

April's Lady.

By THE DUCHESS.

A story written in the author's most striking vein, highly original and deeply interesting, and certainly not the least entertaining of her works.

PRICE 30 cents.

By Order of the Czar.

By JOS. HATTON.

A thrilling story of Russian outrages on the Jews, of Nihilistic plotting and revenge. It admirably supplements the papers of George Kennan, which have filled so much of the public eye of late.

PRICE 30 cents.

The Lady Egeria.

By JOHN BERWICK HOWARD.

This book is avowedly of the sensational kind, and of a different class of fiction from the author's previous story of "Paul Knox, Pitman"; the dramatic passages and vivid description of Indian life and scenery are exceptionally fine.

PRICE 30 cents.

Syrlin.

By OUIDA.

A tale of London social and political life. A characteristic Ouida novel, not too highly spiced, and holds the attention throughout.

PRICE 30 cents.

The Burnt Million.

By JAMES PAY...

The delicate suggestive humor and quiet sarcasm, combined with a good plot, makes every chapter of this book a delight.

PRICE 30 cents.

Her Last Throw.

By THE DUCHESS.

Like all the works from the pen of this popular author, this little book is a gem in the ocean of fiction.

PRICE 30 cents.

A Scarlet Sin.

By FLORENCE MARRYAT.

An exceedingly interesting and readable book.

PRICE 30 cents.
