Repeated Earthquakes at Reggio and Messina—Pitiable Plight of the People.

In Vatican Circles.

Rome, Nov. 26.—It is stated in Vatican circles that Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, is expected here in February. It is also said that before he leaves the United States Bishop Sotoli will be created a cardinal.

Colonel as Well as Czar.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The Czar of Russia has been appointed honorary colonel of the Scots Greys Regiment. The Queen gave a banquet at Windsor this evening in honor of the marriage of her granddaughter, Princess Alexandra, to the Emperor of Russia.

Loss of an Italian Cruiser.

Rome, Nov. 26.—It is reported that the torpedo cruiser Monzambano foundered off Ischia today. The crew is said to have been saved. Monzambano was a steel vessel of 730 tons displacement, carried six six-pounders and two machine guns and had a speed of twenty knots.

The Madagascar Credit Passed.

PARIS, Nov. 26.—The Chamber of Deputies today took a final vote on the Madagascar credits, which were carried by a vote of 377 to 143. During the debate there was a heated exchange of words between M. Raymond Poincaré, Republican, and M. Gustave Rouvier, Socialist, which resulted in the former sending seconds to M. Rouvier.

Italy Still Shaking.

Rome, Nov. 26.—Repeated earthquakes shook Reggio and Messina today. The terror of the inhabitants increases. It is wet and cold throughout the districts round both cities, yet hundreds are living in the fields. Many families are destitute of shelter and have only the clothes on their backs. Relief committees are organizing, and a special relief bill is in preparation for Parliament.

Murder in Old London.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The dead body of a woman was found in a street in Kensington at midnight last night. The woman, who was one of the lower grade of abandoned females, had been stabbed in the neck and had bled to death. Her murderer left a walking stick lying by her side. There is no indication of "Ripperism" in connection with the murder, which was evidently the result of a street brawl, and no one has any notion that Jack the Ripper has resumed his bloody work.

Exempt from Process of Law.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—A county court judge in Wales has a knotty problem before him. A photographer requested him to commit a member of Parliament for the non-payment of $7.75 owing for pictures taken during the strike of 1891. Commit a member of Parliament, said his honor in amazed accents. "Don't you know it is a serious matter to send a member of Parliament to prison? I can't do it, can I? Wasn't it decided in a recent case that a member of Parliament cannot be committed for a breach of the Deceitful Act?" After the lawyers had debated the question pro and con, the judge said he would not undertake to decide in favor of the plaintiff unless a precedent was cited. Plaintiff's lawyer promised to look for a precedent, but at last accounts he had not succeeded in finding one.

The Awful Massacre of Armenians.

A private letter received from Constantinople says the destruction of life in Sassoun, south of Moosh, was even greater than was supposed. The brief note which has reached us from Bitlis says that 27 villages were annihilated in Sassoun and 6,000 men, women and children were massacred by troops and Kurds. This awful story is only just beginning to be known, though the massacre took place early in September. The Turks have used infinite pains to prevent the news leaking out.

The massacre was ordered from Bitlis in the sense that some Kurds, having robbed Armenian villages of flocks, the Armenians pursued and tried to recover their property, and a fight ensued in which some Kurds were killed. The slain men were semi-official robbers—that is, enrolled as troops and armed as such, but under control. The authorities telegraphed that the Armenians had killed some of the Sultan's troops. The Sultan at once ordered infantry and cavalry to put down the Armenian rebellion, and they did it, only, not finding rebellion, they cleared the country so that none should occur in the future.

After the Wedding.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 26.—The Czar's bride after the ceremony was over looked pale and tired, but beautiful. Her ornaments were conspicuously splendid. The crown of diamonds which she wore was surmounted by a diamond studded cross. The Czar wore the red uniform of a general of Hussars.

At the close of the ceremony the newly-wedded couple kissed the picture of the Virgin, which is supposed to have been painted by St. Luke. The relic is now covered with jewels, so that only the face is visible. Upon the neck is a necklace of diamonds and emeralds, and the head is surmounted by a diamond crown.

The pair proceeded to Nicholas Hall, and at the foot of the grand staircase entered a golden and white coach drawn by four white horses and were driven to the Kazan Cathedral, accompanied by a small escort. During the drive of half a mile they were cheered by the enormous crowds which lined the roadway, guns booming and bells ringing merrily.

After offering up prayers at the Kazan Cathedral the pair at 2:15 p.m. drove to the Anichkov Palace. There was no procession in the streets. The crowds were orderly and the troops assigned to keep order were without arms. Services were held in all the churches during the marriage ceremony and the church bells were rung throughout the day.

