For the Little Folks.

Johnny-cake

Once upon a time there was an old man, and an old woman, and a little boy. One morning the old woman made a Johnny-cake, and put it in the oven to bake. "You watch the Johnny-cake while your father and I go out to work in the garden." So the old man and the old woman went out and began to hoe potatoes, and left the little boy to tend the oven. But he didn't watch it all the time, and all of a sudden he heard a noise, and he looked up and the oven door popped open, and out of the oven jumped Johnnycake, and went rolling along end over end toward the open door of the house. The little boy rin to shut the door, but Johnny-cake was too quick for him and rolled through the door, down the steps, and out into the road long before the little boy could catch him. The little boy ran after him as fast as he could clip it, crying to his father and mother, who heard the uproar, and threw down their hoes and gave chase too. But Johnnycake outran all three a long way, and was soon out of sight, while they had to sit down, all out of breath, on a bank to rest.

On went Johnny-cake, and by and by he came to two well-diggers who looked up from their work and called out:
"Where ye going, Johnny-cake?"
He said: "I've outrun an old man, and an old woman, and a little boy, and I can outrun you too-o-o!"

"Ye can, can ye? We'll see about that!" said they: and they threw down their picks and ran after him, but couldn't catch up with him, and soon they had to sit down by the roadside to rest.

On ran Johnny-cake and by and by he came to two ditch-diggers who were digging a ditch. "Where ye going, digging a ditch. "Where ye going, Johnny-cake?" said they. He said "I've outrun an old man, and an old woman, and a little boy, and two well-diggers, and I can outrun you too-o-o !"

"Ye can, can ye? we'll see about that !" said they: and they threw down their spades, and ran after him too. But Johnny-cake soon outstripped them also, and seeing they could never catch him, they gave up the chase and sat down to

On went Johnny-cake, and by and by he came to a bear. The bear said: "Where are ye going, Johnny-cake?"

He said: "I've outrun an old man, and an old woman, and a little boy, and two well-diggers, and two ditch-diggers, and I can outrun you too-o-o!"

"Ye can, can ye?" growled the bear, "we'll see about that!" and trotted as fast as his legs could carry him after Johnny-cake, who never stopped to look behind him. Before long the bear was left so far behind that he saw he might as well give up the hunt first as last, so he stretched himself out by the roadside to

On went Johnny-cake, and by and by he came to a wolf. The wolf said: "Where ye going Johnny-cake?"

THIS MAN MEANS WHAT HE SAYS

He Says Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Cure Stomach Troubles and Gives his Reason for Saying so.

"Yes, I mean what I say about Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets," says Henry A. Coles, of St. Mary's River, Guysboro Co., N. S., in a recent interview. "I had stomach trouble for about five years. It got so bad I was taken to my bed and the doctor was called in. He couldn't reach the trouble however and I was suffering very bad, and not knowing what to do when my wife said, 'Let us try Dodd's Dypepsia Tablets.'

"Well, we tried them, and the result was that I used seven boxes and the stomach trouble left and has not troubled me since. Do you wonder I recommend Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets?"

If you can't digest your food don't worry. Get a box or two of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and they will do it

"Ye can, can ye?" snarled the wolf, we'll see about that!" And he set into a gallop after Johnny-cake, who went on and on so fast that the wolf too saw there was no hope of overtaking him, and he too lay down to rest.

On went Johnny-cake, and by and by he came to a fox that lay quietly in a corner of the fence. The fox called out n a sharp voice, but without getting up:

Where ye going, Johnny-cake?"
He said: "I've outrun an old man, and an old woman, and a little boy, and two well-diggers, and two ditch-diggers, a bear, and a wolf, and I can outrun you too-o-o!"

The fox said: "I can't quite hear you, Johnny-cake, won't you come a little closer?" turning his head a little to one side.

Johnny-cake stopped his race for the first time, and went a little closer, and called out in a very loud voice: "I've outrun an old man, and an old woman, and a little boy, and two well-diggers, and two ditch-diggers, and a bear, and a wolf, and I can outrun you too-o-o!"

