

It's Open

by Greg Neiman

Tuck Shop II, the official name of the newly-opened restaurant in HUB, ratified at Council's meeting last Monday, has won Ms. Louise Dowshaya $50 for her entry of that name.

The committee struck to supervise the name contest considered over 150 names ranging from the agonizing "Slurp 'n Burp" to other such promising ones like "Inn under Glass."

The lousy ones were quickly weeded out, leaving the remaining 6 probably entries including HUB Pub, HUB Cap, Hooch Owl, and Varsity Cat for serious consideration.

Tuck Shop II, says the committee, is the combination of campus tradition and modern aesthetics.

Years back, on the same spot where Tuck Shop II now stands, stood the original Tuck Shop, a favorite hangout of students at the U of A of yesteryear.

The place gained a reputation for good food at reasonable prices, as well as a nice place to hang around and talk over coffee with friends.

The word "tuck", says the committee, has two meanings. It was not really too long ago when "tuck" meant loose change one carried in his pocket, the Tuck Shop being the best place around to get rid of it. "Tuck" also means "everything" in that everything a student usually wanted (just about) could be obtained at the Tuck Shop.

Tuck Shop II will try to provide the same thing and more.

For reasonable prices one can get hamburgers and sandwiches as well as beer and wine. A stereo system to be installed soon will provide a background of music, and draper to cover the front of the shop will also be provided.

Facilities have been arranged such that if interest is high enough, cooler space and cooking equipment can be made to handle a wider variety of food and drink than is now offered, possibly to full-restaurant scale.

The name incidentally is now yet completely final in that it must also be ratified by the ALCB, but no hassles are expected to occur there.
