STILL BETTER

Give the person CAPSULOIDS, for each Capsuloid contains as much Natural Iron as you would get from a good sized piece of steak, and is easier to take, purer and can always be had. Thousands of people can keep in perfect health, so they would rarely catch cold or other ailments, by taking a box of Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids two or three times a year.

What a Pity? HEMPHALL, NORWICH.

It is a very great pity I did not know these Capsuloids years ago. I should have been a different man if I had taken them then.

GREENBUSH.

MONDAY, Jan. 2.—The Sunday school entertainment was a success, socially and financially. It was the best in a number of years. The proceeds from the tree were distributed among the children. Much credit is due the ladies and Clifford Keeler, the worthy chairman.

The probability is that our cheese factory will be started again next season under the management of Henry Davis.

Byron W. Loverin is improving his outbuildings by putting up and adding to his pig-pen, with all modern improvements. He has put in a steam boiler for cooking feed for his pigs, and is a first-class pig and Mr. Loverin should have no difficulty in raising good pork. We think it would pay some of the farmers to follow his example.

The young ladies were sadly disappointed because there was no sleighing at New Year's.

Mr. Talmage Smith of Smith's Falls spent Christmas very pleasantly at the home of his mother, Mrs. S. G. Smith.

Miss Alice Loverin is visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. A. W. Blanchard, Athens.

PHILIPPSVILLE.

Jan. 2 1899.—The most of the pork-raisers have slaughtered what pork they will want for their own use, and the past week many a poor crier has had to give up its life to satisfy the appetite of the multitude. Pork is selling for $5.00 and beef from $4.00 to $5.00; flour, $2.00 per cwt.; and still the farmer grumbles because produce is so cheap and the purchaser finds fault because it is so dear.

Rev. Mr. Craig preached in the Methodist church on New Year's day.

Mrs. Mary Brown is very poorly and has been for some time. The Dr. is in attendance daily.

H. Putnam drove a horse-shoe nail through his finger while shoeing a horse, and he has been laid off from his work for the past two weeks. It was thought at one time that blood poisoning had set in. The Dr. says he will pull him through if he does not get a set back.

Miss Annie Kennedy is not getting the best of health.

Athens Trustee Election.

Considerable interest developed in the election for trustees in Athens, which resulted as follows: S. Y. Bullis, 103. Angus M. Chasels, 137. J. H. McLaughlin, 145. James Ross, 169. Joseph Thomas, 174. The latter three were members of the board last year, and their re-election by such handsome majorities should be to them highly pleasing evidence of the fact that Athenians are ready to recognize faithful and efficient service.

K. O. L. at Home.

One of the most enjoyable social functions that has taken place in Athens for many a day was the "At Home" held by L.O.L. No. 331 in the Gamble House on Thursday evening last. Elaborate preparations had been made for entertaining a large company, and that through upwards of three hundred were present, the reception committee were enabled to give all the best of attention.

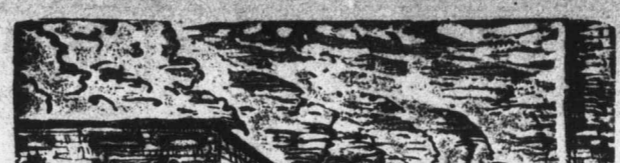

The evening's enjoyment opened with a fine musical programme, under the direction of Miss Heacock, consisting of the following: Vocal solos by Miss Pierce, Mr. A. E. Fisher, and C. C. Slack; vocal duets by Mrs. S. C. A. Lamb, and Miss Ray Hoys. Misses Emma and Clara Wiltse, a vocal solo by Miss Mary Reynolds of Westport, with violin accompaniment played by her sister, Miss Ethel; a recitation by Miss Victoria Steacy, Warburton; piano duets by Mrs. Donovan and Miss Loverin; Miss Berney and Miss Gile, Miss Heacock and Miss Ross; piano solos by Miss Jessie Taplin, Miss Mabel Green, Miss Ross, Miss E. Wiltse.

Mr. T. Berney was chairman of the formal part of the evening's program and discharged the duties of the position with marked ability.

The spacious dining hall presented a most inviting appearance, and in the decking of the tables and in the tempting viands so lavishly provided, as well as in the prompt and efficient service rendered the guests, the host and hostess fully sustained the high reputation of this popular hotelery. While the first table was being served dancing took place in the reading room, excellent music being supplied by Mr. and Mrs. W. DeWolfe. Games of various kind had been provided for those who did not care to dance, so that all present were happily engaged.

The arrangements for such an event necessarily involve a lot of careful work, and the committee have every reason to be satisfied with having brought it to such a highly successful issue.

LILLIAN HALL, Teacher.

Our late sister, Mrs. Horace B. Isford, passed away with the closing of the year. She had been ill for about two months, during which time she was blessed with the care of loving children. Her sufferings were very great, yet her trust in her Heavenly Father's love never faltered, and a short time before her death she sang a number of psalms, and with her devoted member of the Baptist church, and an earnest worker in the Sunday school. Her loss will be deeply felt in the church circle.

Sympathy and Condolence.

A meeting of the patrons of the cheese factory of J. E. Knapp, located west of Temperance Lake, on Thursday evening last, was held. Mr. H. H. Arnold, and his solicitor, Mr. W. A. Lewis, were present, and there was a large attendance of patrons. After making an approximate estimate of the liabilities, and the assets of the factory, a resolution was unanimously passed expressing sympathy for Mr. Knapp in the financial trouble that had overtaken him, and requesting that he make the arrangements to place the factory in the hands of a receiver, and that the creditors and resolute control of the business which he had successfully conducted for so many years.

