TEN STOREYS DOWN A DEEP SHAFT

Workman, After a Fearful Fall, Asks for a Drink of Water.

HAD AN AWFUL PLUNGE

Two Men Shoot Down Elevator Well; One Clutches Rope and Hands Are Badly Burned.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 12—James Tait, of Missouri, and C. E. Russell, of Vancouver, workmen employed on the Dominion Trust's ten-story building at the corner of Hastings and Abbott streets, fell from the top story down an elevator shaft yesterday morning and both are still living and there are hopes for their recovery.

Tait was picked up from the basement and asked for a glass of water. He was removed to a hospital, severely battered.

The men were working on a scaffolding across the elevator shaft when the scaffold gave way. Russell's escape is most miraculous. He says that while falling he caught hold of a rope which he knew was hanging in the shaft and clutched it with his hands and legs. His hands were burned to the bones. He was finally rescued five storeys down by other workmen.

Samlie Ste. Marie, Nov. 12—John Varrier, a Frenchman, forty years old, belonging to Sorel (Que.) died suddenly in his room at a hotel here after his return from the Michigan side where he visited a friend. He had complained, before returning to the room, of being in pain. It is believed he was doped on the Michigan side.

At the present, Sunday cars are permitted only in cities of over 50,000 population. The Premier would not promise that a census would not be allowed, but said if it was that it would not be a municipal census.

KILLED CASHIER AND SHOT THE PRESIDENT

Bold Attempt of Bandit to Rob the Bank at New Albany, Ind.

THIEF PLANNED ROBBERY

Police Captured the Youthful Bandit And Landed Him in Jail Before Mob Got Him.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 11—In an attempt at bank robbery a young man who has been partially identified as Arthur Gall of Louisville, a dealer in second hand furniture entered the Merchants' National Bank at New Albany, Ind., shortly before noon today and killed J. Hangary Fawcett, cashier of the bank, seriously wounded John K. Woodward, president of the bank, and wounded James R. Tucker, a negro chauffeur probably fatally. When Hall entered the bank he carried a pistol in each hand. After commanding everyone to throw up their hands and "get into the vault" Hall began shooting. Cashier Fawcett was shot in the neck and died almost instantly. President Woodward was shot through the liver and his intestines were perforated.

SHOT NEGRO CHAUFFEUR

After the shooting the man rushed from the bank and tried to escape in an auto, which he had taken from the curbs in front of the residence of its owner, Mrs. Walter E. Scott, in Louisville. He had forced the negro chauffeur at the point of a pistol to drive him to New Albany. The chauffeur, very frightened, and apparently incapable of action sat still when the robber, after shooting the banker, jumped into the car and ordered him to speed up the machine. Then the robber jumped out of the auto, shot the negro in the back and ran two blocks to the Ohio River. He seized a skiff and was on his way to the Louisville side of the river before the frightened citizens of New Albany knew what had happened.

CAPTURED THE BANDIT

An alarm was given through a megaphone on a dredge boat and in a short time several policemen had started in pursuit in a fast motor boat. Capturing the man they brought him to the shore and placed him in jail.

TRAGIC DEATH LAST FRIDAY EVENING

H. H. Gunter, Lumberman, Was Killed on the I.C.R. Track, Campbellton.

SLIPPED CROSSING RAILS

Shunting Engine Passed Over His Body, Killing Him Instantly.

Campbellton, N. B., Nov. 12—Herbert H. Gunter, one of the best known lumbermen in the province and a member of the lumber firm of William Richards & Co., Ltd., was killed at Mowat's Crossing just east of the station here about 6.45 this evening.

Mr. Gunter had a few minutes previous to the accident been talking with Douglas Miles at Moores Bros. store. He left him and walked toward the railway crossing, and attempted to cross in front of the shunting engine which was slowly pulling the train of passenger cars belonging to the day express which had arrived a few minutes previously down the line to put them in the siding, when he slipped and fell directly under the wheels of the tender, which with one of the driving wheels of the engine, passed over the body, killing him instantly.

A little girl was the only one who witnessed the sad fatality, but a young man came along and immediately notified the train crew. The little girl states that the unfortunate man ran to the rear of the tender to cross as the train was moving very slowly when she saw him stumble and fall. She was too frightened to make any outcry and it was not until a young man came along that the train crew was notified.

Mr. Gunter was about 48 years of age and two sons survive, William, in the employ of the company here, and Ralph of Fredericton. William this morning left for Fredericton to spend Sunday. The late Mrs. William Richards was a sister of the deceased.

