Results of the Collegiate Institute Entrance Examinations.

Successful Candidates Number 256 Out of 344 Writing.

London Beats Its Own Record—Miss Lillie Kolles in the Lead—Medals and Memorials.

London's public schools and London pupils have surpassed themselves.
Yesterday Inspector Carson received the long-looked-for returns of the Collegiate Institute entrance examinations from head-quarters. The result is eminently gratifying to the educational authorities here. No less than 256 passed, by long odds the highest number London has ever turned out. In 1892 there were 1865successful candidates, which broke all previous records; so that the relative number this year is enormous. Nominally 334 tried the recent examinations; the percentage of passing candidates is therefore centage of passing candidates is therefore cemarkable.

The total obtainable marks were 764 or 382 to pass. Miss Lillie Nelles, the clever daughter of Mr. H. E. Nelles, leads the entire list with 671 marks—an excellent showing. The names in the appended tables are in alphabetical order, boys first and girls second, with the marks made by each. The pupil making the highest marks in each of the public schools receives the Boyle memorial prize.

Trustee E. J. McRobert offered a gold and a silver medal to the two leading pupils in the Waterloo street and Princess avenue schools, and Trustee D. W. Blackwell made similar awards for the Lorne avenue and Rectory street schools. Waterloo beth the former and and Rectory street schools. Waterloo street school captures both the former and Lorne avenue the latter. In Waterloo street school Lillie Nelles made 671, Aggie street school Lillie Nelles made 671, Aggie Halstead 558 and Mamie Hance 537. It is optional with Lillie Nelles to choose the gold medal or the Boyle memorial. If she takes the former Aggie Halstead may own the sliver medal, and Mamie Hance the memorial prize. In the Lorne avenue school Eva Williams, with 586, Frank Cooper with 574 and Charles Anderson with 563, lead. In the same way the choice of gold medal or memorial prize rests with the foremest.
