reached second base until the seventh-always the fatal in-ning for one team or the other. In the Alerts played their best fielding game of the season, having but three errors, but each one cost a run. Four of the eight hits made by the visitors were doubles.

tended for the reason that the home team never made a bid for victory. While in St. John Coach Magill and his players made a host of friends. The col-legians are a gentlemanly lot whose de-portment on the field is elevating. Speaking after the game Coach Magill said most of the St. John boys were good players with especially good eyes for hit-ting the ball, but their swinging style was wrong. He said the snap movement just wrong. He said the snap movement just meeting the ball was now adopted by the base ball generals.
