SOME NEW SAYINGS BY THE OLD PHILOSOPHER.

The President of the Limekiln Club Deals Out a Number of Good Things For the Benefit of His Many Read-

[Copyright, 1901, by C. B. Lewis.] Human natur' has got to be constantly watched. De man who'd run two blocks to restore yo' a lost nickel would steal vo'r two dollar umbrella de fust chance he got.

I'ze bin a member of de Church of Zion fur ober fo'ty y'ars, and yit when I come to trade mewls wid a man 1 feel a temptashun riz up to find all de windgalls an spavins on his animal

It took me mo' dan half a lifetime to learn to mind my own bus'ness, an den I diskivered dat people thought I didn't know anything an couldn't mix in if I wanted to.

Dar may be heaps of things in de Bible dat don't mean exactly what dey read, but it 'pears to me dat de man who keeps right on hoein co'n an be lievin Dan'l was cast into de lions' den won't hev much to take back when he comes to die.

De difference between extendin an unfortunate pusson yo'r sympathy or a $2 bill am exactly 200 cents in favor of de sympathy, an it's mighty few men dat want to go ag'in sich odds as I'ze not sayin a word ag'in de alderman of my ward who made $5,000 in one y'ar on a salary of $250, but 1 sometimes wake up in de night wid s temptashun to steal a cord of wood an a dozen chickens to even up things.

One reason why I know I don't amount to anything is bekase I hev no enemies tryin to pull me down. Can't nobody wear a fur trimmed obercoat in dis yere world widout somebody tellin around dat he orter be sent to state prison on his record?

I don't know what de philosophers call true happiness, but when I git sot down befo' a hickory fiah, wid a pan of popco'n at my left hand an a pan of apples at my right, de ole woman singin "De Sweet Bimeby" an de cat purrin on my lap, it do seem as if I was gittin along mighty well fur one of de people of airth.

I sin't callin a man a liar an wantin to hit him on de jaw bekase he don't wote de same political ticket I do. I'ze simply goin about wid a serene an superior smile on my face an wonderin how dat pore idiot has managed to dodge de trolley kyars all dese y'ars

Once in awhile I like to take a walk frew de graveyard. I hain't got nobody buried up dere, but I like to look at de different headstones an see how many pussons hev gone straight to heaven arter sellin short weights durin deir lives here below.

I hey lied an bin called a liar, an I hev told de solemn truth an bin called a liar, an I reckon I was jest as mad about it when I lied as when I told de truth.

Dar's a few men I want to shake hands wid before my time comes to go, an one of 'em is a pusson who has bin a member of congress fur 12 y'ars an has nebber got de ideah de airth am hangin to his ceattails.

If human natur' could be satisfied wid a good thing, we'd all be better off. One day last summer de people of my church begun prayin fur rain, an, hevin got started, dey asked fur snow, hail, ice, thunder, moenlight nights an a dozen other things, an all anybody got out of it was a gust of wind which turned umbrellas wrong side out.

Dar am times when yo' kin quote Scriptur' to yo'r wife an silence her, but dar am other occashuns when a ed at home by correspondence. Our honest opinion always given, and good, wise husband will step out to feed de hawgs an give her an hour or so by herself to git ober it.

ON SUSPICION.

The County Constable Wanted to Up-I had been walking all day to reach the hamlet of Bentonville, and as I entered the place at sundown and was inquiring my way to the tavern a rough tooking man accosted me with: "Look-a-here, stranger, I don't quite like your looks."

"Sorry for that, but can't help it." replied.

"No, I don't like your looks," he continued. "Fact is, you 'pear to be a suspicious character, and I guess I'll lock you up." "Have you authority to do that?"

"I should smile that I had! I'm s constable, and I shall lock you up as a suspicious character."

I tried to argue the matter with him but he was "sot" and ugly to boot, and he was taking me to the lockup when two or three men interfered to the extent of suggesting that I be taken before the justice of the peace for imme diate examination. After some hestitation this was agreed to, and a crowd numbering a score of people accompa hied us. The "jedge" was eating supper, but he hurried up and came over to his office in the back end of a store and opened court. When all was ready, he asked of the officer:
"Tom, what's the charge ag'in the prisoner?"