Canada and Copyright.
LONDON, Nov. 26.—Lord Ripon, Colonial Secretary, received today a deputation from the Chamber of Commerce and the allied section known as the Society of Authors, the Copyright Association and the Print Sellers' Association. Mr. Underdown, O.C., described Sir John Thompson's demand in the matter of copyright as solely an effort to advance the trade in reprints.

Walter Besant said the question briefly is this: Ought a country with 5,000,000 inhabitants to be allowed to wreak mischief on the English-speaking world of 120,000,000 merely that a few of its publishers may enrich themselves by underselling the Americans?

Lord Ripon said he intended to discuss the matter fully with Sir John Thompson, the Canadian Premier, at his first opportunity, but he was anxious to learn first the opinion of such bodies as he had the honor to be receiving.

The Japs' Latest Success.

The Japanese legation at Washington have dispatched from Hiroshima, relative to the capture of Port Arthur. The attack began on the morning of the 21st. The enemy made a strong resistance to the last. Finally the Japanese at 9 a.m. occupied the forts at the west of the line and at 2 p.m. entered the town, and at 4 p.m. captured and occupied the forts of Huang, Kia Shang. The Twelfth Brigade captured and occupied the forts southeast of Paik Kuong. On the morning of the 22nd all of the remaining forts forming the coast defenses of Port Arthur were occupied by the Japanese forces. The Japanese losses were more than 200 killed and wounded.

The captures were very great, including many large mounted cannon and quantities of ammunition, etc. The strength of the enemy is estimated to have been not less than 20,000.

All indications now point to a speedy termination of the war. It is believed that speedy negotiations for peace will be pushed rapidly forward. China, it is thought, will have no difficulty in securing the funds with which to pay the war indemnity.

A dispatch from Rome to the London Daily Graphic says the latest news from Tokyo is that as soon as China shall make proposals for peace Japan will accept the good offices of the United States in the negotiations.

The Times' correspondent in Yokohama says that Japan has consented to receive China's proposals of peace through the American Ministers in Tokyo and Peking.

IN GREAT PERIL.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Nov. 26.—The Hamburg-American steamer Polaris, eighteen days from Hamburg, bound for New York, is here short of coal. She has a general cargo and 112 steerage passengers. The Polaris met with rough weather almost from the beginning of her voyage, gales commencing in the North Sea and continuing across the Atlantic. Mounting seas swept her decks, bursting ventilators and hatchways and flooding her foremast cabin. Oil was plentifully used fore and aft, and probably saved the steamer from serious damage. She encountered another hurricane of this coast Friday and Saturday, accompanied by very high cross seas, sweeping her decks several times, endangering her safety. She had only one day's coal when she arrived here. She will proceed Tuesday after coaling.

SAFE.

NEW LOWELL, Ont., Nov. 26.—Between 7 and 8 o'clock last evening the dwelling house of James Scott was burned. Mr. Scott rushed into the burning building and picked up his two children, aged 4 and 2 years respectively. All were badly burned. Both children died this morning. There was no one else in the house at the time but the two children.

A LONG SIEGE.

How a Soldier for Twenty Years Regained Health and Strength.

Mr. John A. Stewart, of Napinka, Man., a former well-known resident of Stratford, Ont., writes:

"It gives me pleasure to give you a plain statement of what your Pink Pills have done for me. I have been troubled with a lame back for the past twenty years, caused by a strain while eradicating wheat, and once or twice a year for four or five weeks at a time I would be completely laid up with it. I tried plasters and medicine, with such little benefit that at last I gave up all hope of ever getting better. In May, 1891, I first heard of Pink Pills. At that time I was laid up with a particularly severe attack, which left me perfectly useless, as I could neither stand nor walk. All I could do was to lie on my back, and it was in this condition I was when I was advised to try Pink Pills, by a man working for me. He had read half a box, and at his urgent solicitation I began their use. Having been lame I decided to give them a fair trial, and procured more from Dr. Snider and kept on taking them all summer. My recovery was slow, but after the first few weeks I could feel that I was getting better every week. By the fall I was perfectly well, and yet I feared that the cure might not be permanent, as the trouble was of such long standing, but I am pleased to be able to say that after the lapse of so much time I have not had the slightest recurrence of the trouble, and am feeling in perfect health. I still use Pink Pills in the fall and spring as a tonic medicine, and find much benefit from them. I may say that there are a number of others here who have been benefited by the use of your pills. You are at full liberty to use this letter in any manner you choose for the benefit of suffering ones."