While Mr. Knapp no doubt keenly feels the position in which he has been placed, and the loss of his business, it will no doubt be very gratifying to him to know that he has not lost their confidence and that they are willing to again trust him with the management of their dairy interests.

A Leeds County Boy Abroad.

News reached Mr. S. J. Stevens, just at Christmas, of his nephew, Mr. Sanford McArde, who is at present on board the United States cruiser, "Albatross," in the far off bay of Manila. He writes that he is well and unharmed in the slightest degree, though he was in the thick of the battle of Manila. He has already received two promotions and will no doubt continue to climb in the ranks.

He has written himself a loving and dutiful son and a kind affectionate brother, for he has sent proof of his love and affection both to his widowed mother and his sister, Helena, who is pursuing her studies in Loretto Abbey, Toronto.

Though quite young he has visited nearly every state in the Union, and few indeed can boast at his age, being only twenty-one, of having set foot on the four continents. He has been in Europe, Africa, America, and is now in Asia. He saw Liverpool and London, England; was present at the bull fight in Spain; visited Athens in Greece, Genoa in Italy, Messina in Sicily, Hong Kong in China, and now gazes on the city of Manila from the deck of the cruiser, "Albatross." He has already seen much of the world and expects to see more, for in his letter he says that he may not be home for two years.

Nipped in the Bud.

A citizen of Athens with a decidedly shady reputation commenced the New Year by making preparations for supplying himself with all things necessary for the coming year. A salesman in one of our leading dry goods houses entered the store on Monday and inserted his key from the inside leaving it in the lock, but not turning it. A second salesman, not knowing that the door was unlocked, inserted his key and pushed out the other key, which dropped to the floor. It was not missed to some time, and when an enquiry was instituted it was learned that the shady citizen above referred to was the only person that had been in the store. The proprietor, having personal knowledge of the fact that this particular citizen had not always been strictly honest, was not long in reaching a conclusion. He at once interviewed the suspected party and demanded the key. At first he was met with a blunt and complete denial, but finally, under "pressure," acknowledged having taken it and promptly produced it.

The possession of a duplicate key is a greater cinch to a thief of moderate requirements than a knowledge of safe combinations is to a more ambitious crook. The stealing of keys is shown by the criminal records to be quite a common practice, and they cannot be too closely guarded. In this case, the trapping of the would-be burglar would have been an easy matter, but no doubt consideration for his wife and family is what has saved him from another term behind the bars.

FIRE IN ATHENS.

Buddy's Hardware Shop Destroyed by Fire on Monday Night. Total Loss.

Shortly after ten o'clock on Monday evening, a fire was discovered in the wooden building on Main street, between the Central Block and the Mansell store, in which Samuel Buddy & Son carried on a harness shop. The bell on the fire hall and the saw gong were soon making it known to the citizens that for the first time in over six months the fire fund was abroad in the village. In less than five minutes after the first alarm was given, the engine was hauled to the tank opposite the Kincaid Block, but owing to the darkness and the ice on the sidewalk, the men were unable to find the trap door over the tank, and the engine was taken over to the well in front of the Armstrong House and set to work. The fire, which seemed to have caught from the stove near the centre of the ground floor, soon reached the stairway and a roaring mass of flames was soon working up between the sheeting and the plaster. A powerful stream of water was sent through the windows, but in a few minutes the flames burst through the roof. A dozen willing hands got on top of the fire-hook and catching it on top of the front pulled the whole front out to the side-walk. A couple of men took the hose up into the second story and after tearing off some of the lathing a stream was got down between the timbers. The building, which was a solid frame, had been planked up on the outside and then sheathed. The fire worked down between these spaces, and no sooner was one place flooded than another would show signs of fire. Owing to its dangerous proximity to other valuable property, it was deemed safest to pull the building down, and the men set to work with a will and soon had one side out and the roof down. All this time the men had been keeping a heavy stream pouring on the building from the tank to which the engine had been moved. The lathing cold from the water to the clothing of the firemen and the engine had to be kept moving to prevent it being frozen up.

The building which, belonged to D. Mansell, Brockville, was a total loss, but was not considered valuable enough to keep insurance. Buddy's stock was nearly all damaged by fire and water, and reports put the insurance all the way from $250 to $500.

Irretrievable was found in first-class working order, and all present were laid in its straps.

The Missionary Outlook for January contains photographs and brief biographical sketches of Rev. Geo. E. Hartwell of China and Dr. A. E. Bolton of Port Simpson.

On Monday evening a large party of young people from Athens, Frankville, and Addison were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Davis of Addison.

A large number of skaters attended the opening of the rink on Monday evening. The ice was in good condition, but the fire-alarm abruptly terminated the evening's enjoyment.

The choir of the Methodist church sang at the Monday evening services in connection with Glen Buell Methodist church dedication. All the services were well attended and the addresses by the different ministers were much enjoyed.

We will allow at the rate of $1.00 per cord for blocks and $1.75 for cord wood. For good straight stove or cord wood, we will allow the prevailing price.

On New Year's Day about fifteen persons, mostly young people, gathered at the residence of Mr. Drummond Parish to enjoy themselves and partake of roast fowl and the usual accompaniments, besides an abundant supply of nuts and candies. Mrs. Drummond Parish has long enjoyed an excellent reputation for cooking fowl and fish, as well as other things, so as to make the dinner to be very interesting and enjoyable as once a month. No one enjoys such a dinner better than Mrs. Parish herself. Some think this is a part, at least, of the true secret of good cooking.
