British Battleship to Try to Prevent Outbreak.

Constantinople, May 5.—The commission which is taking an inventory of the property at the Imperial palace at Yedig has discovered, according to local newspapers, bank notes to the value of $2,250,000 and a large quantity of jewelry, including a rosary alone valued at $375,000. Papers seized at the palace show that Abdul Hamid had something over $5,000,000 on deposit in a foreign bank.

PEOPLE STARVING.

Hadjin, Asiatic Turkey, May 5.—Hadjin is facing a terrible famine and there is neither money nor food in the city. The orphans that have been cared for by the missionaries are crying for even a small piece of bread, and the missionaries are anxious that their benevolent friends be notified of the situation here.

WRIGHT BROS.

The Sensation of the Week in London—Sail For Home.

London, May 5.—Wilbur and Orville Wright, the aeronauts, journeyed down to Southampton this morning and embarked on board the steamer Kron Princess Cecilia, for New York. A large gathering of members of the Aero Club bade the visitors farewell from London. The presence of the Wright brothers in London has been the sensation of the week and was overshadowed only by their return to England they will carry out some important trials for the British Government, the character of which he was not permitted to divulge.

WHEAT PRICES UP.

New York, May 5.—The record price of May wheat was exceeded on the New York grain market to-day when its quotation advanced 2 1/2c to 1.35. At the same time July wheat went up 1 1/8c to 1.22 3/8. Reports of a shortage in the supply of cash wheat were associated with the advance.

MIKADO MATINEE.

The demand for seats for "The Mikado," which promises to be the best amateur production given in Hamilton in recent years, is so great that Mrs. Crerar and her committee are trying to arrange for a matinee on Saturday afternoon to give everyone a chance to enjoy this favorite opera. It is evident everybody in Hamilton wants to be there.

WHAT OF FUTURE OF KINRADE CASE?

If There Are Any Further Developments They Will Likely Take Place Within a Very Short Time.

Family Will Seek Seclusion and Rest—Mr. Kinrade May Not Return to His School Until September.

Provincial and Pinkerton Detectives Have Gone—Jimmie Baum Had a Short Talk With Miss Kinrade Yesterday.

Does the open verdict returned last night by Coroner Anderson's jury in the Kinrade murder investigation mean that this great and sensational mystery is never to be solved?

If not, what is the Crown's next move, and when will it be made?

Over the entire country people who have been thrilled by the dramatic incidents in this remarkable tragedy have developed are asking themselves these questions to-day, and they should not have long to wait for an answer.

From the only people who can speak authoritatively it is impossible to obtain any definite information, but it is safe to say that if there are to be developments they will take place soon. The abrupt ending of the inquest last night, following a private conference earlier in the evening, when the Crown authorities, the provincial officers and the Kinrade lawyers were closeted discussing a certain matter, which they refused to make public, is suggested as significant of something behind the scene that the public knows nothing about at present—something that may yet help to clear up the mystery. Whether there is any foundation for this report time will tell.

When those who attended the conference were questioned about it they dismissed it with this comment: "We were simply having a little chat as to how far we should go with the evidence of Jimmie Baum and Detective Pender."

It is known that as a result of the conference that the examination of both witnesses was cut short, and the Crown abandoned the idea of questioning them on certain points. The brevity of the examination was a distinct surprise to everyone in the court room. The questioning was confined to the main points of Florence Kinrade's story about her southern trip, about the Manchester Presbyterian Church, where she swore she was engaged as soloist, about Choir-master Foster, the statement that she told Baum she was married and divorced, that she was in mortal dread of the man who was once her husband, and about Marion Elliott and Colonel Warburton.

When flat contradictions of the statements made by Miss Kinrade on these points were secured, when Jimmie Baum swore that he was engaged to the girl when she left the south, that they had arranged to meet in Philadelphia or in New York this spring to be married and go on the stage, and that he understood

Cost So Far About $9,000

(Special Despatch to the Times.)

Toronto, May 5.—Although no official figures are given out, it was learned at the Attorney-General's Department that the cost to the Province of the Kinrade case has been so far about $9,000, and this sum is not by any means the final total. The expenses of the case have been unusually heavy, the detective agencies' bills alone being a big feature. It will not be known for some time just what the total cost will be.

No information as to the Crown's future intentions in the case are available to-day. Deputy-Attorney General Cartwright told the Times that he had not yet received Mr. Blackstock's report, and, failing that, he did not wish to discuss the case.

IT RESTS WITH ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

Toronto, May 5.—Mr. Geo. Tate Blackstock, K. C., returned from Hamilton this morning, and when asked if there were any new developments in the Kinrade case, replied: "Not to my knowledge. I had heard of nothing before leaving Hamilton."

