人間(動性深見定為) Elephant Ran Amuck.

Vincennes, Ind., Sept. 24.-An elephant on exhibition at the Elks' carnival here went on a rampage and broke through a window at the home of Clarence Duncan, a candy manufacturer. With its trunk the elephant upset a bed on which Mrs. Duncan and two children were sleeping, and hurled one child across the room. The elephant then broke down the door of the house before it was subdued by its keeper. Mrs. Duncan is in a critical position from fright. The child was badly bruised.

KNEW HOW

To Stay at Pest While Others Got Sick.

How a trained nurse keeps up strength on properly selected food is worth knowing. The experience of Mrs. Charlotte Frank, of Covington, Ky., is probably familiar to many. She says: "I am a professional nurse and most of my time is spent in the sick room. Last spring I attended a very serious case, and after ten weeks' close application I was in such a condition that I could neither eat nor sleep, being too much worn out. After tossing in bed one night for three hours without being able to sleep I happened to think of Grape-Nuts and the good it had done a number of my patients. "I got up and ate half a cup of the food with about that much milk, and returned to bed and slept five hours, and when I awoke I felt fresh and strong again. The continued use of Grape-Nuts enabled me to stay at my post while others got sick. "I have a son 18 years old; he is 6 feet 1 inch tall. He was so thin had consumption. I commenced givgained rapidly in weight and now is healthy and strong. "A family in Cincinnati on my advice gave Grape-Nuts to a sick child whom no doctor could help. The girl is now well and strong. Another father had the same experience with his youngest XIII-passing on child and he is loud in the praise of Grape-Nuts. "One of my former patients who went to England, had a little child came back home, both sick. I advised them what I thought best. The child, now 5 years old, ate Grape-Nuts three times a day and the mother once a When they went to England in September they were in the best of health and took with them upon the steamer fourteen boxes of Grape-Nuts: their only fear was that they might not be able to get it in England. The mother wrote me afterwards that she had not been so seasick this time as was the case before."

TREATMENT OF ROUMANIA

Likely To Be Unaffected by Mr. Hay's Note.

Recent Outbreak in Cheng Tu Attributed to Prince Tuan.

London, Sept. 23.—"Nothing that will be of any permanent good can result from Secretary Hay's note to the powers on Roumania's treatment of Jews, unless somebody is willing to crush Roumania, and no power seems anxious to take on that task." The foregoing quotation is the utterance of an experienced British official who represents the real opinion of the British foreign office on the subject of the negotiations between America and Europe.

Great Britain's backing up of the United States in the Roumanian matter has only produced evidence that the signatories of the Berlin Treaty absolutely refuse to take other than merely sentimental action towards alleviating the persecution of the Jews. The exchange of views regarding the American note solicited by Great the Britain has progressed sufficiently to farmers' wives and daughters, who convince the foreign office here that wish to see the dairy in full operation, nothing material here is likely to re-which is the kind to be seen in all On-sult.
