

-3-

The said Alexander Graham Bell agrees to place his Laboratory at Beinn Bhreagh, Near Baddeck, Nova Scotia, at the disposal of the Association for the purpose of carrying on experiments relating to aerial locomotion, together with all the buildings, tools, materials, and appurtenances belonging to the Laboratory, without charge, so long as the Association desires to carry on experiments at Beinn Bhreagh: Provided that the running expenses of the Laboratory, including the salaries of the Superintendent and men employed shall be paid by the Association during their use of said Laboratory, the number of men employed other than the Superintendent to be at the discretion of the Association, and that any new material or apparatus not in the Laboratory at the date of the organization which may be desired for the use of the Association shall be acquired at the expense of the Association.

We, the undersigned agree to appoint one of our number as Director of Experiments to be our medium of communication with the Laboratory.

We agree that the Laboratory workmen shall receive their instructions from the Superintendent of the Laboratory alone, that the Superintendent of the Laboratory shall receive his instructions from the Director of Experiments alone, and that the Director of Experiments shall receive his instructions by vote of the Association of which he is a member.

We agree that the headquarters of the "Aerial Experiment Association" shall be at Beinn Bhreagh, Near Baddeck, Nova Scotia, and that on or before the first of January, 1908,