"Will you have a consultation with the Attorney-General to-day?" "Yes; I shall likely see him to talk over a few matters in connection with the case."

"Do you expect to secure any additional facts?" "That I can't say. The case is no longer in my hands. That rests with the Attorney-General's Department and the authorities at Hamilton."

arranged to meet in Philadelphia or in New York this spring to be married and go on the stage, and that he understood

Miss Kinrade to be sincere and not joking, the Crown Examiner announced that he was through.

People wondered why Mrs. Kinrade, who fainted on the witness stand the previous afternoon, was not recalled, why other witnesses that it was stated would be subpoenaed were not heard, and why the inquest closed so abruptly.

The members of the Kinrade family, except Miss Gertrude Kinrade, the youngest daughter, were in one of the side rooms to appear if required. The reason Mrs. Kinrade was not recalled was because the Crown secured an admission from Florence Kinrade on Monday of what it was hoped to establish by Mrs. Kinrade, that a letter and present from Jimmie Baum at Christmas had been intercepted and that the correspondence between Florence and him was not broken off until Feb. 10th, two weeks before the tragedy. There was no other reason why Mrs. Kinrade should go on the stand again and the Crown authorities were glad to be relieved of the task of re-calling her, for they deeply sympathize with the mother in her trouble.

The jury early in the evening had arranged with Coroner Anderson to adjourn at 11 o'clock to meet again to-night at 8 o'clock. When Mr. Blackstock arose at 9:50 and announced the close of the investigation, the jurors were as much surprised as the public.

The final session lacked the sensational and dramatic climax which was expected to develop. The nearest incident approaching it was when Jimmie Baum made that startling statement that a man from the south, who chased Florence Kinrade to Canada, committed the murder. Baum worried a lot during the last two or three days. He was not the gay, light-hearted Jimmie, who tripped around the lobby of the Royal hotel, joking with the newspapermen, when he stepped into the witness box last night. He was intensely sincere. Baum felt keenly the criticism levelled at him in certain quarters for coming here to testify, and he was glad of the opportunity of going on the stand last night and saying a good word for the girl.

NOT UNDER SURVEILLANCE.

It is authoritatively stated to-day that the members of the Kinrade family are no longer under police surveillance. The statement is significant. Whether in this city or Toronto detectives have kept close watch upon the movements

JOE MARTIN

Beaten by Unionist Candidate at Stratford-on-Avon.

Stratford-on-Avon, May 5.—The Unionists won their seat in the House of Commons from this constituency to-day with the striking majority of 2,627 votes. Their candidate, P. S. Foster, polled 5,374 while Joseph Martin, the Liberal candidate, received 2,747 votes. The battle was fought out on tariff reform and a big navy.

The local vacancy was caused by the resignation of Malcolm Kincaid-Smith.

KNOTTY POINT.

Winnipeg, Man., May 5.—The Trainmen's Brotherhoods have placed before Canada's Labor Department at Ottawa an interesting international question. It appears that Great Northern trains running into Manitoba run through North Dakota. The unions contend that this is contrary to the Alien Labor Law, and that new trains must be made up on the Canadian side of the boundary.

SONS OF SCOTLAND.

The Sons of Scotland met last night in the St. Andrew's Hall. On account of the absence of the chief the chair was occupied by Mr. George Milne. Two members were received and the amendments to the constitution discussed. Considerable interest was taken in the amendments and a good deal of discussion took place, but nothing definite was done.

U. S. CONGRESS.

Washington, May 5.—President Taft has come to the conclusion as a result of talks with Senators and members of the House of Representatives during the past two days there is little or no chance for adjournment of Congress before June 15 or July 1.

CREW SAVED.

Rockland, Me., May 5.—The fishing schooner Dorothy, of Salem, was run down and sunk early to-day by the steamer City of Bangor, while the latter was coming into port from her trip from Boston. The twelve fishermen on the Dorothy were saved.

TWO EXECUTED.

Richmond, Va., May 5.—Joe and Isham Taylor, two more of the negroes who figured in the recent Powhatan county tragedy, in which Mrs. Skipworth and Walter Johnson were murdered, were electrocuted in the penitentiary here to-day.

Hiding in Mine

Birmingham, Ala., May 5.—An unidentified negro wanted for murder is concealed in an abandoned mine, 20 miles west of Birmingham, and with a rifle and plenty of food and ammunition is defying the authorities. He has been concealed for four days and it is believed that friends carried him large supplies before the officers located him. Officers are unable to see down the slope, but the negro in the darkness below can watch their every movement at the opening. The deputies believe it will be necessary to starve him out.

