Doctors Eccles and Woodruff were sent for immediately, but Mrs. Priddis died before they arrived. The bursting of a blood vessel, and not heart disease as stated, was the cause of death. Deceased was 33 years of age and was married in 1883. She was a daughter of the late Mr. George Taylor, formerly of Wyoming and Petrolea. Deceased was an estimable lady, and was greatly esteemed by a large circle of friends, whose sympathies will go out to Mr. Friddis in his bereavement. Mrs. Joseph Scandrett, a sister of deceased, is very ill, and the sad intelligence may seriously affect her.

BOUND TO A TORTURE STAKE

Orage Indians Utilize Oliver White for a Heathen Cermonial.

GUTHER, O. T., Aug. 28.—Officers have left here to arrest several Osage Indians for maltreating Oliver White, who was traveling overland with a horse and wagon.

A band of Osages, who had been participating in the ghost dance held recently near the reservation, came upon him at night, dragged him from the wagon, bound him hand and foot and tied him to an upright post. Some of the band were for torturing him with knives, but the chief finally prevailed upon them not to go to extreme measures.

The Indians built a great fire near the stake and executed a dance around it. Every once in a while one of them would approach White, graps a lock of his hair and cut it from his head with a bowie trife.

and cut it from his head with knife.

White did not suffer much physically, but his mental torture was terrible. After the Indians had cut off all his hair they stripped him of his clothes and threw them into the fire. Then those members of the band who had possessed themselves of locks of his hair dropped them one by one upon the fire, all the time keeping up their dancing and dreadful shouting.
