

ON FLOOR OF THE HOUSE.

That is Where Wardenship Was Decided.

There Was Informal Caucus of Members To-day.

County Council Opened at 2 o'clock This Afternoon.

There has been considerable agitation all day in County Council circles, this being the day that the new Council elects its Warden for this year. While the Council has a substantial Liberal majority, there is a probability that there will be a warm fight on the floor of the house for the office of Warden, this afternoon. The meeting opened at 2 o'clock. Reeve Gage, of Barton, and Reeve French, of Glanville, are both Liberals, and are casting envious eyes toward the highest honor in the county's gift—the Warden's chair. It is known that Reeve Lawson, Dundas, who has served in the Council for some years, would also like to have the plum. There is no telling what the outcome may be, and it promises something rather interesting.

At 2 o'clock the nine Liberals had an informal meeting, and voted Gage for Warden by 5 to 4.

As soon as Council opened, Mr. Gage was elected Warden by a unanimous vote.

CAPT. SEALBY'S
GRAPHIC STORY.

"I was getting weak, cold and numb. I just lay on the hatch and saved my strength until the last, shouting at intervals. Then, when the lights played on me I waved a towel which I had found floating near me, and shortly after the boats from the revenue cutter Gresham picked me up and carried me aboard. I found Williams in that little lifeboat. I thought I had seen the last of him."

Captain Sealby praised in unmeasured terms the courage and pluck of the Republic's passengers, officers and crew and the wireless operator, Binns. He will make his report of the accident to the officers of the White Star Company some time to-day. Second Officer Binns said that when he found himself in the sea he seized two pieces of floating gear and held himself up to them until picked up by the revenue boats. Officer Williams said:

"They found me before they picked up Captain Sealby, and when the captain was taken aboard the lifeboat and lay still for a time he then turned and threw his arms around me and said: 'You were game to the last.'"

WOULD RATHER DIE ON BOARD.
NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—One more death was added to the list of fatalities resulting from the collision of the steamers Republic and Florida off Nantucket lightship on Saturday morning, when Eugene Lynch, of Boston, died in the Long Island Cottage Hospital in Brooklyn to-day. Mr. Lynch, with his wife, occupied one of the state rooms on the Republic which was penetrated by the bow of the Florida. Mrs. Lynch was instantly killed, and her body was still on board the Republic when that liner sank off No. Man's Island. Mr. Lynch was a wholesale liquor dealer living in Dorchester, Mass., and with Mrs. Lynch had started on the Republic for a two-months' tour in Italy, including the earthquake district of Sicily.

In the crash of the collision, when the Florida's steel bow tore its way into the state rooms of the Republic, Mr. Lynch was terribly injured. His leg and thigh were broken, he was internally injured and bruised about the head. It was with great difficulty that he was removed from the Republic to the Florida, and when it became necessary to transfer the passengers from the Florida to the Baltic, he expressed a wish to be allowed to stay on the Florida, saying: "If I am to die let me die here." His condition was then regarded as extremely serious, and the Rev. Father Morris, of Trenton, one of the passengers of the Republic, administered the last rites to Mr. Lynch before leaving the Florida.

The fact that Mrs. Lynch was killed in the collision was concealed from him.

MIDWINTER GOT OFF.

Judge Monck acquitted Joseph Midwinter of the charge of stealing an accordion from the second-hand shop of James Crisp this morning. His Honor said that he may or may not have been guilty, but the evidence of the Crown was not strong enough to convict. He hoped that this would be a lesson to the accused. The evidence was to the effect that James Morine and Midwinter went into Crisp's place while under the influence of liquor, took an accordion and sold it. Morine pleaded guilty at the Police Court and was let go on deferred sentence.

CLOTHES AFIRE.

Aged Woman Burned to Death Beside Coffin.

Philadelphia, Jan. 26.—Mrs. Agnes Smith, aged 69, an inmate of the Old People's Home of Darby, was burned to death in that institution to-day while men and women, ranging in ages from 70 to 85 years, were thrown into a panic and stood paralyzed, unable to render aid, as the frightened woman ran screaming from one room to another, a mass of fire.

Mrs. Smith was in the dining room and as she reached up to the mantel, her dress came in contact with the stove and in a few seconds she was in flames and ran from one end of the house to the other, a living torch.

In the front room in a coffin lay the body of Mrs. Bertha Schlett, who had died the day before. After running all through the house the woman ran into this room and fell in front of the coffin of the dead woman exhausted. Water was thrown on her and the flames were extinguished, but not until Mrs. Smith was fatally burned. The women were intimate friends, and when Mrs. Schlett died Mrs. Smith was inconsolable.

From the gigantic task of hauling freight and passenger trains over the electrified branch of the Canadian Pacific the Arostook Falls, in Maine, performs such little chores as knits stockings. An electrically operated machine will knit a stocking in less than two minutes.

This lake is situated about 9 miles from St. Petersburg and is the source of the river Neva.
