JARRING THE THEORY.

"In theory money I despise; in practice, though, I chase it. For every cent that I can get I know where I can place it—Yes, be the coin the dollar fiddle Or only the elusive nickel.

For what is money anyway That any one should prize it? As I observed in stanza one. In theory I despise it. But circumstances make me heedful Of any chance to grab the needful.

I wish that I could figure out Some scheme to do without it. Then I would throw the stuff away Quite promptly, do not doubt it. But I'd be careful where I threw it. So when in need I could go to it.

Why can't men live on heights sublime And cease to chase the sordid And filthy lucre that they now Are having bated and corded? Unless to tell the truth in treason, We have to own up there's a reason.

Man wants but little here below— That saying's now exploded. He wants the earth, and to secure A part he must, go loaded. For all the theories he may utter Won't serve to pass the bread and butter.

Just For Practice.
"Guilty or not guilty?"
"Not guilty?" promptly responded the prisoner.
"But you snatched the man's pocket-book," said the judge.
"I admit it."
"And was pursued for three blocks by an angry crowd."
"Yes."
"And still you say you are not guilty?"
"Guilty? Never! I was just in training for a foot race."

Harmless.
"Is he a fighter?"
"In his way."
"In his way?"
"Yes."
"But what is his way?"
"He is a chronic objector to the general run of things and has it all figured out theoretically to such an extent that he has used up all his energy in theory, so has nothing left for practical purposes."

Sausage?
"They have disposed of their dog."
"What—the Wilkines?"
"Yes."
"I thought they were awfully fond of him."
"They are."
"Why did they dispose of him?"
"The high cost of living forced them to it."

Too Common-place.
"That man is worth a million."
"He doesn't look it."
"How can you tell by the looks?"
"He ought to be wearing either better or worse clothes."

Horticulturists.
"Helen is a clever girl."
"She is?"
"Yes; she is a great hand at making dates."
"I think I should prefer her to Edith, then."
"Why?"
"Edith's stunt is handing out lemons."

Ruled the Roost.
"He is a regular tyrant in the family."
"He doesn't look it."
"Who doesn't?"
"Jones."
"I'm speaking of his two-year-old son."

Would He Do?
"Is there a bill clerk here named Joe?"
"No; there is a joke clerk here named Bill."

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

It is easy enough to convince a man that he can make a sudden fortune, but you have mighty hard work sometimes to persuade a man he isn't hungry.

When things go awfully with us conscience takes just that time to go to sleep and when the sledding gets hard refuses to stay asleep.

Dead men's shoes are apt to make corns on the disposition of those who inherit them.

Music hath charms; but, like all other charming things, it takes cold cash to get next to it.

In extending kindnesses too many of us are inclined to serve ourselves very liberally first.

The latest stayers aren't necessarily those that are out latest at night.

It is always desirable to reason with difficult people, but the trouble is that most of the sort never have their reason with them.

Good treatment is what the fellow gets who knows how to put up the smooth spell.

Village Council.

A special meeting of the Athens Village Council was held on Oct. 29th. Members all present excepting councillor Gordon.

Mr. H. H. Arnold waited on the council and handed over the collections for the British Red Cross fund amounting to $207.62. This amount was turned over to Reeve Holmes, along with the $100 granted by the council, making a total of $307.62, and this amount the reeve forwarded to the Provincial treasurer.

McLean—Sheldon—That the following accounts be paid and orders drawn on the treasurer for same: Levi Scott, $4.00; Clayton Wilton, $1.50; The International Specialty Co., $162.20.—Carried.

Council adjourned.

A regular meeting of the Council was held on Nov. 6th.

Reeve and all members present except Councillor Jacob.

A By-Law was introduced and passed, providing for an overdraft of $1,000 in the Merchants Bank.

Sheldon—McLean—That the chief be instructed to offer a reward of $10 to any person furnishing information which will lead to the conviction of anyone meddling or interfering with or damaging street lamps or any public property.

McLean—Gordon—That the following accounts be paid: Geo. Stevens, $1.65; Law costs, $17.45; F. Blancher, salary, $15.63; John Bigelow, salary, $6.25; Geo. Bradley, work on road, $1; Alvin Judson, work on walks, 75c.—Carried.

Council adjourned to meet on Tuesday, Nov. 9th.

The Property Committee, among other things, brought in the following report: "We also find that there is at present on hand for use in the fire hall 956 lbs. of coal, and a reference to the books and vouchers shows the last purchase of 1,000 lbs. of coal as having been made on March 22nd, 1915, making a total of 2 1/2 tons purchased for the whole winter. Heating the fire hall in April last was not necessary to any extent, which accounts for the above mentioned 960 lbs. of coal. (Sgd) F. Sheldon, G. D. McLean.

Moved by Mr. Gordon and seconded by Mr. Jacob, that the report of the property committee be adopted.—Carried.

Sheppard—Webster

A quiet marriage was solemnized on Wednesday evening, Nov. 3rd, at the Presbyterian Manse, Lansdowne, by Rev. I. N. Beckstedt, when Miss Margaret Webster, youngest daughter of the late Robert Webster and Mrs. Webster, of Mooretown, became the wife of Mr. John Sheppard. Miss Webster wore a navy blue travelling suit and was unattended. The bride and groom have been residents of Lansdowne for a number of years and are well and favorably known. A dainty luncheon was served at the home of Mrs. Webster, after which Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard left by automobile for Smith Falls and other eastern points. On their return they will reside in a house already provided by the groom in Lansdowne.

NEWSPAPERS IMPOSED UPON—The Toronto newspapers, in view of the pressure put upon their advertising columns for patriotic and other purposes—where a great deal of free notices seem to be expected as though it cost these newspapers no money to set up general scale of prices and upon a definite plan of action, in order to protect themselves. The fact is, they have found, as other newspapers have found, that they are being steadily imposed upon and that in the name of patriotism they are being asked to sacrifice the only earning power they have. As a consequence the movement is spreading among all the newspapers to come to some definite understanding in the matter.

PAINTS & VARNISHES

The paint that protects the outside of a house should not be the same as the paint for a floor or a door or a wall. Different surfaces require different finishes. There should be but one thing in common—Sherwin-Williams quality—the quality that makes each paint, varnish, stain, enamel or other finish just right for its purpose.

If you know the paint and varnish you are using on your house or in your home are made by the same maker in the same sure, careful, painstaking way as the paint used on iron bridges, steel buildings, railroad cars and automobiles, we believe you will have more confidence in them.
