

EARL GREY'S LAST SPEECH.

Canada's Navy Will be Chief Topic of Parliament.

French Treaty and United States Tariff Will Cause Talk.

To Help the Farmers—Other Business For the House.

(Special Despatch to the Times.)
Ottawa, Oct. 7.—Parliament has been summoned to meet on the 11th of November. Substantial progress has been made with the estimates and other necessary preparations for an early opening of the business of law-making. This will be the last speech from the Throne which Earl Grey will deliver in Canada, as his term as Governor-General will have expired before Parliament is again summoned. It is not likely that the Government budget of business in the official opening address will be a long one. There will, of course, be a reference to the new Canadian naval programme, to the Franco-Canadian trade treaty, to progress on the National Trans-Continental, to good crops and to Canada's prosperity.

However, this does not mean that the session will be short, for all topics of discussion are not contained in the speech from the Throne. In fact, all of the Government's business is not, as a rule, foreshadowed there. With two hundred and fourteen members in the Commons and eighty-four in the Lords, the session will be a long one. The chief topic of the session will, undoubtedly, be Canada's naval programme. The delegates to the Imperial Defence Conference brought back the general plan of a Canadian built, Canadian manned and Canadian managed navy. But the details have not yet been worked out. At the present time there are two British naval officers in Ottawa, and another is on the way, to help the Minister of Marine work out his plan. It is understood that there are a number of the leading British shipbuilding firms who are not merely willing but anxious to establish shipbuilding yards in Canada, and it is understood that the Imperial authorities would be glad to see such yards established on both the Atlantic and the Pacific coasts.

It is clear that there will be more tariff talk than Parliament has indulged in for some years. The Franco-Canadian trade agreement has been ratified by the two French chambers and the French Government. It remains for the Canadian Parliament to give it effect by ratification. This will be done early in the session, but that step will precipitate a discussion of its bearing on the new American tariff which provided a surtax of twenty-five per cent. against goods from any country which does not give to the products of the United States "reciprocal and equivalent" treatment after the thirty-first of March. The language of the American act is vague, but many members of Parliament will hold the opinion that by ratifying the French treaty Canada will be letting herself in for the penalty of the United States surtax. There is likely to be some discussion of the surtax which Canada imposes against goods from Germany, as that country has been unofficially negotiating for better terms with Canada.

Agricultural questions are always in order. The Minister of Agriculture has returned from an extended and thorough inspection of the west convinced that while the farmers there are doing well there is need for general agricultural education and the establishment of experimental and instruction stations at vital points. There has been a commission in England, Ireland and Denmark looking into the methods of bacon curing there, and their report will be before Parliament for discussion. There should be some notice taken of the success of the Animal Quarantine staff organized under Dr. Rutherford in keeping the foot and mouth disease from crossing the Canadian line from the United States, and it would not be surprising if there were an intimation given of an attempt to eradicate tuberculosis from all Canadian herds.

The Opposition are certain to attempt to make political capital out of the resignation of Mr. H. H. Lumsden, chief engineer of the National Transcontinental commission. Possible delay and the lack of men for the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific through the mountains and the building of the Hudson Bay Railroad will undoubtedly receive attention. Among other matters which are certain to demand a hearing before prorogation are the prohibition of the exportation of pulp wood, the new plans for the Quebec Bridge, stricter immigration provisions, more rifle ranges, the work of the Intercolonial Commission of Management, the construction of the Georgian Bay Canal and the enlarging of the Welland Canal.

The Insurance Act of last session will be one of the first matters to be dealt with, and there is revision of the Bank Act a year or so due. Altogether it would not be surprising if the session should last six months, and prorogation take place just before the twenty-fourth of May.

THE NAVAL PROGRAMME.
It is understood that the Government's bill respecting naval defence to be brought before the coming session of Parliament will provide for a total capital expenditure of about twenty million dollars during next six or seven years, the yearly appropriation being about three millions. Although details are not yet worked out, the present plans contemplate a fleet of a dozen war vessels, consisting of cruisers, torpedo boats and destroyers. Dry docks and a Canadian ship-building plant capable of building and repairing the largest class of war vessels are also contemplated. It is stated that three vessels of the new fleet will be placed on the Pacific Coast and nine on the Atlantic.

HOTEL MEN FINED.

$1,700 Fines Collected in Windsor—Spotters Jostled Around.

