PLOT THAT FAILED, Hazeline

A Fiendish Scheme to Take the Life of Lord Roberts

By Mining a Johannesburg Church---The Commander Confirms the Report---Several Arrests Made---Great Reception Awaits Home-Coming Canadians In Old London.

LAID A MINE FOR THE GENERAL. 1, he rescued a wounded officer under London, Nov. 27 .- According to a special edition of the Evening Standard this evening, a plot to assassinate Lord Roberts, in which twenty foreigners are concerned, has been

It appears that the conspirators laid | trict. a mine, which was designed to be blown up Sunday, while Lord Roberts was in church at Johannesburg, but the police and Lord Roberts' bodyguard frustrated the conspiracy. Ten men, mostly Italians, have been

THE STORY CONFIRMED. The war office publishes the following dispatch from Lord Roberts, dated Johannesburg, Nov. 26: As reports of a plot against my life will probably reach you, I think you should know the facts. It is my belief that there was a plot in existence, and five Italians, four Greeks and a Frenchnow awaiting trial. Their intentions ampton. were to, explode a mine under St. Mary's Church during morning service held at 11 o'clock on Nov. 18.

BOERS BRACE UP. A dispatch to the Standard from Pretoria, dated Nov. 25, says it is reported that the Boers propose to strike again at the borders of Cape Colony, where it is believed numbers of disaffected Dutch, with supplies and hidden weapons, are awaiting to join The Boers seem to be taking fresh heart. They have become extremely energetic in almost every part of the Transvaal and the Orange River

The Daily Mail publishes this morning the following alarmist dispatch from Cape Town: The anti-British feeling in Cape Colony is assuming dangerous proportions, owing to the false stories spread of British barbarity in Orange River Colony and the Fransvaal. Loyalists fear that the Dutch congress next week will be the signal for a rising. They demand that martial law be proclaimed throughout the colony. The situation is graver than at any previous period during

A GERMAN TALE. Berlin, Nov. 28.—A private letter from Durban, published in the Kreuz Zeitung, confirms the story of an fortunate accident," details of which were suppressed by the military authorities. "On the 10th October," it says, "the Boers, by displacing some "On the 10th October," rails, held up a train containing money belonging to the British government to the value of £150,000. Then, at their leisure, they removed the gold without hurting a hair of the passengers and the few British soldiers in the train. The affair has been kept secret in accordance with orders from headquarters at Pretoria."

REFUGEE'S STORY. New York, Nov. 27.—"Commissary-General" Samuel Pearson, a Transvaal refugee, who arrived here yesterday, said today during an interview that Gen. Buller was by all odds the best of the British generals in South Africa. He added: "If Roberts were taken out of command in South Africa the English army would mutiny tomorrow. The man most hated in South Africa by the Boers is Kitchener. There is not a man in our army who would not shoot him on sight. He is the man who butchered the negroes Soudan, and he would not give Botha half an hour at Colenso to take our women and children away from the lines." "General" Pearson denied the characterization of their operations as guerilla warfare, saying: "We have always about 1,500 or 2,000 men and a train of baggage wagons. The end of it all is they can never catch us." He considered Louis Botha the greatest man in the Boer army.

WRITTEN FOR AMERICAN READ-

ERS. London, Nov. 27.-Lord Roberts has left Johannesburg for Cape Town. This information comes from a sure channel, says a cable to the New York World, although it is not publicly known here. Lord Roberts' return is accelerated by the Wolseley trouble, the latter absolutely refusing to retain office after Nov. 30. The ministers and the government are moving heaven and earth to prevent Lord Wolseley from revealing the scandals and friction in the military and civil branches of the war department.