This evening Coroner Doherty held an investigation, but as there was no evidence of negligence on the part of the railway or its employees, he did not deem an inquest necessary and issued a burial permit. The body will be taken to Boiestown in the morning when interment will take place.

The shunter engine was in charge of Driver Massey.

C., were mentioned among those proposed for the men in their proposed enterprise. Morrison and Gibson were committed to the trial, but being allowed them.

FULL NIGHT OF MOB RULE REPORTED

Women Take Part in the Lynching of Negro and White Man.

NOW SEEKING THIRD MAN

He is in Police Care And is Safe-- Negro's Heart Cut in Pieces As Souvenirs of Revenge.

Cairo, Ill., Nov. 12—Cairo was quiet this morning after a night of mob violence such as few cities ever experienced. The mob had dispersed and only an occasional watcher for the negro, Alexander, could be seen lurking about the streets. Alexander was known to be in the custody of the police, but he was secreted in some place the mob could not discover. It is known that he was spirited about the city in policeman's clothes.

JAMES CONFESSED

The confession of the negro, James, implicating Alexander in the horrible murder and assault of Miss Anna Pelley, makes him a much wanted negro, and if his hiding place is discovered, it may take a regiment of soldiers to protect him. When James, the negro lynched, was captured at Belknap last night, and while he was being brought to Cairo, he absolutely refused to make a confession, but when the rope was around his neck and he was given his last chance to make a statement, he said: "I killed her, but Alexander took the lead."

The mass of people had become impatient during the efforts to induce the negro to make a statement and there were demands for "work". We don't want to hear him, string him up, kill him, burn him," were frequently heard. The crowd pressed forward and the rope which had been thrown over the steel arch and which was in the hands of women, was pulled up and the body jerked a few feet from the ground, where it broke and the negro came tumbling down. The mob by this time became so impatient that they fell upon the negro and riddled him with bullets. The body was dragged more than a mile through the streets to the spot where the murder was committed, and burned.

Before the fire was started, the negro's head was cut off and placed on end of a pole, which was stuck in ground. The head was taken out, cut up in small pieces and passed among the men as souvenirs. Pieces of the rope with which he was hanged, after being soaked in the negro's blood, were also hanged about. This morning there is nothing left of the negro's body but a pile of bones, but large crowds of women are visiting the spot where he died.

WOMEN CALL FOR HIS LIFE

The lynching of Henry Salzman, the white man for the brutal murder of his wife on August 15 last, was a rebuke to delayed justice. The people asked for an immediate trial, and ever since the case was put off by the court, dissatisfaction has been universal. Salzman killed his wife, but she recovered enough to state that "he did it," before she died. A great crowd of women were in the mob and they loudly called for Salzman's execution. His body was left lying in the street until morning, when it was claimed by his father.

Salzman begged piteously for his life, but he was greeted with jeers and blows. With the rope around his neck he stated that his sister killed his wife, which so enraged the mob that they did not want to let him pray, but cooler heads prevailed and he was allowed a moment's respite.

Many-body wants a written guarantee from me personally as to my wonderful cure from rheumatism. I will be the gladdest woman in the world to give it," says Mrs. John Beaumont, of Florida. "I had despaired of recovery up to the time of taking this wonderful remedy. It cured completely." S. S. by A. E. SHAW'S Pharmacy, 58

Marand's Linctus Cures Croup in a moment

HEAL that OBSTINATE SORE!

CUTS and bruises are often very obstinate in refusing to heal. The edges of the wound remain inflamed and sore, and there is a daily danger of disease germs settling on the raw flesh and giving rise to serious complications. Thus, neglect or improper treatment of an injury, be it a cut, burn, scald, or even a simple scratch, is a menace to life.

In cases where wounds refuse to heal quickly, nothing but Zambuk will suffice if the skin is to be made to grow naturally and perfectly once again. Zambuk rubbed gently over a wound has the remarkable effect, not only of rendering the wound proof against disease germs, but of growing new skin-tissues.

Thus Zambuk heals wounds in a perfectly natural manner, and the possibilities of eczema and other torturing skin-diseases are entirely prevented. Possessing rare medicinal properties, Zambuk accomplishes what ordinary ointments and salves never can do, and its ever-ready character, constant reliability, and absolute purity, render it distinct from all other preparations. If you dress your cuts and sores with Zambuk you will never be troubled with "the wound that would not heal."

Get all Druggists and Stores at 50 cents a tin, or three for $1.25.