THE MAN IN OVERALLS

After this I'll burn all my love letters. What's the matter with getting a bubble wagon or two for Chief Ten Eyck?

City Engineer McCallum has lots of work waiting for him, and there are a lot of people waiting to get work.

Rather than muzzle my dog I would chain him up, and the chain is not good for him either.

Well, we shall appreciate fine weather when it does come.

At first sight you would think it would be easy to pick out a site for the Public Library.

We want a clean city as well as a great city. Just look at some of those alleyways. It's a shame.

Now, if the corporation could hustle through its work as the street railway company is hustling on James street, the appropriations would go much further.

Our new story begins this evening. Look it up.

This late spring leads to the suspicion that the bear has not yet come out of his hole.

I hope this season's moonlight excursions will be more popular and better patronized than the resurrected promenade band concerts have been.

I cannot help expressing the opinion that some blunder has been made in admitting so many people to the inquest. With such a crowd justice is hampered and those who must be there are inconvenienced.

Those who have been shaking their heads over the matter will notice that both Jimmie Baum and Detective Pender declared last evening that Miss Florence Kinrade was in every way a good girl while south. When a Pinkerton detective could find nothing against her she must certainly have been very good.

If you expect to reach the C. T. R. station or steamboat wharf by car start fifteen minutes earlier. Street railway reconstruction necessarily causes many delays.

FIRE BRIGADE HAS DECIDED TO QUIT.

Hamilton Methods Introduced by Chief Gilbert Cause Trouble in Saskatoon.

Only a few weeks ago W. A. Gilbert, a member of the Hamilton fire department, who had served this city well and earned promotion in the service, was appointed chief of the department at Saskatoon, Sask. He entered upon his duties only a short time ago, and to-day, by wire, comes word of trouble. A special despatch to the Times from Saskatoon says: "The entire fire brigade has handed in its resignation, to take effect May 15. The cause is dissatisfaction because of new regulations of Chief Gilbert, who came here from Hamilton."

Gilbert is considered a capable man by his former associates here, who think that, if given a free hand, he can do good work in Saskatoon.

The celebrated old sandsecker, which has cost the city nearly $20,000, has vindicated itself at last. HAD FUN WITH THE CHINESE

And Had to Pay a Fine of $5 This Morning.

An Unfortunate Case From Stoney Creek in Court.

Fate Has Been Hard Upon Edward Palmer and Family.

At the Police Court this morning Thomas Williams was found guilty of assaulting Charles Sney, Chinese, and was fined $5 by Magistrate Jelfs. The celestial swore that when he was walking on Barton street on Saturday the defendant was driving along in a rig and began calling him names. He walked out on the road and stopped the horse and Williams, he said, then got off his rig and struck him twice in the face. Charley said that he was a good Chinese. He went to church every Sunday and brought his own Bible to the court room to swear on. He was very peaceable, he said, and "would not fight for anything."

Williams denied calling the Chinese names and though he admitted striking him he said that it was Charley who had started the row. His version of the story was that when he was driving on Barton street Saturday the complainant walked out and stopped his horse and said he wanted a fight. Williams said he got down and Charley struck him with his umbrella. He retaliated by knocking him down with his fists.

The Magistrate had very little doubt as to Williams beginning the trouble by calling names and fined him five dollars.

"Guilty, sorr," said Alexander Wikie, who imbibed too freely last night and talked too loud and was jugged for being drunk and acting in a disorderly manner. Alex was assessed $2.

Victor Bertin was picked up last night by P. C. Sharp in such a state of limpness that he could not stand alone. He was lodged in the cells all night and fined $2 this morning to impress upon him the economy of sobriety.

Edward Palmer has been a resident of Stoney Creek for over twenty years. He was always respected, but unfortunately of late things have been going wrong with him in a financial way, and he has been forced to accept any shelter from the cold for himself and little family.

Until a couple of weeks ago he lived in a fruit shed on one of the farms there, but as the man who owned it needed it to store some of his goods in, the Palmer family had to move out. Some of the residents, taking pity on their condition, offered them the use of the fire hall, where they have been living since. They were troubled greatly with boys throwing stones at the house, and on some nights the little children were kept awake until early in the morning with the continual thud, thud, of stones on the wall. On Sunday night Mr. Palmer played fox and succeeded in catching one of the boys responsible for the bombardment. His name, John O'Leary, was given to County Constable Springstead, and the youth was up in court this morning. Mr. Palmer made the surprising statement in court that Reeve George Milne had told him that Mrs. O'Leary had said that if the summons for her boy was not withdrawn the Palmer family would have to get out of the town. The Magistrate thought the evidence was strong enough against O'Leary, and fined him $5. He told him that this kind of thing would have to stop, and if it was continued he would see that special officers were sent to Stoney Creek to catch the offenders.