Lord Wolseley bitterly resents Lord Salisbury's aspersions upon the mili-tary branch and has declined the Prince of Wales' proposed mediation, declaring that he must clear his rep-

AWAITS THE CANADIANS IN OLD

LONDON. London, Nov. 27.-Close upon 300 officers and men of the Royal Canadian Regiment of Infantry, under Col. morrow morning on the Hawarden Castle, from Cape Town. On the same vessel with the men from Canada who have distinguished them selves with such marked credit selves with such marked credit, are the celebrated Household Guards, and these two fine bodies of soldiers, who have given their blood and their service to the Queen and the empire in South Africa, will meet with a great man were arrested, Nov. 16, and are reception when they debark at South-

A deputation of influential London citizens, headed by Lord Grey, a staunch friend of the colonies, has arranged to entertain the Canadians, and the programme to be carried out provides plenty of enjoyment for the home-coming soldiers. Evenings will be spent at the theaters, while the days will be passed in viewing the sights of old London and its vicinity. Several banquets are to be given in honor of both the officers and men, and a number of the nobility will entertain the Canadians.

Afterward the Canadians will be inspected at Windsor Casile by the Queen. This will be the great event of the visit of the colonials to England. On Monday of next week the Prince of Wales will review the Canadian troops. The following day they will pay a visit to the great naval yards at Portsmouth, proceeding to the celebrated English resort, Brighton, on Wednesday. It is expected that the Canadians will sail from England for Canada on Dec. 8, in order to reach Canada in ample time to enjoy the Christmas festivities in their own homes in the land they left over a year ago.

A. H. King, temporariy commanding the Royal Canadian Dragoons, reports for the week ending Oct. 21, from Belfast. He embodies a synopsis of the farewell remarks of Gen. Hutton upon the breaking-up of the division in which the dragoons were brigaded, expressing appreciation of the work done by all the units and particularly the colonials.

THE SECOND CONTINGENT. The second Canadian contingent will scarcely be home for Christmas, but may arrive by New Year's day. A telegram from the war office states that 50 officers and 1,000 men of the Canadian contingent will leave Cape Town for Canada direct on the steamer Roslin Castle about Dec. 1. The dispatch refers to the second Canadian contingent, composed of the Canadian Mounted Rifles and the Canadian Ar-Artillery. The steamer will land her troops at Halifax. PLENTY OF WORK.

Toronto, Nov. 28.-The veterans of the South African war, who belong to this district, have had no difficulty in finding suitable employment since their return. In the majority of cases the places vacated by the young men have been kept open for them, and in several instances the soldiers have received a portion or all of their pay for the time that they have been away. Lieut. Ross Hayter, of the 22nd Cheshire, an ex-cadet of the Royal Military College, Kingston, has been appointed staff officer to Sir Charles Fucker at Pretoria. Lieut. Hayter was a Toronto boy.

STRONGLY CONDEMNED

Irish-Americans Who Perjured Themselves in Connection With the Ambulance Corps Roasted by American Journals.

New York, Nov. 28.—The New York Times says: "Well-deserved condemnation is heaped by the Medical Record upon those members of the Chithat he is not going to retire after cago Irish-American ambulance corps who went to the Transvaal nominally for the purpose of caring for the sick and wounded, but who, after arriving in the land of the Boers did exactly what they had all the time intended to do-tore the Red Cross badges from their arms and started in to fight the British. Thirty-three of these fellows returned the other day to the land they had disgraced, and on arriving here, instead of receiving the contempt they had earned, they were cheered and dined by people with as little regard for honesty and decency as themselves. The corps was made up of six physicians, one professional nurse and fifty-one men who were supposed to be letter-carriers. Before leaving this country each of the fifty-eight went before a justice of the peace and made allidavit that he was going to South Africa not as an ally of the Boers, but as an ambulance man, and each pledg-ed himself not to fight. Miss Clara Barton gave the corps a Red Cross flag and recognized the organization as a Red Cross auxiliary.

"Every one of them, therefore, that took up arms was found guilty of gross and willful perjury, and to the extent of his power decreased the respect and confidence of all nations in the Red Cross Society. The Medical Record gladly notes that none of the six doctors violated his oath, and that the one real nurse was equally scrupulous. It also says that the commitcongratulations the wretches received were public and vociferous. Every feature of the episode is deplorable, and it is hard to avoid the suspicion that the Red Cross officials were less careful than they should have been in lending the use of their names to an organization that made no secret of what it intended to do as soon as it was safely through the British lines."