"Suspicion," replied Tom. "Suspicion of what?"

"Dunno. Jest a sort of suspicion." "I declar', but I don't see nuthin sus picious about him." said his honor as he looked me over. "Stranger, who be

I told him. "Whar you from?" "Blissfield." "Whar you goin?"

"On to Mountville tomorrow." "Nuthin suspicious about that. What made you think him suspicious, Tom?" "Dunno, but it come over me that he was."

"Do you want to sw'ar out a warrant ag'in him?".

said:

"Guess not." "Then the prisoner is discharged." I went to the hotel and got supper and after the meal sat down on the yeranda for a smoke. In the course of five minutes the same constable walked up the steps and approached me and

"Stranger, I've come to apologize." "For arresting me? Yes; you were hasty, but it's all right."

"Thank you. You see, it's jest this way: I've bin a constable in this county fur 22 years and never arrested critter yit. Got to thinkin of it today and made up my mind to uphold my dignity or bust a leg, and as you looked like a cuss who hadn't any friends and wouldn't kick about bein locked up I run you in. Cum hev a drink with me, and I'll resign tomorrer!"

ALLAH AND AMERICA. Persian Legend About the Creator's Visit to Earth.

In Persia, on a morning after the vermin had been particularly vigorous, I said something caustic about getting back to God's country. An Armenian who had reposed in utter comfort in the same caravansary heard it and smiled. Being an Armenian, he hated the Persians, probably. Incidentally the Persian reciprocates.

Well, this Armenian, rubbing his hands and with his head skewed over on one side, said: "The Persians have a legend for everything. They have a legend for what you said just now. It

"Allah-that is God-once said to his angel, 'I will see this world which I made.

"And so Allah and the angel descended invisible in a cloud to the earth, and the first place at which they arrived was France-that is, in Ferenghistan. And there they saw the railroads, and the tramways, and the theaters, and the great picture galleries. And Allah looked in disappointment and said: 'Alas, no! This is not the world which I made. I made none of these things.'

"So they journeyed to Inglezistanthat is, England - and there were mighty ships in the harbors and huge mills which make all sorts of things and food in plenty. And again Allah said: 'Alas, no! This is not the world which I made.' And everywhere they traveled in the cloud Allah looked upon the land and said, 'No; this is not it.'

"At last, in despair, the angel led the way to Persia, and Allah sat himself down upon a very high mountain, and, looking far on every side, he saw neither railroads nor tramways nor theaters nor picture galleries nor ships nor mills nor schoolhouses nor plenty to eat.

"And Allah said: 'Yes, at last. This is the world which I made. Not a thing is changed. The people whom put there have done nothing," "Why didn't he come to America?" asked.

"Sir," answered the Armenian, Persia they had not even heard of America."

"Collingwood makes a regular fad of pedestrianism. I am told," said Ten-"It's true," added Giddings. "He carries it so far as to walk in his sleep."

cheaper. Whale oil is used for tempering steel. It is still used in a limited way by some people as an illuminating oil. Whale oil is used for making whale oil soap, used for killing worms on trees.

"Sperm oil is a fine lubricating oil, used on fine machinery, large and small. The fine sewing machine oil is likely to be sperm oil. It is used for illuminating purposes in safety lamps in warehouses, because of its small liability to explode, sperm standing a higher degree of heat than mineral oils. It is used as a signal oil on shipboard, for lamps and lanterns and for side lights, and so on, and on steamers for a lubricating oil. For all these purposes mineral oils and lubricating compounds have more or less supplanted it because of their greater cheap ness, but sperm oil is nevertheless in de mand for them. There are some other uses for whale oil and for sperm oil, which are still sold to larger and smaller users by the barrel or the can or gallon.

"The desirable qualities for some uses of these oils, once so commonly used, make market for the comparatively small and diminishing quantities of them now as $10 a gallon. This is watch oil, and it may be bought of dealers in watch sup-plies. It is used for oiling watches and also for oiling the arbors or journals of the wheels of tower clocks. It is not only remarkably well, not freezing except at an extremely low temperature, for which reason it is very desirable for such use is cold and exposed situations."