The splendid quality, size and cheapness of the pineapples we are offering. Never before in the history of this store have we been able to offer such splendid value. See them before ordering elsewhere. Our sales of pineapples are far in excess of any previous year. It is the quality and price that's doing it. Now is the time to order. PUGSLEY ATTACKED IN THE COMMONS.

New Brunswick Government Having Failed to Prosecute Dr. Pugsley Begins Action Himself.

(Special Despatch to the Times.)

Ottawa, May 5.—The Conservative attack on Hon. William Pugsley, after making a false start, was launched in the Commons this morning.

Mr. Foster, at the opening of the sitting, moved for the production of the findings of the New Brunswick Royal Commission. This was ruled out of order on the ground that the rules required two months' notice for such a motion. On notice to go into supply, Mr. Crothers said he proposed to offer an amendment, and in doing so would call attention to the findings of the New Brunswick Royal Commission in relation to the Minister of Public Works. He said he had no animus against the Minister of Public Works, but would proceed simply from a sense of public duty. Mr. Crothers was quoting from British precedents of members and Ministers who had resigned in consequence of their conduct being touched.

The Speaker said he would like to be informed as to the character of the motion which Mr. Crothers was going to make, because a member of the House of Administration could not be attacked on motion to go into supply, because the rules of the House did not allow such a motion had to be accepted or rejected, but would not be accepted.

Mr. Crothers replied that he had no desire to infringe the rules of the House, but he did not give the Speaker his motion.

The Speaker said it was evident from Mr. Crothers' speech that he proposed to violate the rules.

Sir Wilfrid and Dr. Pugsley had a conference at this point, and Sir Wilfrid arose and said that the Minister of Public Works desired that the rules should be insisted upon, but that Mr. Crothers should be allowed to proceed.

Dr. Pugsley said this was his wish. The Speaker said Mr. Crothers could proceed, but it must be understood that he was not doing so by virtue of the rules, but by consent.

Mr. Crothers then gave a sketch of the Central Railway covering the last twenty years, and calling attention to the fact that when the province became interested in 1901 Dr. Pugsley, Provincial Attorney-General, became a director to represent the province on the board. Mr. Crothers said that the New Brunswick commission was a court, and it had given a judgment against Mr. Pugsley as director of the company. The first duty of a director was to keep accounts and to have them ready for production. Dr.

AIR WARSHIPS.

British Government Will Experiment and Investigate.

London, May 5.—The public meetings voicing widespread protests in the matter of the government's apathy in the field of aeronautics have had their effect, and Premier Asquith to-day announced that the authorities were providing adequate funds to employ the highest scientific talent, with the object of devising and constructing dirigible balloons and aeroplanes, and to carry on a continuous series of experiments and investigations. The work has been divided between the navy and the army, and a commission, under the presidency of Lord Rayleigh, Chancellor of Cambridge University, has been appointed to act as general advisers on the scientific problems involved.

The steamer Turbina will go to Kingston on May 15 to receive a new set of wheels. She will be in the drydock for two days. The boat is at present undergoing extensive alterations. Her officers will be: Captain B. W. Borgard; chief engineer, James Blair; purser, Norman Yellowlees; first officer, J. Pickard; second officer, D. A. Bell.

EXTRA! EXTRA!

During the ten weeks since the cruel murder of Ethel Kinrade the people of Hamilton have probably had the best newspaper service ever given them in connection with any unusual event. The outstanding feature of that service has been the "Times Extra." There has not been one feature of the mysterious case that the Times has not given to the public, on the minute. The "Extra," indeed, has been the talk of all newspaper readers. The reason was stated concisely by a prominent East Hamilton resident this morning, a man who is not of the Times' way of thinking in political issues, but who prefers the paper for its news. He said: "I have looked for a Times extra every day. When there was none I knew there was nothing new; whenever there was one I found it had all the news. Your stuff was always reliable, always fair, and generally first."

And he expressed the case correctly. The Times gave the news. There wasn't a line of fake in one of its regular editions or extras, and the people realized the fact.

By being generally first on the street the Times had enormous sales, and the statement made by other papers that there is "no money in extras" did not apply to a number of those which the Times issued, although the expenses connected with the very late night and very early morning editions undoubtedly eat up all the receipts. Some of the newsboys who handled the Times made so much money that they were able, after having a big feed or two at an uptown establishment, to materially increase their bank accounts.
