GOOD COURSE

Major Scholfield, of the 24th, Speaks Well of the Officers' London Drills.

Major Scholfield, Captain McLaren and Spry, and Lieut. Stone, have returned from London, where they have been attending a special two weeks' course in the London Military School.

This course was granted exclusively to the officers of the 24th Regiment, other officers from other regiments were present, attending the summer term of the school, but were not allowed to take this special course.

Major Scholfield, when interviewed by the Planet this morning, expressed himself as immensely delighted with the course.

"I spent a very pleasant time in London," said he, "and found the work to be very interesting. The course was given by a number of lectures on military work. The lectures were very interesting indeed and many of the points brought out will prove very helpful to the officers during the fall months."

It is expected that the regiment drills will commence early in September. The Regiment will no doubt go ahead this fall and soon become one of the crack regiments of this province.

City Jealousy.

The jealousy between Glasgow and Edinburgh, so old and so natural, is one of the stock instances of the kind, still manifests itself in varying ways. At one time it might be said to be as Glasgow and Edinburgh, who are in the majority in the Scottish Academy.

Now it is the turn of the Edinburgh men to complain of the Glaswegians. At the annual meeting of the Scottish Artists' Society, dissatisfaction was lately expressed that at the Glasgow International Exhibition only six artists from Edinburgh had been selected to send their work, as compared with thirty Glasgow artists.

Of course Glasgow has the larger population, though scarcely in the proportion of sixty to six.

Scotland's Friend the salmon.

It has been said that more laws have been passed for the protection of the salmon than for that of any other living creature save man himself. But, then, to Scotland the salmon is worth a good deal. The value of the fish alone runs to over £20,000 a year. Indeed the amount paid to Scottish lairds for the privilege of catching the salmon and his lesser kinsman, the trout, is believed to be considerably over £100,000 a year. And, the benefit, to Scotland does not end here. Sportsmen must live. They usually live well, and have to pay well—People's Friend, Dundee.

MUST PAY UP

The Select Knights Organization Suing the Chatham Members for Payment for Dues.

Some time ago a society was formed with headquarters in St. Catharines and named the "Select Knights." Agents were sent out all over the province to solicit members in the different cities. One of these came to Chatham with the result that a goodly branch society was formed here.

The society did not stand very long and very soon fell through and the lodge here disbanded and thought no more about it.

About three or four months ago some of the Chatham members, who comprise some of Chatham's most popular citizens, were surprised to receive notices of back dues. Upon enquiry it was found that the members in other cities were being treated in a like manner.

The most of the members who understood that they had become disconnected with the lodge refused to pay and an action was entered and judgment was given against them.

To-day the Select Knights of Chatham are receiving visits from Charles Moore, bailiff, with the request to settle. Of course, there is no alternative and the Knights are compelled to pay up.

The Maple City Select Knights are about 30 in number.
