

We trust that you will have been more or less interested in reading these little accounts of our prominent workmen, many of whom have an added interest in our business and success through holding less or more capital stock, and we have no doubt but that our next publication of this kind will contain the portraits and short life histories of men who will then be occupying important positions with us, though now among our boys and junior employés. We have our eye on them now.

We expect that at our next annual meeting, to be held shortly, Mr. Adam Sieling, above referred to, Mr. C. M. Bowman, M.P.P., of Southampton, and Messrs. J. H. Adams and H. H. Miller, of Hanover, all successful business men, will be added to our present board of directors. We expect and believe that their presence will help us.