"Can't quite hear you; won't you come a little closer?" said the fox in a feeble voice, as he stretched out his neck toward Johnny-cake, and put one paw behind his

"You can, can you?" yelped the fox, and he snapped up the Johnny-cake in his sharp teeth in the twinkling of an eye.

The Fox as Herdsboy.

There was once upon a time a woman, who went out to look for a herdsboy, and so she met a bear.

"Where are you going?" said the bear. "Oh, I'm looking for a herdsboy," answered the woman.

"Won't you take me?" asked the bear. "Well, if you only knew how to call the flock," said the wife. "Ho-y!"

shouted the bear.
"No, I won't have you!" said the woman when she heard this, and went on

When she had gone on a while she met

"Where are you going?" said the wolf. "I am looking for a herdsboy," said the woman.

"Won't you take me?" said the wolf. "Well, if you only knew how to call the flock," said the woman. "U-g-h!" howled the wolf.

"No, I won't have you," said the woman.

When she had gone a bit further she met a fox. "Where are you going?" said the fox. "Oh, I'm looking for a herdsboy," said the woman. "Won't you take me?" asked the fox.

"Well, if you only knew how to call the flock,', said the woman. "Dil-dal-holom!" called the fox in a thin squeaky voice. "Yes, I'll take you for a herdsboy," said the woman; and so she put the fox to look after her flocks. On the first day he ate up all the goats belonging to the woman; the second day he finished all her sheep, and the third day he ate all the cows

When he came home in the evening the woman asked what he had done with all the flocks.

"The skulls are in the brook and the bones in the wood," said the fox.

The woman was busy churning, but she thought she might as well go and look for her flocks. While she was away the fox slipped into the churn and ate all the cream. When the woman came back and saw this she became so angry that she took a small clot of cream, which was left, and threw it after the fox, splashing the end of his tail with it, and that's the reason why the fox has a white tip to his tail!

A baked custard is easily made to look more attractive, by topping it with whipped cream, bits of sweet jelly or finely chopped nuts.

Something New Under the Sun; the World Do Move. A Perfect. Clean and Natural Shave Without a Razor.

The Angelus Hair Remover is a local application, which removes the hair from the face of mankind as the tropical sun would icicles; yet without the slightest injury to the skin, and which discovery is the result of a lifetime's scientific research and experimentation by the great French savant, Prof. Jean Roger Gauthier, of Paris. For not until now has there been a prescription of the kind, which successfully removes the coarsest hair from the tenderest skin, without any injurious effect. Thus the Angelus Hair Remover marks a new era in the 20th century, for the man who appreciates a means whereby he is enabled to save valuable time, trouble, annoyance, and useless expense; as it sounds the doom of the razor, and which will shortly become as obsolete in the annals of hygiene, as has become the battle axe to modern warfare—and like the latter will become but a relic of the barbaric ages gone by. The Angelus should be in the hands of every progressive man. whose time to shave himself is limited, including all those who are tired of being next to have their faces marred, mauled and mutilated; to say nothing of the constant danger of contracting infectious disease as barbers itch, ring-worm, or worse still. Therefore, the Angelus is an absolutely indispensable article to everyone who values a daily clean shave, which takes but 2 minutes and costs just 2 cents; and for the purpose of quickly introducing same to every shaver in this country we grant a further allowance of 33% on the first package, for trial and advertising purposes, thus giving you a full $3.00 package, enough for 150 shaves, for $2.00. Ladies troubled with superflous hair will find the Angelus an ideal remedy and as superior to all depilatories now on the market as the electric light is to the candle; and far more reliable and convenient than the torture inflicting needle. Address Lady Manager in full confidence. Agents, male and female, desiring to earn $25.00 to $50.00 per week selling the Angelus, should have personally used at least one apackage to render them enthusiastic and successful agents. Do it now. Address Dept. 931.