Windsor, Ont., Oct. 7.—Six cases of illegal selling of liquor were disposed of by Magistrate Leggett. Those under trial were John Wigle, of the International Hotel, W. J. Hyatt, of the Imperial, Adolphus Filion, of the Eureka, W. L. Perkins, of the Crawford House, E. E. Ingemann, of the British-American Hotel, and A. Appleton, of the Manning Hotel. Fines aggregating $1,700 were assessed in the cases, bringing the total fines imposed in the recent prosecutions up to $1,700. Three were convicted of a third offence, the British-American, Imperial and Eureka, and will lose their licenses. The five Detroit spotters who gave evidence against the hotelmen were jostled and pushed about while on their way from the Police Court to the ferry dock by a hostile crowd of sympathizers with the hotelmen. A few blows were struck, but no one was greatly injured.

SCOTT CASE.

Would Have Preferred a Verdict to a Disagreement.

Juryman Who Favored Her Acquittal Talks About Trial.

(Special Despatch to the Times.)

London, Oct. 7.—The general feeling in the Scott case is that it would have been much better had the jury brought in a verdict. Sympathy alone prevented them from agreeing, and legal men point out that in three months much of this would have died down. The jury took three votes, and at the end stood seven for manslaughter and five for acquittal. On the first vote only three were for acquittal. Both sides had champions, and for three hours they battled, until the foreman, seeing no chance of agreeing, stopped.

Several of the jury were strongly of the opinion that Mr. Justice Latchford had not dealt altogether fairly with Mrs. Scott in not allowing evidence of names she had been called by Harvey Scott to be presented. "I was for acquittal," said one jurymen, "and how any man could think otherwise puzzles me. Mrs. Scott had led a dog's life for years. She had her father-in-law up in court and got no satisfaction. Her husband was no man at all, and gave her no protection. What was she to do? I would have done the shooting long ago."

Mrs. Scott's friends were very confident that she would be acquitted, and special constables were in readiness to prevent any demonstration in case she had been.

RAISED RATE.
Why the Bank of England Increased Discount Rate.

London, Oct. 7.—The Governors of the Bank of England today raised the minimum discount rate from 2½ per cent. to 3 per cent. This is the first change since the first day of April, when it was reduced from 3 per cent.

It was decided to raise the rate to 3 per cent. owing to the large inflows on the bank's reserve already made by exports to Egypt, which were necessary for the financing of the cotton crop and the Argentine withdrawals. The government was unable to offset these by fresh arrivals from the mines owing to the sustained demand from Russia, which absorbed available quantities week after week, preventing the bank from building up the reserve. A fresh element in the situation, however, undoubtedly helping the directors in their decision, is yesterday's decline in New York exchange on London, the recent sharp rise in money and the calling of loans in New York, which will probably necessitate the withdrawal of gold for that quarter against finance paper, which has been placed here some time ago, and the number of fresh bills still coming forward. The higher rate, although it was expected soon, was not generally looked for to-day. The increased rate had little effect on the stock exchange beyond a fractional easing of American securities.

A FLYING VISIT.
Mr. T. J. Wilkinson ("Wings"), of Vancouver, the former well-known newspaper man, was in Hamilton yesterday and this morning, having paid a flying visit to friends at Mount Hope and Burlington. Mr. Wilkinson is a great globe trotter. While continuing his stock-breeding ranch in California, he has won many honors in Canada and the United States, being widely famous for his fine horses, he ranks as one of the successful insurance writers of the world. He was the leader in the New York Life's $200,000 Club last month, winning his list of successful men. "Wings" has just returned from attending a big insurance convention at Atlantic City. He went by Toronto, Montreal and New York, took in the Hudson-Fulton celebration, had a chat with Dr. Cook on things polar (the North Pole is one of the few spots T. J. has not yet visited), and then took a run up to Hamilton to say "Howdy" to old friends. He left for home to-day, but his route will not be the most direct. It will take him via Chicago, New Orleans, Texas, and California. Fond of travel as he is, he avers that there is no place like Vancouver. He says that its growth is marvellous and that the influx of population is so great that old-timers sometimes get lost in the city. The strenuous life seems to agree with him, as he tips the scales at 210 pounds.

THE REPUTATION

Last January the Oregon Legislature passed a bill prohibiting women from wearing hats more than 10 inches long, which, it is said, was forced through by a rural statesman who had his face scratched while he was standing in a crowd of women at the entrance to a theatre.
